SHOT FROM REVOLVER NEARLY PROVES FATAL

Two East End Boys Were Experimenting With the Weapon Which They Supposed Not to Be a Loaded One.

IT WENT OFF ALTOGETHER UNEXPECTEDLY

FRIENDS ARE HOPEFUL OF HIS RECOVERY

A most unfortunate accident occurred at the National pottery shortly after noon yesterday. It almost caused the death of Charles Ross, aged 17, a step son of John Hays, of Calhoun's addition. While the condition of the boy seems favorable to recovery, complications may arise that may prove fatal.

For some time Ross, who is employed as a handler at the National, and Joseph Mountford, of First avenue, who is employed at the same plant, had been talking of a hammerless revolver which was owned by Mountford, and which Ross intimated that he might purchase. Yesterday morning Mountford said he would bring the revolver back to the shop with him after dinner. This was done.

The boys looked the weapon over carefully, and Mountford commenced pulling the trigger. It snapped several times, and thinking there were no loads in the other chambers, he continued to snap the trigger. Great surprise was occasioned when a loud report was heard, indicating that a cartridge had been exploded. The ball entered Ross' right side just above the stomach.

P ss said that he was wounded and commenced to walk from the shop. Before he had gone far he became so weak that he could not continue the journey alone, and was assisted to Day's restaurant. There a physician was called, and a hasty examination made of the boy's injuries. It was found that the ball had broken a rib on the right side, and after passing through Ross' body lodged just under the skin on the left side. The condition of the boy was relieved as much as possible, and later he was removed to his home in the city ambulance.

Anoperation was performed on Ross last evening and the ball extracted. His condition was very low, however, and after the physicians had left the house Rev. D. W. McQuiston, pastor-elect of the Second U. P. church, was summoned and administered a baptismal service.

Matters were somewhat changed this morning, and at 10 o'clock the statement was made by relatives that his condition was much changed, and that the chances for his ultimate recovery seemed good. Another operation was performed on Ross this morning by Drs. Marshall and Hobbs.

The accident was the cause of the entire force of the turning shop quitting work yesterday afternoon. Everyone seemed so excited that no work could possibly be done. Young Mountford is so overcome with grief that he is confined to his room, and is said to be under the care of a physician. The relatives of Ross cast no blame upon Mountford.

THE CORONATION OF THE LAST EDWARD.

Edward VI, the last of his name before the present ruler of England to be crowned, ascended the throne just 355 years ago. His coronation pageant was, at the time, thought to be a very magnificent spectacle, but beside the one arranged for Edward VII it will seem like a rush light compared with a 2,000 candlepower electric light. Still, broadly speaking, fashions have changed in coronations less than in almost anything else that might be mentioned.

UNHAPPY WIVES AND HUSBANDS

SAD TALES ARE RELATED

Those Who Swore to Be Faithful Proved Otherwise and Divorce Suits Followed—Non-Support and Desertion Charged.

Lisbon, June 22.—(Special)—Emma Pentland, of Rogers, has been granted a divorce from Henry Pentland, of Moon Run, Pa. They were married in 1894 and have one child, Jessie, of whom the mother was given the custody. Wilful absence for three years and habitual drunkenness was proved. Mrs. Pentland also said that her husband struck and otherwise abused her.

Joseph McGarvey, of Madison township, was given a divorce from Inez McGarvey, yesterday. They were married in 1891 and have one child, Verna, aged 10, who has been adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Beach, of Charleston, W. Va. Mrs. McGarvey left her husband and went to Altoona, Pa., with Lyons Henry. The couple seem to have traveled considerably, and finally located in Charleston, where they lived for some months.

Leona Hepburn, of West Point, has been granted a divorce from Morris Hepburn. They were married three years ago and have one child, of whom the mother was given the custody. She testified that her husband accused her of lewdness, said he never wanted to marry her and that the child was not his; that he did not support or care for her, and left soon after the child was born.

SHARON AGAIN SUFFERS DEFEAT

A VERY LIVELY CONTEST

Many Changes Made in the East Liverpool Line-Up After the Battle Was On—Visitors Scored a Home Run—Final Score 5 to 4.

How it came to pass that Manager Walsh's ball team won from the Sharon team yesterday is well nigh unexplainable. From the start of the game until the fifth inning there were positively so many changes made in the local line-up that the official scorer was never sure that he was crediting the right man when he tallied a put-out or an assist.

The confusion was due to one thing. Harked lay down at his home to take a short nap before going to the game and instead of waking when he intended he remained in dreamland until after 4 o'clock. With his eyes about half open he appeared on the field at the beginning of the fifth inning and then the last change in the line-up was made. He was placed at his old position. Trainor was put out of the game and as J. Hackathorn arrived early in the game the man who was substituted for him was also benched and the contest continued without further interruption.

The visitors entered the park with the detemination of wiping their antagonists off the baseball world. At least they were heard to intimate as much on the evening previous. One of them said: "Just think, an insignificant team like East Liverpool whipped us today. You can bet that they won't do it tomorrow. We will show them what playing baseball is as compared with the game that they put up."

Well, they did play a little better than on the first day, but they failed in carrying out their expressed intentions. That they were allowed to score the majority of their runs in the first inning was not due to their expert batting or smooth base running. It was the result of Winters becoming excited and going in the air. He let the first two men up take a walk. The fourth man to hold a stick smashed the ball with such force that it would have been going yet had it not collided with the side of the hill, near the laundry. Trainor went on a mad run for the ball but when he found it the man had made the first home run of the season.

Winters cooled down in a short time and made things very interesting for the boasters. In the eighth he was disheartened somewhat when Mc Aleese stepped up and landed one very close to the spot picked out by Kerr Luckily it did not result disastrously. There happened to be no one on bases and but one run was scored. This was their last one. They meant well and tried hard, but to no avail.

The locals, taken as a whole, played steadily throughout, doing their best at all stages and never lost heart. They made their runs in the first, second and fifth innings, and it is safe to say that the result might have been different had they not luckily landed on Kane in a bunch.

Fred Heckathorn once more acquitted himself to the taste of all the fans. He is certainly making a record and glad his friends are, because no man ever played a harder game than he.

Davis made amends for all past erroneous playing and covered himself with glory. One run, one hit, two put outs and six assists were his limit.

NEW FLOURING MILL

FAULK BROS. WILL ERECT A LARGE ONE IN CHESTER.

Site Purchased On Which a Three-Story Mill Will Be Built.

Chester is to have a new industry, and one of which the citizens may well feel proud. It will be a flour and feed mill of the most modern design. Work upon the erection of the plant will be commenced within a few weeks.

The deal was closed yesterday by the Faulk Bros.' company for the purchase of a tract of land near Fourth street, Chester, from J. E. McDonald, the consideration being in the neighborhood of $3,000. This land is between the Panhandle railroad and the street railway tracks, immediately back of the tool house of the railway company, and measures 100x140 feet. It is upon this site that the company will erect a modern three-story frame flour mill, which in reality will be the only modern mill of that character in the county. Employment will be given to a number of men, and the plant is expected to be in operation within the next four months.

S. J. Faulk, president of the company, when seen today, said: "We will commence excavating as soon as possible, and you must remember that it takes some time to build a modern mill of that kind. We will lose no time, however, in the erection of the mill, and will carry on practically the same kind of business that we have been doing here."

REVEALS SAD STORY

A Mother's Efforts to Keep a Secret Failed and Her Home Was Wrecked.

A letter written to a woman in New Cumberland by the matron of the Home for the Friendless in Cincinnati appears to have provoked a sensation in the latter city, according to the Cincinnati Post. The matron, Mrs. G. A. Kruse, has been discharged, as a result of the letter. It appears that the New Cumberland woman is toiling to keep the family and hide her daughter's shame. Mrs. Kruse admits having sent letters asking for money and threatening to send the girl's babe to her parents, and says she was authorized by one of the board of lady managers.

The West Virgina woman kept the knowledge of her daughter's fall from her husband. When he found Mrs. Kruse's letter he left his home. The wife had been supporting the family during her husband's long illness.

COAL LANDS UNDER LEASE

Deal Completed by a Syndicate for 20,000 Acres in Jefferson County.

A WELLSVILLE MAN IS IN IT

WILL EMPLOY THOUSANDS

George W. Runyon, of Wellsville, and Thomas Bracken, of New York, have completed options on 20,000 acres of coal lands in Jefferson county for a New York syndicate and have signed papers for long leases on most of the property. They intend to develop the district and to sink several shafts before autumn.

Mr. Runyon made a deal Friday with Job Evans, of Youngstown, to make a series of drills with his coal testing machinery.

There are several veins in the top stratum being an outcropping and there is coal of different thickness and varying quality to a depth of 250 feet. It is the lower strata that will probably be worked, but the testing apparatus will be used to find out at what depth n the several portions of the district the best coal may be obtained.

The syndicate intends to work the leases thoroughly and will employ several thousand miners during the winter. Assurances have been given the company by the Wabash railroad that a route has been decided on through the region of the syndicate's coat leases so that shafts may be sunk along both the Wabash and Pennsylvania tracks.

Mr. Evans has agreed to begin his test bores July 1.

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY

Program Arranged for Their State Convention Here Early Next Week.

The eighth annual Ohio session of the Daughters of Liberty will be held in this city on next Tuesday and Wednesday. On Monday evening a reception will be given to the visiting delegates by the local councils, including a literary and musical program. On Tuesday evening a trolley ride has been arranged by the East End council, to be followed by a social in the hall in the East End. On Wednesday evening there will be an outing at Rock Springs park.

There will be present from 60 to 70 delegates, representing 35 councils, from all parts of this state. The councils in charge has spared neither trouble nor expense to make this one of the most pleasant sessions ever held.

The meetings and reception will be held in the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall over the postoffice.

A SETTLEMENT

OF TRENTON SANITARY WARE MATTER REACHED.

Conference Between Committee Reported to Have Terminated Satisfactorily.

Information has been received in the city stating that the conference at Trenton between the committees representing the sanitary manufacturers and the representatives of the Brotherhood, terminated last evening, as was predicted in this paper at the time, and that all matters had been settled to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Mr. Duffy is expected to return to the city this afternoon.

An Interesting Controversy.

There is an interesting controversy on between City Solicitor Boyd and Contractor Harrison Rinehart over the taking of gravel from lower Front street. The contractor says he has a right to get gravel there, having permission from the city. The solicitor says Rinehart must not dig the bank and will get Engineer Leith's opinion, and Rinehart must abide by it.

Y. M. C. A. Cadets Drill.

The military company of the Y. M. C. A. met last evening and drilled a few hours under command of Drillmaster McLane. The election of officers was postponed until the next meeting to be held on Friday evening, June 27.

CONFERENCE TO BE ARRANGED

MANUFACTURERS WILL MEET N. B. OF O. P. COMMITTEE.

Communication Setting Forth This Decision Sent to Secretary Duffy.

An answer from the Western Manufacturing Potters' association has been forwarded to Secretary Thomas J. Duffy, of the National Brotherhood of Operative potters, in reference to the communication that was sent to the manufacturers by Mr. Duffy. The reply was received at the Brotherhood headquarters yesterday and in substance says that the conference committee representing the manufacturers is willing to meet the representatives of the Brotherhood at a date that is to be mutually agreed upon.

President Albert S. Hughes, of the N. B. of O. P., today admitted having received the communication from the manufacturers, but further he would not talk.

Joseph G. Lee, president of the manufacturers' assiciation, had nothing to say concerning the communication, saying he was not a member of the committee.

The time for the conference will probably be settled during the coming week, and the sessions are likely to be held some time during the week following.

PETTY THIEVES ACTIVE

Several Recent Complaints—Pottery Loses $25 Worth of Brass and Iron.

Petty thieves have started their work again in this city. Several reports of their work have reached the police lately, and Chief Thompson has ordered that a strict watch be instituted for the guilty parties.

An employe of the C. C. Thompson Pottery company this morning reported that $25 worth of brass and iron was stolen from the pottery last night.

A NEW THEATER FOR THIS CITY

KENTUCKIANS WANT A SITE FOR AN OPERA HOUSE.

Will Build It If Satisfied With Price and Location.

It is very probably that East Liverpool will soon have another opera house. From the following letter written to City Clerk Davidson by Smith & Coralt, theatrical managers of Newport, Ky., it will be seen that if suitable terms can be secured the building will be erected at once:

"My Dear Sir—We have under consideration the erection of a first-class opera house in your city, and we desire an available location. If you will put us on to several sites suitable for that purpose and give prices for the same, you will confer a favor that will be properly returned. We have heard from traveling managers that an up-to-date house is needed in your city and when this is an assured fact the best theatrical attractions will surely follow."

Mr. Davidson has some very appropriate locations in mind, and will notify the gentlemen immediately. The sites that he will recommend are central, being within a block of the Diamond.

Brooks-Woods.

Miss Rebecca F. Brooks and Edward J. Woods were married on Thursday evening by Rev. C. G. Jordan at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. R. Caldwell. The happy couple immediately departed for Cleveland, where they will make their home. The groom's former home was at Lafayette, Ind. The bride is well known and popular here.

A Fire in the Night.

A coal house at the rear of Mrs. S. A. Rigby's home between Market and Jackson streets was burned to the ground last night shortly after 11 o'clock. The firemen and a large crowd collected and in a few moments had adjoining buildings safe. Loss $40.

LIMITED CREDIT

Grocers Decided That Customers Must Settle Every Two Weeks.

At the meeting of the Grocers' association held on Thursday evening decisive steps were taken to solve several difficult problems which have been before local merchants and especially the grocers. The committee appointed to report on the credit system studied the matter over considerably and the suggestion presented was heartily indorsed by the association.

According to the adopted report no person who is in debt to a grocer will be given credit by another and hereafter the credit of all will be limited to two weeks.

BUCHHEIT A PRISONER IN THE COUNTY JAIL

John Buchheit arrived in the city last night from Akron, and visited his son, Edward, in his cell at central police station. The meeting of father and son was very affecting.

The result of their conversation is not known, but the elder Buchheit stated to the police that he was not in a position to go on his son's bond for so large an amount as $5,000, and in consequence the mayor ordered the prisoner taken to the county jail at Lisbon this morning. Officer Morris and Peter Laughlin were given custody of the prisoner and Mary Milliron, the most important witness in the case, and they left for Lisbon at 9 o'clock.

Prosecutor Brookes states that the special grand jury will be in session next Thursday and that Buchheit's case will be presented on that day.

EAST END

P. H. C. RECEPTION

The Hall Crowded With Visitors and Members of the Order. Enjoyable Program.

A more pleasant gathering was never witnessed in the East End than at the reception given by the Eureka circle of the Protected Home circle, in its hall in the East End last evening. The spacious room was crowded with visiting members of the order and their families, while a good representation of the other lodges meeting in the East End was also present.

During the evening a number of addresses were made, and later in the evening luncheon was served. The affair was a most enjoyable one, and a success in every particular.

New Summer Cars Soon.

The East Liverpool railway company has completed the work of placing a turn table at the eastern terminus of the line, and it will not be long until the company will place the summer cars on the line. Work was begun this morning constructing the second switch just east of the trestle, and a force of men are repairing the tracks on Mulberry street.

New Pastor to Preach.

Rev. D. W. McQuiston, pastor-elect of the Second United Presbyterian church, will conduct the usual services at the church tomorrow. He arrived in the East End yesterday, and is now at the residence of Mrs. Pittinger, First avenue. His family will not come to this city for several weeks.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

In a six inning game at Columbian park last evening the East End Athletics defeated the Parrots by a score of 4 to 3. The batteries were Hartzell and Burns; Lake and Wheatley.

Sheridan Mullins, aged 7, is critically ill at the home of his parents near Columbian park.

An electric traction brake will soon be placed on one of the cars of the East Liverpool railway company. It will be the same design that has been used on several of the cars on the Rock Springs line for several weeks.

C. & P. DOUBLE TRACK

Contractor Stringer at Work on a Portion of it at Freeman.

Toronto, O., June 21.—(Special)—T. J. Stringer, of Portland, yesterday began his contract at Freeman's Station for building a portion of the C. & P. double track, as well as making fills 50 feet wide for a new country road extending from above Freeman's Station to Elliottsville, a distance of nearly one mile. Some years ago the C. & P., in changing the grade of the track, so encroached on the country road that but a narrow passage was left, and it has been known as a most dangerous place for travelers along the highway. The Jefferson county commissioners, after long litigation, finally won their case against the railroad company and compelled it to make a suitable road at this point.

The laying of the railway track, too, at this point will connect sidings nearly all the way from above Empire to Markle, below Toronto, a distance of seven miles, and as it is the policy of the C. & P. officials to connect all siding along the river division, forming a second track, the connctions between Torinto and Steubenville will not require many long grades, and further the double tracking movement, now begun at different points along the C. & P. river division.

BOOMING COAL DISTRICT

Numerous New Mines In Jefferson County, With New Railroads.

The Bergholz coal district, along the line of the Lake Erie, Alliance & Southern railroad, is booming now, says Oliver Roseberry, of New Cumberland, who has for the past two years been taking many options in coal lands in that section, and has recently secured a large number. The Ohio and Pennsylvania Coal company is now operating its new mine already opened, and has begun the opening of another, while a third mine opening is contemplated.

Along the new extension of the L. E. A. & S., towards Dillonvale, in the southern end of Jefferson county, there will be quite a number of mines opened by Messrs. Willard and others. The work of laying track on this new extension is progressing with vigor, the grading also being complete so far as Dillonvale, where the route will for the present be connected by siding with the W. & L. E. road for exchange of traffic.

The survey is progressing on the L. E. A. & S. for its extension from Dillonvale to Wheeling. Should this latter work be fully consummated the L. E. A. & S. will be quite a rival of the W. & L. E. for the coal traffic in Jefferson county up to the great lakes.

NEGROES HANGED FOR MURDER.

Each of Them Had Killed a Man, Previous to Crime.

Elliott City, Md., June 21.—Frank Jones and John Johnson, the negro murderers of Israel Radetsky, a Hebrew peddler, were hanged yesterday morning. Radetsky was shot and then beaten to death with pick handles and robbed on March 4, at Hollofields. Jones confessed afterwards and Johnson denied all knowledge of the crime.

Johnson made two attempts at suicide last week, after confessing that he killed John Harman in Anne Arundel county a year ago. He feigned insanity several times after his arrest. Johnson also killed a fellow convict in the Kentucky penitentiary and escaped while serving a term of 21 years.

ATTEMPT AT LYNCHING.

Young Man Probably Fatally Shot by One of Three Italians.

New Kensington, Pa., June 21.—David James and John C. Arb, striking miners from Creg Dell, yesterday afternoon approached three Italians, who got off a train, to persuade them to stay from the mines. The Italians, misunderstanding, assaulted the two men. Frank James, seeing the assault, ran to his father's assistance. Dominick Sandolf shot him, probably fatally. Citizens caught them and turned them over to officers. Last night a mob tried to lynch them, while they were at the station, to be taken to Greensburg jail. The officers finally got them out of the station and to the borough lockup.

Anti-Trust Law Declared Void.

Chicago, June 21.—In a decision given yesterday Judge Elbridge Hanecy, of the state circuit court, held that the Illinois anti-trust law of 1891 is unconstitutional and void in all its parts. He ordered a finding in favor of the defendant in the case of the people, on relation of the attorney general, against the Butler Street Foundry and Iron company.

College Boat Races Today.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 21.—This afternoon the big college regattas will take place here. There will be three races, the four-oared race, the freshman race and the 'varsity race. The six college crews which will take part are from Pennsylvania, Cornell, Wisconsin, Columbia, Georgetown and Syracuse.

Her Cooking.

She—You say she won three husbands by her cooking?

He—That's what she did.

"But how did she get rid of the husbands after she won them?"

"Oh, I believe her cooking had something to do with that too."—Yonkers Statesman.

The Motto That Suited.

"It would be helpful to you," said the prison visitor, "if you could take some motto and try to live up to it."

"That's right," replied the convict. "I'd like to select, for instance, 'We are here today and gone tomorrow.'"

A SKIFF STOLEN

Disappeared From Walker and Was Found Far Down the River.

A valuable skiff belonging to A. E. McDonald, of this city, was stolen from McDonald's landing, opposite Walker, Wednesday evening. Yesterday Mr. McDonald received a telegram from C. H. Breen, ferryman at Freeman's landing, W. Va., which stated that the skiff was in his possession and that he would hold it for him.

Mr. McDonald believes the boat was taken by a confederate of the man who escaped from Chester jaid. He offers $20 for the arrest of the thief.

HONORS FOR MARLBOROUGH

King Confers the Order of the Garter on the Young Duke.

The most noble Order of the Garter, which King Edward has just conferred on the Duke of Marlborough, is the highest honor of British knighthood. The Order of the Garter was founded by King Edward III. about 1348 and ranks as the most illustrious of its kind. The order is limited to twenty-five knights companions, chosen, with hardly any exception, from the British nobility, together with the sovereign and the Prince of Wales. There are, however, extra knights, who include princes of the blood and foreign rulers and dignitaries, upon whom the king confers the honor.

When a vacancy occurs in the ranks of the twenty-five knights companions, the order may be conferred on any nobleman of the first rank who may be eligible, as in the present instance, or for distinguished political services, as in the case of Lord Kimberley, whom Marlborough succeeds. The Duchess of Marlborough is the daughter of W. K. Vanderbilt of New York.

Miss Florence Allan

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN WHO PRAISE PERUNA.

THREE BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Worn Out And Nervous Regained Their Health And Beauty By Taking Peruna.

Miss Florence Allan, a beautiful Chicago girl, writes the following to Dr. S. B. Hartman concerning his catarrhal tonic, Peruna:

75 Walton Place, Chicago, Ill.

"As a tonic for a worn-out system, Peruna stands at the head in my estimation. Its effects are truly wonderful in rejuvenating the entire system. I keep it on hand all the time, and never have that 'tired feeling,' as a few doses always make me feel like a different woman."—Florence Allan.

Thousands of women suffer from systemic catarrh. This is sure to produce such symptoms as cold feet and hands, sick headache, palpitation of the heart and heavy feelings in the stomach.

Then begins a series of experiments. They take medicine for sick headache. They take medicine for nervous prostration, for palpitation of the heart, for dyspepsia. None of these medicines do any good because they do not reach the cause of the complaint.

Peruna at once mitigates all these symptoms by removing the cause.

Systemic catarrh is the trouble. Systemic catarrh pervades the whole system, deranges every organ, weakens every function. No permanent cure can be expected until the systemic catarrh is removed.

This is exactly what Peruna will do.

Miss Cullen Was Exhausted From Over Study.

Miss Rose Cullen, President of the Young Woman's Club, Butte, Montana, writes:

921 Galena street, Butte, Mont.
Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen—"Peruna has many friends in Butte. I cannot say too much in praise of it. While finishing school I became very nervous and exhausted from overstudy. I was weak and sick, and could neither eat, sleep nor enjoy life. A couple bottles of Peruna put new life in me. I find by having it in the house and taking a dose off and on it keeps me in fine health. A large number of my friends place Peruna at the head of all medicines."—Rose Cullen.

Peruna is especially adapted to protecting against and curing nervous diseases of run-down women, as the testimonial of Miss Cullen indicates.

Miss Blanche Myers, 3120 Penn street, Kansas City, Mo., has the following to say of Peruna:

"During each of the past four seasons I have caught a severe cold, when suddenly chilled after an evening party, and catarrh for several weeks would be the result. One bottle of Peruna cured me, and I shall not dread colds any more as I did."—Blanche Myers.

An excellent little treatise on "Health and Beauty," written especially for women, by Dr. Hartman, will be sent free to any address by The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio.

Gen. Lloyd Wheaton said in his last report before retiring from his Philippine command: "The humane code of the laws of war, as pursued during the administration of President Lincoln, was followed in all operations against semi-civilized insurgents, who habitually violated every law of war known to civilized nations and who treated their own people with every barbarity that can be inflicted upon the helpless. My service in these islands soon terminating, I wish to express my highest appreciation of the gallant conduct, the courage and humanity of the troops it has been my honor and good fortune to command. The officers deserve the gratitude of their countrymen and the men the gratitude and love of every patriotic American." The general stated that a firm and thorough policy against assassins and disturbers of order was all that was necessary to maintain peaceful conditions. All of which is respectfully submitted for the consideration of the little Americans who delight in picturing United States soldiers as brutes and savages.

Spinach.

Spinach derives its name from the Spanish monks, who first used it during fast days. It belongs to the beet family and is generally served as a vegetable, although it makes a delicate and appetizing salad. In the spring, when mint is fresh and green, a few leaves added to the spinach will improve the flavor, whether it is served as a vegetable or a salad.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN THE POTTERIES

Special Correspondence.

Wheeling, June 21.—The Riverside sanitary pottery is enjoying the busiest season it has had for many years. Every presser is making five closets a day, and owing to the condition of business it is said that the plant will not remain idle long during the early part of July. As many of the employes have homes in other parts, they have asked the firm for a two weeks' vacation, but it is not known whether this will be granted.

William White, James Atwell and Patrick Crogan, of the Riverside plant, have arranged to spend a few days at their former homes in Baltimore. It is stated that when Mr. White returns to Wheeling he will be accompanied by his bride.

U. S. Bennett, a presser at the Riverside, is planning a trip to East Liverpool, where he will spend a few weeks with his parents. He will be accompanied by his family.

Edward Pell, well known in East Liverpool, and formerly employed at Sebring, but now located at Wheeling, will spend a few weeks hunting in the Cheat mountains. He expects to leave within a few days.

George Cartridge, who has been operating a cup jigger at the Steubenville pottery, is now located at Wheeling.

Thomas Smith, late of Kikomo, Ind., is the latest arrival here. He is employed at the Riverside plant.

William Wilson, a popular presser at the Riverside, who has been unable to work for several weeks with illness, is recovering and will be able to resume his bench next week.

During the past week an eastern buyer spent several days in this city looking for nothing but novelties. That was all he wanted, just "something new." Finally one of the largest orders of the season was presented to a river firm, and the novelty he ordered just suited his business. This proves the statement that was made in this paper several weeks ago that many of the potteries of the city propose to go after new trade with an up-to-date line. There is no question in the minds of some manufacturers that something more than dinner and toilet ware must be made in the local potteries. Many believe in branching out, and some have already commenced to do it. In making a line of novelties the local potteries by pushing them will also be able to sell more staple ware.

It is almost definitely settled that many of the local potteries will close next Saturday evening for the summer shut down, remaining so for not more than two weeks. This decision has been sent out from the office of one of the largest potteries in the city, and the men are now planning all sorts of trips. Some of the manufacturers who have been seen state they do not care to express themselves as to when their plants will close, but it is the general belief that practically all the plants will shut down on next Saturday evening. During the shut down, which is expected to be brief, many repairs will be made about the shops, and improvements made wherever needed.

Gilders,' ground layers' and liners' local No. 19, at a meeting Thursday evening, elected the following officers for a term of six months: President, Albert Taylor; vice president, Frank Mackey; recording secretary, A. L. Seckerson; financial secretary, Miss Allum; one per cent secretary, Miss Lizzie Davis; treasurer, Mrs. Buchanan; inspector, William Heath; guard, Ernest Simpson; trustee for 18 months, Jack Tarr.

Judging from the manner in which work is progressing at the Laughlin No. 3, that new plant will be in full operation by July 15. There is a good force of workmen in the clay department. In the kiln department only one crew of bisque and one of glost kilnmen are employed. However, arrangements are being made to start additional crews soon, and when this is done the plant will be operated to its capacity.

The contract for the machinery that is to be placed in the new plant that will be built by the East Liverpool Brick Manufacturing company has been placed, having been secured by a Pittsburg firm. This machinery is the most modern made, and is said to have cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. It will be but a few weeks before work will be commenced excavating for the foundation of the new plant.

H. A. McNicol, of the Dresden pottery company, and Samuel Ferguson, of the East Liverpool Potteries company, who formed a committee to confer with western manufacturers on matters pertaining to business considered at the recent meeting of the Western Manufacturing Potters' association, returned to the city last evening, having been absent just one week.

The clay grinding plant of the West Virginia Fire Clay company, opposite Toronto, operated by the Ballentyne Bros., of New Cumberland, by the addition of a new boiler and clay crusher has now been entirely rehabilitated with new machinery. Since its inception, some ten or twelve years ago, the growth of this plant in production and enlargement has been quite rapid.

The News Review has, within the past few days, completed the task of securing a capable correspondent in every town in which a pottery is located. News letters from a number of towns have already been published, and the pottery department of this paper, already the best, will be made still better henceforth.

The Black horse sewer pipe plant, owned by the American Sewer Pipe company, located below New Cumberland, has been completely remodeled, and large new tunnel dodgers for brick making put in; also a new Corliss engine and clay crusher, at a cost of $15,000.

Kilndrawers' union No. 17, at a meeting tonight, will elect officers for the new term. The first nominations were made last Saturday evening, and they will be closed this evening and the election held. Some other important business is also to be transacted.

William Haught, a clay maker at the East Palestine pottery, had the small finger of his right hand cut off while at work yesterday. He put his arm in the pug mill and the knives severed the finger.

The regular meeting of the Potters' Exchange was held this week, in the rooms of the Potters' club, but no business other than that of a routine nature was considered.

W. C. Smith, a glost kilnman at the Laughlin No. 3, who has been unable to work for several days on account of illness, returned to his bench yesterday.

C. A. Saunders, a buyer from Houston, Tex., has been spending several weeks in the city, placing some good business. He left today for the east.

Phinney's Farewell at Buffalo.

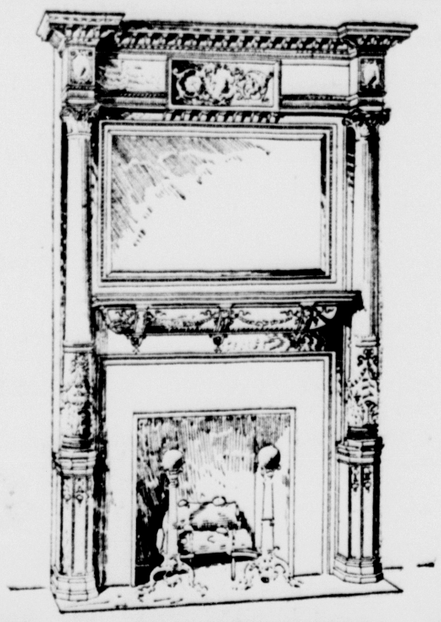

"The people of the Pan-American Exposition were sorry to see Phinney's band leave," says the Buffalo Courier. "The Chicago organization played its last in the Plaza band stand. The crowd was densely packed. At various numbers of the excellent program great applause was evoked, till the final number. Enthusiasm semed to run over the multitude. Still another rendition failed to quiet them, and then Director Phinney lifted his baton and the band swung into the tuneful measures of "Auld Lang Syne." With grand, slow, swelling chords it pursued till, nearing the end, the volume was stupendous, when slowly, sweetly and sadly, it diminished to a barely perceptible murmur of farewell."

MEDICINE WHICH DOCTORS PRESCRIBE

is the best Medicine, provided it is prepared in the right way by the druggist. There are lots of things that a young pharmacist cannot, or at least, does not, learn in college. Only practical experience teaches which is the best way to prepare this ointment or that tonic. We had the Pharmacy College training, and we've been at it a great many years since. Physicians know that we can prepare medicines on their prescriptions exactly as they want it. That's why they often send their prescriptions, especially the difficult prescriptions to us.

WELLSVILLE

LARGE TRACK LEASE

Maczenzie Oil and Gas Company Expects Good Results From Oil Tests.

The Mackenzie Oil and Gas company of Wellsville anticipates good results from developments at the head of Island Creek, near Richmond, Jefferson county. It is considered by all interested to be fine oil property. A. G. Mackenzie and Charles C. Lawson, the only Wellsville people in the deal, went to Richmond Thursday morning. They met there another member of the company, Squire J. C. Riley, of Richmond, and surveyed the field.

Rich strikes have been made in that vicinity lately, there being excellent producing wells on the Morrow, Williamson, McClelland and other farms. The old Island Creek district was prolific several years ago and the Mackenzie tract is adjacent.

There has been a rush of speculators into that territory, but farmers have been chary about leasing. Squire Riley is well known and owing to his integrity the land owners were readily convinced that the Mackenzie company meant business. During the week leases will have been signed on a compact tract of 1,500 acres. Three Pittsburg capitalists are interested. The company will be incorporated.

The Jefferson county leases are in the hills and oil is found in the Berea sand at a depth of 1,400 feet. There is both oil and gas.

The Christian Endeavorers of the First Presbyterian church had a fine time at a garden party in Congo last evening, at the home of George Ingram. The lawn was beautifully illuminated. WIZARDS IN CONVENTION.

Electrical Sharps Meet For Their Annual Hobnobbing.

Extensive preparations have been made in Great Barrington, Mass., to entertain the annual convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. For the first time in its history the convention meets in a country town. Heretofore the institute has met in the great cities of the country, New York, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco having previously been selected.

The institute comprises the leading electrical inventors of the country, and the fact that Tesla, Edison and others of great fame have announced their intention to be present has made interest in the convention international.

The institute chose the Berkshire hills this year on the personal invitation of William Stanley of Great Barrington, an inventor of renown and a member of the institute. Over 200 members of the institute, many with ladies, will enjoy the hospitality of the town. The village will be in gala dress, and illuminations by night and flags and flowers by day will serve to show the town's appreciation of the honor conferred by the institute.

The ladies of the Thursday Morning club of Great Barrington have arranged fetes and social festivities for the entertainment of the ladies of the party.

The work of the convention begins June 18, when many papers on electrical subjects will be read. The public will be entertained by a lecture by Professor Elihu Thompson. During the convention Dr. A. E. Kennelly of Philadelphia, one of the leading physicists of the day, will address the ladies of Great Barrington. Nikola Tesla and Thomas A. Edison are also expected to deliver public lectures.

The social features of the convention include receptions, visits to various points of interest in the Berkshire hills and a grand ball at the Berkshire inn at Lenox.

An interesting feature of the convention will be the experiments with the Marconi system of telegraphy.

WILL DRILL SEVERAL WELLS

A New Company Proposes to Furnish Gas to Chester—Oil Field Notes.

A new company, incorporated under the name of the Line Island Gas company, has been organized, and will drill for gas near Chester. Frank G. Chapman, of East Liverpool, who drilled some wells on the Joseph Kinney farm several years ago, is the manager of the new company. Seven hundred acres of land have been leased by them and they will drill a large number of wells. It has been stated that the Chester tin mill will use all the gas they can produce, so that a market can be secured at home. The company will start operations in a short time. Machinery has been ordered and is expected to arrive soon.

Murray & Miller, whose oil field is located near New Cumberland, drilled in another well the fore part of this week, which is thought to be good for at least 75 barrels a day, and which will very materially add to their already large production.

Mildred No. 4, on the John Watson place, was drilled in Tuesday and has proved itself the best well in the Moscow field. Fifty feet of the well filled up as soon as the sand was struck. It is good for at least 25 barrels a day.

A big power plant is being put in by LaComte & Co., for the purpise of pumping their wells. The gas engine and other machinery for the plant arrived last week, and has been hauled to the field.

BATHING IN PUBLIC

Chester Chief of Police Proposes to Put a Stop to the Practice at Once.

East Liverpool and Chester young men and boys have been in the habit of going swimming on the Chester side of the river near the bridge, and in full sight of the general public, for some time. This practice will soon be stopped, and the boys who desire to swim will either have to don their bathing suits, or else go outside the town limits.

The matter was brought to the attention of council at its meeting Thursday night by Councilman Wells, who stated that there was an ordinance against the offense which should be enforced by the town authorities and arrests made. Councilman Riley stated he had also seen the boys bathing, and thought some definite action ought to be taken at once against the offenders.

Sargeant Allison said that he would see to it that the ordinance was enforced, and that he would arrest the next person he caught bathing publicly. The first offender will be fined to the fullest extent of the law to serve as an example for the rest, and perhaps in this way the practice will be broken up.

Held For the Grand Jury.

Connelly, the pickpocket arrested in Chester, had a hearing at New Cumberland yesterday, and was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury which convenes Monday.

One of the detectives on the case said pickpockets got fully $500 from Homestead picnickers.

The Biggest Not the Best.

A New York dealer who has handled shiploads of fruit said recently: "It is often amusing to see men, women and children picking out, as they believe, the choicest fruit at the market stands. If there are a half a dozen large oranges within sight, they will have them, even if it is necessary to overturn all the rest in the box or barrel, and this is true with most all other varieties that are sold by the piece or dozen. They invariably get the poorest specimens of the whole crop and yet are not aware of it. Very rarely you will find a person who is a good judge who will at once size up the heaviest oranges, lemons or bananas, regardless of size, and they capture the choicest fruit."

Why Two Ears Are Necessary.

Sound travels by waves radiating from a central point of disturbance, just as waves radiate when a stone is dropped into still water. So far as the hearing of each individual is concerned these waves move in a direct line from the cause of the sound to his ear, the impact being the greatest in the ear nearest to the source. This being the case, a person who has totally lost the sense of hearing in one ear, although he may imagine that the defect is of little consequence, cannot locate the direction of a sound to save his life, even when the center of disturbance is quite near him.

A Literary Light.

A short time ago a well known writer of London, remembering that he had never read the noncanonical books, went out in search of a copy and in one bookshop after another drew blank. At last he went to his own particular newspaper shop, which also dealt in Bibles and light literature. "Have you the Apocrypha?" he asked. For a moment the young woman behind the counter was puzzled; then, brightening, she said, "Is it a weekly or a monthly?"

Young Corbett and Sullivan.

Articles have been signed for a fight between Dave Sullivan and Young Corbett, to take place June 20 at Denver. The men are to weigh at 127 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Five hundred dollars has been deposited by each as a forfeit for weight, and the Coliseum club has deposited a like amount as a guarantee that the fight will come off.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

The "Wizard" Has Another.

"It is now up to the manufacturers of automobiles to produce a cheap carriage," said Thomas A. Edison the other day. "I have, after three years of hard work, solved the problem of an electrical storage battery which can be used for long distance work and which will wear out three or four automobiles before it will succumb itself." In Mr. Edison's new battery a combination of steel and nickel suspended in an alkaline solution takes the place of lead and makes a much lighter battery than the one at present used. The batteries now used will not run more than forty miles without recharging, while Mr. Edison claims that his batteries have already shown a capacity of 100 miles. On this point the "wizard" said:

"I am going to start an automobile out for an endurance test of 5,000 miles. I shall make five separate tests of this kind with different machines, and if I do not produce a battery that will last for more than 5,000 miles I won't sell a single one of them."

How Nevins Went West.

Thomas Nevins, the "American Irishman" who proposes, according to the papers, to introduce Irish granite as a paving material into Great Britain, thus displacing Scotch stone, is from East Orange, N. J., and not from Chicago, as the dispatches had it. And his last enterprise is exactly what might be expected from him, since it was in the building of roads in East Orange that he won the big fortune that enabled him a few years ago to go back to Ireland and buy the castle which graces the fine old estate on which he was born more than threescore years ago.

Nevins is a picturesque figure. His rise in life was not assisted by the culture that is secured in the schools, and when he landed in New York about half a century ago he had no money at all. He didn't get on well in the city, and one day he asked an acquaintance what he had better do. In the words of Horace Greeley the acquaintance said, "Go west, young man." So Nevins decided to strike out for the setting sun. He had no idea how far "west" he ought to go, and he started via a ferryboat for the shores of New Jersey. Landed at Hoboken, he took up his journey on foot. When he got to East Orange, he met a man who offered him a job as a stable boy. Then he took note of the badness of the Jersey roads. Later he got some one to back him in an attempt to improve them. Today the roads about East Orange are as fine as any in America and finer than most. Nevins never went farther west than East Orange, so to speak, until he had made a good beginning in the amassing of the millions that now are his.

Doesn't Fear Ship Combine.

At the annual meeting of the London chamber of commerce held May 28 Lord Brassey, the presiding officer, presented an address which dealt mainly with the shipping question. In discussing the ship combination of which J. P. Morgan is the head Lord Brassey said: "Let us not lose our national dignity in unavailing and groundless alarm. Our position as a maritime nation is assured beyond the reach of competition, and we shall hold our position against all comers because we build ships more cheaply and with or without foreign crews sail them more cheaply than any of our rivals." Lord Brassey admitted, however, that British shipbuilders must look to their laurels in the construction of ocean greyhounds.

Sam Clemens' New Maxims.

Mark Twain has added two new maxims to the world's already valuable collection. They are as follows: "We ought never to do wrong when people are looking" and "No real gentleman will tell the naked truth in the presence of ladies."

A Good Hearted Man,

or in other words, men with good sound hearts, are not very numerous. The increasing number of sudden deaths from heart disease daily chronicled by the press, is proof of the alarming prevalence of this dangerous complaint, and as no one can foretell just when a fatal collapse will occur, the danger of neglecting treatment is certainly a very risky matter. Centrally located.

$2500 Six room two story "L" shaped dwelling with front and side porticos, good cellar; formerly used as a basement. Lot is 30 feet wide and runs through from Thompson avenue to Ravine street. High class residences in the nighborhood.

Inquire for Price. A seven room modern dwelling with bay window, halls, bath room, hot and cold water, sewer connections, gas throughout, electric light, furnace. Lot lies perfectly level and front 30 feet on grassy lawn to the front. This property is on the west end of Sixth street and one of the few down town residences for sale.

High Class Residences We have them in all parts of the city. They are generally occupied by their owners. For reasons that are obvious to all owners of fine properties they do not want general publicity made of the fact that their "home" property is for sale. These properties we are ever ready to tell you of on condition that you evince enough interest to make inquiry of us. You'll never get prices or particulars in our advertising columns of them. Don't think that we cannot suit you. Try us. Further, we'll save you money.

300 Dwellings For Sale. Have you ever seen our mammoth For Sale List? If not call and get one, or send us your address and we will mail you a copy. When you come to us you have a selection of properties to choose from representing three-fourths of all the properties on sale in the city. We make it profitable to do business through us. Give us 20 minutes of your time; if we don't interest you, we'll say no more about it. We make terms of purchase to suit you.

Drury Lane.

Drury lane was named after the great family of the Drurys who once lived there, and Clare market after Lord Clare. The fame of Drury lane is worldwide. Who has not heard of the famous pantomimes at Drury Lane theater and of the many famous actors and actresses who have played there? Who has not read of the wild exploits of Nell Gwynn, the flower girl, who obtained such an ascendency over the Merrie Monarch? Pepys calls her "Pretty Nell" and records how he saw her in Drury lane "standing at her lodging's door in her smock sleeves and bodice, a mighty pretty creature."—Chambers' Journal.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY TELEPHONE RATES

NOT TO BE INCREASED AT PRESENT TO REGULAR SUBSCRIBERS.

Aim of Management is to Correct Abuses of the Toll Lines By Those Who Do Not Pay.

June 19, 1902.

As there seems to be a great deal of talk and worry about the readjustment of the telephone rates, I desire to say that the readjustment does not and will not affect the old subscribers now, and their wants and wishes will always be respected by this company. I desire to say that our present aim is to do away with the intolerable abuse of our toll lines. By this I mean that a great many non-subscribers have been stealing the use of the lines to such an extent that it is not only an injury to ourselves in a financial way, but to our subscribers, and compels us to take steps to protect our subscribers as well as ourselves, and we assure them they will always get full value for money paid us. You will also note that the next bills will be for the same amount as heretofore.

Very Truly,

FISTIANA

This making of new champions that do not fit the old and legitimate notches demands a general revision of weights. If not that, then some kind of arrangement should be made for more champions. As the matter stands at present there are too many pounds between the bantam, feather and light weights. With the high mark for bantams at 115 pounds a hundred and eighteen pound youngster would be a full fledged featherweight, and as such would be compelled to fight a hundred and twenty-eight or a hundred and thirty pounder for the championship, and a hundred and five pound bantam would have to cope with a hundred and fifteen pounder. This is too big a handicap, but the champions in those two classes demand aspirants for their honors must fight at the weights they set. Unfortunately there is no governing power in pugilism, and the high weights in the bantam and feather weight classes, at least, will remain intact until some light bantam or feather comes along, trims the champions and sets the weights back to the old limit.

Unexpected Applause.

Shortly after Mr. Wilson Barrett joined the theatrical profession he became a member of a company performing at the old Theater Royal, Dublin. His part, naturally, was a small one, and, greatly to his surprise, his first speech was greeted with a round of applause. This unlooked for tribute elated the young actor, and he exerted himself to sustain the good impression he appeared to have made. Just as he was leaving the theater one of the scene shifters grinningly accosted him and said, "Sure, it's got about among the bhoys that ye're a brother of the man that was hung!" A Fenian named Barrett had that morning paid the extreme penalty of the law.

An English paper tells a story of some children's theatricals. A party of children were giving a little drama of their own, in which courtships and weddings played a leading part in the plot. While the play was in progress one of the grownups went behind the scenes and found a very small girl sitting in the corner.

"Why are you left out?" he asked. "Aren't you playing too?"

"Oh, I'm not left out," came the reply. "I'm the baby waiting to be borned."

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Picnic on Monday—The First Presbyterian Sunday school and church picnic will be held on Monday at Rock Springs.

Musical Service—The first of a series of musical services will be given in St. Stephen's Episcopal church on Sunday at 8 p. m.

Remodeling the Bank.—The contract for the remodeling of the lower portion of the Citizen's National bank has been let, and the work will commence in a few days.

Clothes for the Poor—The ladies of the First M. E. church met yesterday and began work upon a quantity of clothes which they are making for poor children of the city. They expect to meet again next week to pursue the same good work.

Coronation Service—Owing to many English people residing in this city, the bishop of the diocese has sanctioned a coronation service, to be held at St. Stephen's Episcopal church, at 10 a. m. next Thursday. Particulars will be given on Monday.

Big Church Picnic—The annual Sunday school picnic of the United Presbyterian churches of this city, Wellsville, Calcutta and the Southside was held yesterday at Rock Springs park. It is estimated that from 500 to 700 persons enjoyed the day's outing.

Social a Success—The strawberry and ice cream social given last evening in the Thompson-Hobbs building by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church was voted a decided success. An artistic flower booth and pretty candy and lemonade booths lent attraction. In the evening the Peerless Mandolin club furnished music. The social was quite largely attended last evening and preparations are made for a larger crowd tonight.

FAILS TO RECOVER

Man Who Sued For $868 For Caring For His Father Unsuccessful.

Lisbon, June 22.—(Special)—The jury today returned a verdict for defendant in the case of Ephraim Willis vs. Benjamin Willis, as executor of the estate of John Willis, late of East Rochester. He was suing for $868 which he claimed was due him for services rendered his father during the last six years of his life.

The case was on trial two days and was hotly contested. The jury was out 10 hours before it could agree.

Rock Springs Fountain.

Among the new additions at the park is the new Soda Fountain, which has been placed in the new annex at the toboggan slide. While this is only a temporary fountain you get the best soda that has ever been made in this vicinity. Its purity cannot be equalled. They use no acids or extracts, nor do they use impure water. The syrups are made from true fruits by the J. Hungerford Smith Co., of Rochester, N. Y. The water used is that of the famous Rock Springs, which is known to everyone who visits the park. The Amusement Company have been careful to obtain THE BEST in every particular. A skilled operator is in charge at all times, including Sunday. 146-h

FOURTH DISTRICT CONVENTION.

Sunrise Prayer Meeting Opened Yesterday's Proceedings—Among the Speakers at Convention Was Rev. Loughry, of Uniontown, Pa.

Washington, June 21.—President Roosevelt yesterday afternoon received the officers and delegates attending the fourth general conference district Epworth League convention, which began Thursday night. Over 200 leaguers marched to the executive mansion and shook hands with the chief executive.

A sunrise prayer meeting at the Metropolitan M. E. church opened the day's session of the convention yesterday, which continued throughout yesterday afternoon and last evening. Among those who addressed the convention were Rev. Dr. John H. Miller, of Parkersburg, W. Va., on "The Spirit of the Fathers;" Rev. Dr. Wilbur L. Davidson, secretary of the American university, on "Young People and Skepticism;" Mr. E. S. La Fetra, of Washington, on "The Laymen's Work in the League;" Rev. E. G. Loughry, of Uniontown, Pa., on "The Church, Its Young Men;" Mrs. Annie E. Smiley, on "The Boys and Girls in the League;" Rev. Hosaic L. Jacobs, of Altoona, Pa., on "The Making of Men," and Rev. S. J. Miller, of Point Pleasant, W. Va., on "Thoughts for Twentieth Century Leaguers."

Last night Rev. Frank D. Gamewell, of New York, delivered a lecture on "The Siege of Pekin."

KAISER SPEAKS FOR RELICION.

Appeals to Protestant and Catholic to Help Him Uphold Faith on Which The Empire Is Founded.

Aix-La-Chapelle, Prussia, June 21.—A striking speech was delivered by Emperor William at the city hall here Thursday, after his arrival from Bonn, accompanied by the empress and crown prince, Frederick William. He said in part:

"But it must not be forgotten that the empire was rooted in simplicity and fear of God. I look to all, priests and laymen, to help me uphold religion among the people, in order that the German name may preserve its health and strength. This applies equally to the two creeds, Catholic and Protestant.

"It is with pride and joy that I am able to tell you that the pope said to my special ambassador who went to Rome on the occasion of the holy father's jubilee, that he had always kept a high opinion of the piety of the Germans, and especially that of the German army. The pope asked my ambassador to tell his sovereign that the country in Europe where control, order and discipline still prevailed, with respect for authority and regard for the church and where the church could live, was the German empire, and for that the papal see was indebted to the German emperor.

Great Creeds Must Have One Aim.

"This justifies me in saying that our two great creeds must while living side by side keep in view their one great aim—to uphold and strengthen the fear of God and reverence for religion. Whether we are moderns or whether we labor in this or that field does not matter at all. He who does not found his life on religion is a lost man. I rejoice that I have placed my whole empire, my people and my army, as well as myself and my house, beneath the cross and under the protection of him who said: 'Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My words shall not pass away.'"

POPE ACCEPTS MAIN POINTS.

O'Gorman Assured—Taft and Party Still Waited For Answer Last Night.

Rome, June 21.—The papal secretary of state, Cardinal Rampolla, yesterday assured the Rt. Rev. Thomas O'Gorman, bishop of Sioux Falls, S. D., that the vatican accepts the propositions of Judge Taft, governor of the Philippine islands, regarding the disposition of the friars' lands, on all the main points, but dissents on minor points.

The official documents were being prepared at the vatican and were to be delivered to Judge Taft yesterday.

Mrs. Taft, the wife of the governor of the Philippines, and her children, together with Captain Strother, arrived in Rome yesterday. They were met at the station by Governor Taft. The pope will receive Mrs. Taft and her eldest daughter in audience.

The American party waited patiently at the Hotel Quirinal for the vatican's reply last night, but as this dispatch was forwarded it was still not received. There is little doubt that the answer will be a substantial acceptance of the main points of Judge Taft's proposals, which include the payment of about $5,000,000 for the friars' agricultural lands and another smaller sum for the rental of the friars' lands used by the army and the deportation of the friars to Spain. The actual sums will be fixed by arbitration.

Judge Taft has prepared a tentative form of agreement to use if agreeable to the vatican.

If the answer came last night Judge Taft will today apply to Monsignor Gasparri (secretary of the congregation of extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs) for information on this subject.

Dean Hoffman's Funeral.

New York, June 21.—In the presence of a distinguished clerical and lay gathering that filled Trinity chapel to the doors, the Episcopal service for the dead was read yesterday afternoon over the body of the late Eugene Augustus Hoffman, dean of the General Theological seminary. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, rector of Trinity church, assisted by the Rev. W. H. Vibbert, vicar of Trinity chapel; Bishops White, of Michigan City, Seymour, of Springfield; Burgess, of Long Island, and Worthington, of Nebraska, and Archdeacon T. C. Tiffany, of New York.

WOULD CLOSE MANY PLANTS.

Miners' Secretary So Figures, If There Is General Strike—Three Months' Supply of Coal.

Indianapolis, June 21.—It is estimated by W. B. Wilson, secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, that the present supply of bituminous and anthracite coal above ground would be exhausted in less than three months, if there should be a general suspension of work in the mines.

According to this estimate, if the national convention of mine workers in Indianapolis, July 17, should vote for a general suspension of work, in support of the anthracite strike, as is now proposed, the vast industrial machinery of the United States would be handicapped for fuel so that thousands of factories would have to suspend work.

MINE GUARDS FINED.

Charged With Carelessly Using Firearms.

Nanticoke, Pa., June 21.—Eleven guards in the employ of the Susquehanna Coal company were arrested and arraigned before Burgess Williams yesterday, charged with the careless use of firearms.

The 11 men, who are of the party brought from Pittsburg, were found guilty and fined $3 each. Pending the payment of the fines they were locked up.

Leaders and Miners Arrested.

Clarksburg, W. Va., June 21.—United States Marshal Elliott and deputies arrested Thomas Haggerty, Mother Jones and a dozen others for violating Judge Jackson's injunction at a mass meeting yesterday afternoon.

Missouri Prohibitionists.

Clinton, Mo., June 21.—Missouri Prohibitionists yesterday named nominees for minor state offices. Among other things the platform declares for the election of United States senators by direct vote; it condemns anarchy, the non-enforcement of liquor laws and trusts, especially "the eldest and mightiest trust, the liquor trust."

Prominent Religious Worker Very Ill.

Chicago, June 21.—Benjamin F. Jacobs, a well-known real estate man of Chicago, specially prominent for his activity in church and charitable work throughout the country, is very ill at his home from a complication of Bright's disease and heart failure. Little hope is expressed for his recovery.

WILL STARVE REDS.

If They Can't Be Induced to Leave Paterson--Will be Blacklisted.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE FORMED.

Fifty Wealthy Business Men Form Organization—$250,000 Said to Be Pledged—Private Detectives Engaged—Armed Men In Control.

Paterson, N. J., June 21.—Mayor Hinchcliffe seemed last night to be in complete control of the situation here, backed as he is by the entire peace controlling force of the city and county and a goodly portion of the state militia. The soldiers' presence has had a deterent effect upon the reds and they were not in evidence in the city.

The troops were to remain on duty all night and be relieved by the deputies this morning. No troops will do duty in the day time, unless there should be serious trouble.

An organization has been completed, composed of 50 wealthy business men of this city, to be known to the public as the Paterson vigilance committee, but the membership and proceedings are not to be made public. Private detectives have already been engaged to shadow the leading reds. The anarchists are to be induced to leave Paterson quietly if possible. If they do not go, the committee is said to have its own plan for action. One of the methods to be employed is said to be the keeping of a blacklist, and no matter where in Paterson a man on it obtains work his employer will be notified to dismiss him.

If this plan be carried out it will starve out of the city all anarchists who may come here. It is said the committee has $250,000 pledged by the men composing it to carry out its purpose.

School Directors Indicted.

Philadelphia, June 21.—Twenty-four bills of indictment were returned by the grand jury yesterday charging Thomas P. G. Seixas, B. Frank Prown, Joseph Travis, Albert W. Weider, William H. Sievel, directors of one of the public schools, and David Johnson, with conspiracy to extort money and commit bribery in connection with the appointment of school teachers. Johnson is said to have acted as an intermediary between persons seeking positions as school teachers and the directors.

Olney Not a Candidate.

Memphis, June 21.—In response to an invitation from prominent Memphis Democrats, members of a club formed to promote the candidacy of Hon. Richard Olney, of Massachusetts, for the presidency, urging him to deliver an address here, Mr. Olney sent a letter, dated Boston, June 16 saying he was not a candidate, and he could not attend, as it would not be proper, under the circumstances.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Wasn't His Hat, Anyway.

Mr. Weddle, visiting his wife's relatives up in Maine, fairly had to go to church that Sunday. He didn't want to go, but his wife thought it would do him good and would be apt to preserve the harmony of the family.

The sermon was long and powder dry, and Weddle stole off into the arms of Morpheus gently and serenely. As he did not snore, his wife did not suspect that he had gone to sleep alongside of her and gave herself up fully to inspecting the bonnet of the woman in the pew in front.

Like all things, good and bad, the sermon came to an end at last, but Weddle slumbered on like a baby even after a deacon began taking up the collection in a hat. When the derby was passed to Weddle, Mrs. Weddle was surprised to see that he did not respond. She nudged him violently to bring him back to his senses, and Weddle, awakening with a start, sat upright and, bewildered, gazed at the hat in the hand of the deacon. Then he shook his head sleepily and said:

"No; that isn't mine. Mine is a gray one."—New York Tribune.

Had Nerve.

"Well, ain't that a lovely customer? I just dote on waiting on that kind. Did you see her, though?" The shop girl was bubbling over with rage. A woman and her daughter had looked at not fewer than twenty-five silk waists. At last they took up one, and the woman brought forth a tape measure, "I think we might get it out of three and a half yards or three and two-thirds anyhow. Just wait—twenty-three inches down the front, three-quarters for the sleeves, allow a quarter for collar and cuffs. Yes, that'll do it." As she talked she ran the tape over the waist, the clerk standing by almost bursting with indignation. "Three yards of lace, one and a quarter of insertion," she went on, measuring the trimming. "Put that down, Amy. Now let's go. We can get up a waist exactly like that for $7.50, and they ask $14.98. They've got their nerve, haven't they?"—New York Press.

An Absurd Custom In Vienna.

In Vienna every man's home is his dungeon from 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. Vienna is a city of flats, and at 10 p. m. the common entrance door of each block is closed and bolted. Thereafter persons passing in or out must pay a fine of twopence to the concierge until midnight and fourpence from that hour to 6 a. m. To go out to post a letter costs twopence and the same amount to return. To prolong a visit to a friend after 10 p. m. means twopence to get out of his house and twopence more to enter your own. A natural result of this irritating tax is that of all capital cities Vienna is earliest to bed.

Travelers to California

Naturally desire to see the grandest and most impressive scenery en route. This you will do by selecting the Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western, "The Scenic Line of the World," and "The Great Salt Lake Route," in one or both directions, as this line has two separate routes across the Rocky mountains between Denver and Ogden. Tickets reading via this route are available either via its main line through the Royal George, Leadville, over Tennessee Pass, through the Canon of the Grand river and Glenwood Springs, or via the line over Marshall Pass and through the Black Canon of the Gunnison, thus enabling the traveler to use one of the above routes going and the other returning. Three splendidly equipped fast trains are operated to and from the Pacific coast, which carry through standard sleepers daily between Chicago, St. Louis, Denver and San Francisco. HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

Smith, Giants' New Captain

"Mugsy" McGraw's Many Troubles

"EVERY baseball pitcher has a style of delivery which is peculiar to himself," says Christy Mathewson, "but experience has forced all pitchers to use nearly the same methods in attempting to fool the batsmen. The windmill motions of a cyclonic pitcher may be puzzling for awhile, but he will soon come to grief if he has no other idea than merely to 'shoot' the ball across the plate.

"'Speed and control' are immensely advantageous to a pitcher, but he must study the weaknesses of every batsman and endeavor to apply that knowledge.

"Most hitters can meet a low, fast ball better than a high one; consequently keep 'em high. Try to make a batsman hit the ball on the end or handle of his bat by pitching close to the edges of the plate. Throw a curve ball low. A slow ball should be thrown with the same motion as a fast ball and when the batsman is overanxious or least expecting it.

"These are good general rules, but, like the rules for whist, they are very vexatious at times.

"There is one good rule that is unalterable—'Find out what they can hit and don't pitch it to 'em.'

As to Catching.

"A catcher who is able to 'hold' the pitcher and who bats and throws well would seem to have all the necessary requirements. As a matter of fact such attributes are rudimentary.

"Baseball, as it is played today, requires considerable cerebral activity, and it is in this department of the game that a catcher must show his worth. He usually signals to the pitcher what balls to pitch. Hence a catcher can break up the 'hit-and-run game' if he can detect when it is about to be played. He gives the pitcher the 'pitch out' sign, the ball is thrown two feet away from the plate, where it cannot possibly be hit, and the base runner is thrown out.

"In a certain sense a catcher is a mind reader. He notes how a player stands at the plate and how he holds his bat. He makes his deductions and then signals for the unexpected. He watches his pitcher to see that he keeps cool at critical stages. If there is any sign of nervousness, he signals very calmly and slowly so that there will be no case of rattles.

"A catcher, in fact, holds the key to the whole situation. Without a catcher with good judgment the team might just as well be in the 'Desert league.' The catcher signals not alone the pitcher, but the fielders. A spectator will many a time see a fielder shift his position. Well, that is from a catcher's sign. The latter will signal for an out curve or a straight ball, and it is the fielder's place to 'lay' for the ball.

"The catcher is, in fact, the head of the game. He knows more about what is going on than any one else. The pitcher delivers the kind of a ball the catcher asks for, and it is a poor twirler who will not depend on the receiving end of the battery.

"A heady man behind the wind pad means much to a team.

Playing the Infield.

"Including the pitcher, the infield consists of five men, and if they play well together they are a big factor in winning games. This team work, as it is called, is acquired when the players know the capabilities of one another and have confidence in their ability. For instance, if the first base man knows that the pitcher will cover first base on all balls hit toward right field, he has no hesitation about going after [illegible] extreme right.

"Oftentimes he can stop hard hit balls that could not be handled by the second base man, but if the pitcher was not covering first base it would look as though the first base man was trying to cover too much ground and had made a stupid play. A few such plays would make the first base man too cautious to get the best results out of balls hit toward him.

"Another illustration will suffice to show the value of the playing together that makes a successful infield. With a man on second base, the batsman bunts toward third base, and the base runner starts to steal, both at the same moment. The third base man sees the runner coming and covers the bag. The pitcher should field the ball, but if he hesitates it is too late to catch either man, and the third base man gets the blame for the 'bull.'

To Prevent Blunders.

"A complete understanding among the infielders prevents such blunders, and, while such plays look easy in theory, they are among the most difficult feats performed on the diamond.

"The correct position to assume in handling ground hits often worries young players. Some always try to keep their feet together, thinking that the ball cannot get past them when in that position. Better action can be secured with the feet apart, for if the ball is not picked up cleanly there is usually no chance to get the runner, and with the feet together it is difficult to keep one's balance."

"Mugsy" McGraw's Troubles.

The ever turbulent "Mugsy" McGraw, captain-manager and general Pooh Bah of the Baltimore Americans, has been having more than his share of trouble this year, and he is staying awake nights in an endeavor to conjure a scheme to haul the Orioles to the top of the first division. McGraw's team thus far has been a disappointment to himself and his followers, and the fault can truthfully be said to lie with himself. "Rough house" tactics are unpopular everywhere, and the sight of a captain and manager being ruled out of games because of an ambition to become the "king scrapper" of the national game does not tend to instill confidence and ambition in the rank and file of a team. Then, again, the encouragement of contract breaking is not a particularly admirable practice, and McGraw should not expect much sympathy because of the loss of the great leapfrog player, Jimmy Sheckard.

But "Mugsy" is a good ball player—do not mistake that. He knows the grand old game as do few others, and he plays to win at all times. When the season ages a bit and the first flush of enthusiasm has passed, McGraw will probably calm down and become a good boy. And that is what all baseball devotees want to see, the genuine article of baseball, clean and fast. One would naturally suppose that "Mugsy" would have learned by this time the futility of trying to intimidate umpires. It is an old dodge and never did any one good. The holder of the disks will "square the deal" sooner or later, and the sooner the ball tossing fraternity recognizes this the better.

The Giants' New Captain.

George Smith, the new captain of the New York club, has had baseball experience that should be of value to him in helping to pull the team out of the rut it is in at present. Smith captained the Rochester club of the Eastern league last season, and his team won the pennant. It was known as the Bucking Bronchos and was the most strenuous and aggressive team in the league. Smith will not make the mistake of being too gentle with his men on the field. His experience with the Bronchos taught him better than that.

Smith is intelligent; therefore he will hardly run away with the idea that he is the brightest captain the New Yorks have ever had. He is young, but has doubtless heard of Johnny Ward and Buck Ewing and will rather strive to emulate those great baseball generals than to underrate them.

"No," answered her husband. "What?"

"You'd growl because you had nothing to growl about."—Chicago Post.

THE SMALL TALK OF THE PLAYHOUSES.

Matters of Interest to Admirers of Stage Folk—A Successful New Star—The Season Just Ended.

The theatrical season in this city may be said to have ended, although there are naturally a few attractions which will hold on until the continued hot weather literally forces them to close their doors. A notable feature of the present summer is the small number of roof garden ventures. Time was not so many years ago when every theater either had a roof garden or was trying to arrange for one. These ventures seldom paid, and now only those theaters which by the nature of things cannot afford to close up altogether go in for these heterogeneous summer entertainments.

More misstatements have probably been made about this season than about any other of the last decade. It has been widely reported that it has been a veritable wonder in the matter of heavy receipts, whereas the truth is that, while attractions of the highest class and those of the greatest magnitude have undoubtedly done well, many of the offerings which ordinarily would have made a great deal of money have turned out poorly. In a great measure this is as it should be but for the fact that along with the unworthy many worthy enterprises have suffered.

Sneer as you will, laugh at the incompleteness of their productions, declare that they are as at present conducted a hindrance rather than an aid to the American drama, ridicule the hoary chestnuts which are too often presented, there can be no gainsaying the fact that the stock system has grown wonderfully in this country during the last few years.

The most violent attacks of stock fever occur in summer. This is natural, for the reason that during the heated term managers are able to secure for a reasonable consideration the services of persons the mere mention of whose salaries for the winter season would suffice to throw them into convulsions.

It is also a fact that most of the worthy local organizations succeed. Where there is failure it is nearly always due either to poor judgment in the selection of a field of operations or to worse business management or shiftless productions after the city has been chosen. I have in mind one case where a firm of New York managers engaged a rather high priced company for a certain city that would have to make a terrific effort to support a 10-20-30 repertory show for one week. Their intention was to play this city during the entire summer. A definite date for opening was set, and everything was going swimmingly along toward bankruptcy when the managers were saved in spite of themselves.

"Advances on salary" are as much a part of a theatrical engagement as the signing of contracts. In fact, they are usually of much greater consequence, for they represent something tangible, which the contracts do not. When, therefore, some of the important members of the organization in question airily asked for "a little something on account" and learned that the management was not in a position to grant their requests, they immediately "smelled a mice" and very naturally quit in a body.

During the past theatrical season Adelaide Thurston accomplished the unusual in dramatics. Without the supposed advantage of a "New York indorsement" Miss Thurston enjoyed a most prosperous season, thus disposing of a hoary theatrical adage. When theatrical managers come to a realization of the fact that the much abused and so called "provincials" do not care a snap of their fingers what New York thinks of a play or a player, they will save themselves much worry, trouble and cash. What New Yorkers run wild over rarely pleases the denizens of the smaller towns, for the reason that the surfeited citizens of the metropolis require highly seasoned and fleshy entertainment. This sort of thing serves but to disgust the quiet and reposeful inhabitants of the smaller cities. Miss Thurston's success then establishes a precedent which other managers than her own should follow. If they have good plays and clever players, the "provinces" will find them out and reward them accordingly.

Miss Thurston's play for next season is "At Cozy Corners," a comedy drama by the authors of "Sweet Clover." Miss Thurston tried "At Cozy Corners" in the spring and found it admirably suited to her abilities.

Word Blindness.

Some curious instances of the physical defects of "word blindness" are given in the Lancet. The disease is fortunately uncommon. In one case the sufferer, an Englisman, thirty-four years of age, who knew Greek, Latin and French well, suddenly lost all knowledge of English, though he could read and understand Greek perfectly and Latin and French in a rather smaller degree. Another and almost more curious case was that of a man who lost the power of reading at sight. This patient was able to write accurately from dictation, but was completely unable to read what he had written. Word blindness is apparently akin to color blindness, but is certainly attended by much more inconvenient consequences.

Odd Plants.

"What an inquiring mind Miss Lightly has!" exclaimed the cynic. "We were at an Italian table d'hote last evening, and she said, with a very kittenish air: 'Oh, did you ever see macaroni growing? I should think a whole field of those lovely white stalks would be too awfully pretty.'"

"What did you say, old man?" said his partner.

"Oh, I just said no, that I had never come nearer to it than seeing a bread tree in flower."

Then the partner stepped to the telephone, and they carried the cynic home in the ambulance.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Bit of John Bright's Sarcasm.

A noble lord once said on the occasion of Mr. Bright's illness that Providence was punishing him for misuse of talents by inflicting a disease of the brain. The following was Mr. Bright's sarcastic rejoinder when he resumed his seat: "It may be so, but in any case it will be some consolation to the friends and family of the noble lord to know that the disease is one which even Providence could not inflict upon him."

Missed the Lob. Barrel.

Considerable amusement was caused when the legislature first went into session by a member from the counties arriving and promptly asking to be shown the lobby.

When that place was pointed out to him, he nosed around for awhile and then remarked in the hearing of some bystanders:

"I've been fooled!" he declared disgustedly. "They tole me I could find a bar'l of money loose in the lobby, but I see now thet it's a dinged lie!"—Baltimore Herald.

THE CORONATION SHOW

How King Edward Will Be Invested With the Symbols of Sovereignty

AS the time approaches for the coronation of King Edward VII. of England interest in the ceremonies which will attend that great event increases. The coronation possesses in great degree the quality of novelty, since few persons now living remember the time when an English monarch was crowned before.

King Edward has spent much time in acquainting himself with his part in the ceremony. He found upon examination that the rites and forms provided were likely to prove too great a task upon his strength and patience, and so by his order the ceremony has been much condensed.

But notwithstanding the revision which has been made by the king's direction the coronation probably will be the most elaborate ceremonial which has taken place anywhere in the world within the memory of the present generation. So Thursday, June 26, will be a day long to be remembered by King Edward's loyal subjects as well as the multitudes of strangers from all quarters of the earth.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY, WEST FRONT.

The proceedings at Westminster abbey are likely to prove very trying to his majesty, especially if the day be warm. Here is what the king will wear when he takes the coronation chair: The imperial or dalmatic robe. This is a three cornered mantle, fashioned like a cope. One side is about three and a half yards in length, to cover the shoulders and hang down in front. The other sides slope into a train reaching about a foot upon the ground. It is made of rich cloth of gold. The outside is shot with gold and embroidered with gold and silver flowers edged with purple. The lining is of crimson taffeta, and the fastening is a broad gold clasp.

Then there is the supertunica, a surcoat, with plain sleeves, of cloth of gold tissue, ornamented with golden flowers, brocaded and frosted.

DR. TEMPLE, THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.
[Who officiates at the coronation.]

The armilla, or stole, is placed about the king by the archbishop. This vestment is made of the same material as the supertunica.

The colobium sindonis, or surplice, is the last garment to be put upon the king after he is anointed. It is made of very fine white cambric.

The form of the procession to the choir of the abbey will almost exactly follow the form at the coronation of Queen Victoria. In the procession every nobleman's coronet is borne after him by a page and every royal lady's coronet by an earl's eldest son.

The interesting—one might almost say dramatic—features of the service begin very soon after the king and queen have taken their seats in the chairs just before their thrones. The archbishop of Canterbury, accompanied by other high dignitaries, proceeds to the east side of the "theater" and in a loud voice cries:

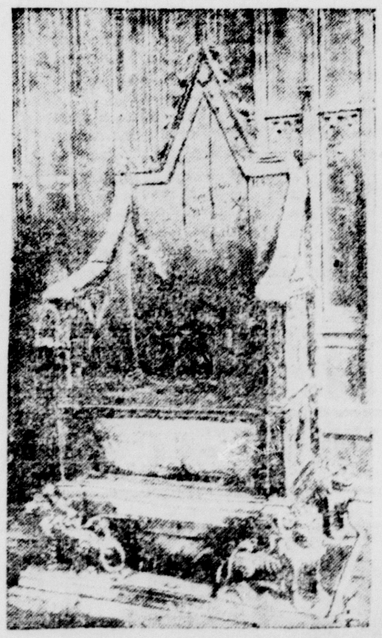

"Sirs, I here present unto you King Edward, the undoubted king of this realm. Wherefore all you who are come this day to do your homage, are you willing to do the same?"

Then the ancient abbey will resound with the shouts of all those present. The archbishop advances in turn to the other three sides of the theater and repeats his question, the people replying to each demand, "God save King Edward!" At the last recognition trumpets sound and drums beat.

After certain other formalities the king and queen kneel at the altar, and the litany is said. The coronation oath then follows. The next portion of the service, the anointing of the monarch, is about the most ancient feature of the coronation.

Then comes the investiture of the king with the various symbols of his sovereignty—the spurs, sword, armilla, mantle, orb, scepter with the cross, scepter with the dove and the ring.

After this the king sits in the famous old coronation chair and, amid the shouts of the people, the blowing of silver trumpets and the firing of guns from the Tower of London, the archbishop puts the crown upon his majesty's head. After the crowning the peers put on their coronets and the bishops their caps.

THE ANCIENT CORONATION CHAIR.

Then come the presenting of the Bible, the benediction and "Te Deum," the inthronization and the homage. During this ceremony the special coronation anthem, composed by Sir Frederick Bridge, organist of Westminster abbey, will be sung.

The ceremony of crowning the queen is very short. When that is ended, the holy communion is administered to their majesties, and after a procession into the Henry VII. chapel, when some of the regalia is laid aside, the ceremonies are at an end.

In the matter of decorations and illuminations London intends to surpass all previous records. The idea is to make the decorations in the city of an old style character, so that the streets of that part of London in which the procession takes place will present an appearance similar to that which they bore in the days of Queen Bess. All over the kingdom on coronation night bonfires and illuminations will blaze.

Toad Stones.

Most readers have no doubt heard of the precious jewels which the toad carries in his brain box, and so called toadstones, which were in reality the teeth of fossil fish, were formerly worn in finger rings as a protection against poison.

It was thought that the best stones were those voluntarily ejected by the living toads; but, as the latter were not addicted to freely giving up their treasures in that way, it was necessary to procure the coveted articles by other means, and the recognized method was to decapitate the hapless batrachian at the instant he swallows his breath. The feat naturally demanded considerable celerity, such as could only be acquired by constant practice, and it is not reasonable, therefore, to assume that, although the endeavors to gain possession of the jewels were perhaps numerous, they must have invariably been unsatisfactory, especially to the toads.

A HELPING HAND

Is Gladly Extended by an East Liverpool Citizen.

There are many enthusiastic citizens in East Liverpool prepared to tell their experience for the public good. Testimony from such a source is the best of evidence and will prove "a helping hand" to scores of readers. Read the following statement:

Mr. G. H. Garner, the well known manufacturer of ice cream at 168 Jackson street, says: "My trouble set in with a soreness and stiffness over my whole body; my appetite was poor, and I was annoyed a good deal with bloating at the stomach. There was a urinary difficulty, and I felt generally used up. I tried two or three different remedies, but they did not do me the least good. Having heard Doan's Kidney Pills so highly spoken of, I purchased a box at the W. & W. pharmacy. I did not take over half of it before I was entirely free from any trouble, my appetite was good, and my old time vigor restored. I recommended them to many of my friends, among them P. J. Green, V. S., and they all speak of them in the highest terms."

Caution!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase for 75c the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the treatment and cure of consumption and throat and lung troubles without losing its great popularity through all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds, perhaps, but for severe coughs, bronchitis, croup—and especially for consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the night and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. Sold by all druggists in the civilized world.

EDWARD VII'S HOME

BUCKINGHAM PALACE, THE ROYAL RESIDENCE IN LONDON.

Ancient Home of the Georges Again the Scene of the Gorgeous Functions of the Court of St. James. Additions and Improvements.

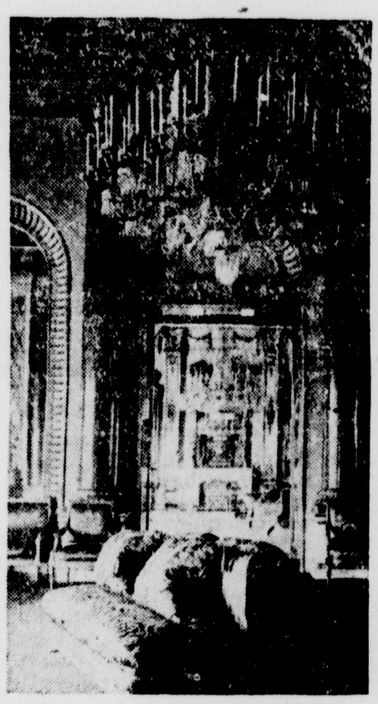

Buckingham palace, from which the gorgeous coronation pageant will start for Westminster abbey and to which it will return after Edward VII. has been crowned, is to be the future home of England's king. Marlborough House, so long his residence, will probably go to the Prince of Wales.

During Queen Victoria's reign, especially after the death of the prince consort, the silence and somberness of Buckingham were rarely broken by visits of her late majesty, but with the coming of Edward VII. and his queen the stately palace has been reawakened and transformed.

For some months a large force of workmen has been at work preparing for the reception of the new monarch. One huge wing has been entirely remodeled, its old fashioned rooms giving place to more modern and useful apartments. Decorative artists have been busily at work in beautifying the king's private apartments. Among other improvements in the new wing are several elevators, and the building throughout is now lighted with electricity.

Buckingham palace stands on the site of the mansion built in 1705 on crown land for John Sheffield, duke of Buckinghamshire. George III. purchased the property from the natural son of the duke, Sir Charles Sheffield, in 1762, and settled it upon Queen Charlotte. In those days it was known as the Queen's House. In 1825 George VI. commissioned his favorite architect, Nash, to practically rebuild the Queen's House and make of it an abode more in keeping with his somewhat florid taste. When Queen Victoria came to the throne, Blore, the architect, vastly improved the structure.

Buckingham palace, as it exists today, is but little known to King Edward's subjects outside that small circle which includes the court, the diplomats, the favored guests of state ball, concert or garden party, and the debutantes who crowd there for presentation. To them the beautiful gardens that stretch to Hyde Park corner, between Grosvenor place and Constitution hill, are familiar, as well as the carving and gilding, the mirrors and the marbles.

The throneroom, where presentations take place, saw but little change during the long rule of Victoria the Good. The crimson of the walls, the heavy gilding of the ceiling, the great crystal chandeliers, are almost as they were in the forties, though electric light has superseded candles, and during her later years the queen occupied a chair of state instead of the more imposing throne before which it was placed.

The throneroom, which is only some sixty feet long, has a fine frieze by Stothard illustrating the wars of the roses. A room more worthy of admiration than the throneroom is the really beautiful drawing room, whose pillars of imitation onyx with their richly gilt capitals have a fine effect against the hangings and upholstery of blue brocade. Here are life size portraits of the queen and the prince consort painted soon after their marriage, and here above the doorway is a fine painting of three royal princesses in powder by Gainsborough.

The room familiar to the guests at state balls and concerts is large, handsome and heavy looking. A large organ occupies one end, in front of which a temporary orchestra finds a place on the occasion of a state concert. By daylight it is a somewhat gloomy apartment, but when the great gilt standards with their swarms of electric lights flash on uniforms, orders and dazzling jewels the scene is brilliant enough.

The picture gallery with its fine collection, principally of Dutch art, is well worthy of attention. Rembrandt, Vandyke, Hobbema, Rubens, Ruysdael, Teniers, Cuyp, Ostade, Terburgh, Gerard Douw, Paul Potter, all are represented in the collection.

Buckingham palace will in the future be the London abode of England's king, and the halls and salons so long silent will again be the scene of the brilliant functions of a royal court.

"LUCKY"

Is often the name given by careless and thoughtless people to those who are careful and thoughtful. "What a lucky woman," is said of one whose health and beauty proclaim her free from womanly diseases. The luck often consists in her having thoughtfully considered the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and proved its ability to cure the diseases peculiar to her sex.

"Favorite Prescription" is a reliable medicine for the cure of womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I had poor health for nine years," writes Mrs. Armintie Watkins, of Acme, Kanawha Co., W. Va. "Had female weakness, was very irregular and would suffer untold misery. Our family doctor did not do me any good and I concluded to write to you. When I wrote, I had no idea that I would ever get well, but when your letter reached me I began to have hope. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines as directed and began to improve in strength. I was soon able to do the work for my family of six. I took eight bottles, three of 'Favorite Prescription' and five of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of 'Pellets.'"

LIKELY NO TREATY.

Time Too Short to Prepare One to Submit to Congress This Session.

SPECIAL ONE ON ONLY SUGAR

Produced In Cuba, Not Probable, Either—High Official Expressed These Sentiments—Senate Caucus Took No Action Yesterday.

Washington, June 21.—The Republican senators held another conference yesterday on the question of Cuban reciprocity, and after three hours' discussion adjourned, subject to the call of Chairman Allison, without action. Almost all the Republican senators who are in the city were present. There were eight or nine speeches made in support of reciprocity, and only two in opposition to that policy. This was in accord with a previous understanding that as the beet sugar senators had monopolized the attention of the conference on Wednesday night their opponents yesterday should have the greater share of the time.

The speeches in support of the reciprocity bill were made by Senators Foraker, Beveridge, Lodge, Hale, Warren, Aldrich, McComas and Hanna, Senator Platt, of Connecticut, adding a few words to what he had said at Wednesday evening's meeting. The two speeches in opposition to the proposed legislation were made by Senators Burton and Burrows. The speeches for reciprocity were all along the same general line and without exception were pleas for legislation and for party harmony.

No Treaty Likely This Session.

The war department has been engaged for some time in the collection of the data requisite for the preparation of a reciprocity treaty with Cuba, should the president conclude to send such a treaty to the senate in the event of the failure of congress to grant relief by legislative enactment to the people of the island. It is not believed, however, to be probable that a treaty will be submitted during the present session of congress, mainly because of the physical impossibility of preparing a satisfactory and complete measure within the short time before adjournment is taken for the summer. A high official of the administration expressed these sentiments when spoken to on the subject last night, and in addition negatived the likelihood of a special treaty affecting only sugar produced in Cuba.

MAY AGREE ON CANAL BILL.

Report Gained Circulation—Hepburn Wouldn't Concede It.

Washington, June 21.—Soon after the house had sent the canal bill to conference yesterday reports gained circulation among members that there was not likely to be a protracted struggle in conference, and that the senate amendment probably would be the basis of the ultimate agreement. One of the house conferees, Mr. Fletcher, of Minnesota, frankly stated to his associates that he thought an agreement would be reached on the Panama amendment.

Chairman Hepburn was not prepared, however, to concede that the fight was over. He cited the fact that the vote in the house had been practically unanimous in favor of the Nicaragua bill, only two adverse votes being cast. The Democratic conferee, Judge Davey, of Louisiana, also was counted on as strongly favorable to the Nicaragua route. At the same time the lateness of the session and the prevailing desire to avoid further complications in the senate led to a rather general feeling among the members of the house that the senate amendment had something of an advantage in the conference.

Crozier Chief of Ordnance.

Washington, June 21.—Among the confirmations by the senate yesterday was this one: Captain William Crozier, ordnance department, to be chief of ordnance, with rank of brigadier general. The vote on the motion to confirm General Crozier was 44 to 12. The discussion of the nomination was again led by Senator Proctor in opposition to confirmation. Senators Warren, Pettus and Foraker made brief replies.

No Important Business In House.

Washington, June 21.—No business of importance was transacted by the senate yesterday in open session, except to agree to a conference report finally disposing of the military academy appropriation bill. Soon after the disposition of routine business the senate went into executive session, and at 3:10 p. m. adjourned until Mondey.

Encouraging Trade Reports From Interior and West—Labor Troubles Hurt Eastern Business.

New York, June 21.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part:

Trade at the east is quiet, owing to the advancing season, and the bad effect of prolonged labor controversies is being felt in certain lines. Reports from the interior and the far west are more encouraging, bountiful harvests being expected, while the light stocks carried over from the previous season assure profitable prices. The best indication of continued prosperity is the fact that quotations do not recede even in the lines where at present there is only a moderate degree of activity. Railway earnings thus far reported for June increased 3.9 per cent over 1900.

Uncertainty regarding their ability to secure pig iron at reasonable prices is making producers of steel cautious in accepting contracts that call for delivery at even remote dates. Raw material is undoubtedly in light supply, and the anthracite coal strike has suspended work at a number of furnaces. Coke productions is attaining new records each week in the endeavor to supply all requirements, and better railway facilities are making unprecedented shipments from the Connellsville region. Soft coal is beginning to show the effect of an abnormal demand. In certain lines of finished steel products the addition of new plants to the productive capacity has had a preceptible influence on prices, introducing more competition. This factor is felt in only a few divisions, however, and in all heavy lines, notably rails and structural material, orders run far into next year, and there is no question of concessions in quotations. Jobbers having a surplus of bar iron sold moderate quantities at a lower figure than the market rate, but steel bars are firmer.

Quiet conditions prevail in eastern drygoods and footwear markets. A stronger silver market has revived purchases for export to China, although, like the home trade, this is still on a moderate scale. Supplemental buying of woolens is also limited. It is noteworthy that prices in all textile lines are firmly held, despite the slow movement, indicating confidence on the part of sellers.

Lack of rain in the southwest is the only seriously unfavorable crop indication of the week, while exceptionally encouraging reports are received from most points. Domestic grain makes good progress, but bad news has been received from abroad, and the outlook is favorable for large exports.

Failures for the week numbered 191 in the United States, against 193 last year, and 19 in Canada, against 14 a year ago.

MARKET RATHER APATHETIC.

Speculative Liquidation No Longer In Evidence, Friday.

New York, June 21.—The speculative liquidation which broke prices Thursday was no longer in evidence Friday, but the market slipped back into a rather apathetic condition, the dealings dropping well below half a million shares again. Of this total a large proportion was concentrated in a few leading stocks, notably United States Steel, Missouri Pacific, St. Paul and the Wabashes. The evidence of support for United States Steel was an effective influence in steadying the market, as Thursday's sharp break in that stock had unsettled sentiment in the whole market. There was evidence of rebuying of stocks by the large interests which liquidated Wednesday and the day before. This served to relieve a latent feeling that the recent bull campaign had been a preliminary to a prolonged bear campaign. Yesterday's strength was restricted to a few points and was not very well maintained, the closing being dull and heavy. The southwesterns and St. Paul absorbed a large share of the strength. There were also movements in other stocks.

Reports by the banks of a gain on the interior currency movement up to Thursday night of over $3,000,000 gave rise to the hope of a favorable bank statement today, as the offsetting absorption by the sub-treasury for the same period was only $397,000.

There was an active demand for some of the southwestern railroad bonds. The market generally was irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,935,000.

MANY LIVES PROBABLY LOST.

Great Forest Fires In Washington. Town Threatened.

Tacoma, Wash., June 21.—The fire department of this city has sent men, engines and hose on a special train to Buckley, in this county, which is threatened with complete destruction by forest fires raging between that town and Enumclaw, King county. A great cloud of smoke hangs over Tacoma, 33 miles from Buckley. The mountain mill, two miles east of Buckley, was burned yesterday. Undoubtedly many lives of mountain campers and loggers have been lost.

PLANCHES STILL COMPLAINED.

He Wanted Both Sides of Venice Arrests Affair Made Public.

Washington, June 21.—Signor Mayor des Planches, the Italian ambassador, was again at the state and navy departments yesterday to consult the officials in regard to the publication of the findings of the court of inquiry which investigated the affair in which officers from the cruiser Chicago were involved at Venice. None of the principles in the conferences cared to make any statement as to the nature of them. Secretary Moody expressed his earnest regret to the ambassador that the findings had been made public and assured him that the officials at Washington were in no way responsible for and did not approve of it. The ambassador inclines to the view that both governments should make public the records of proceedings in the case. Secretary Moody, however, already had expressed his desire not to make the American court's record public and here the matter hangs in the balance. The ambassador will call at the state department today to confer with Secretary Hay, who was absent when he called yesterday. Until then Signor Mayor did not care to make any formal statement as to what course he intends to pursue.

Respecting the propriety of the publication of the report of the court of inquiry by Admiral Crowninshield if indeed he did give it publicity, it is said at the navy department that unless specially enjoined as to the disposition of such a report, the commander-in-chief of a naval station always has been allowed to exercise his own discretion in such matters. So that as far as Admiral Crowninshield is concerned much depends on whether he was specially instructed to keep this report from publicity. The navy department itself has no hard and fast rule on the subject.

IGNORED SENATE'S ACTION.

House Firm on Army Bill—Philippine Measure Discussed.

Washington, June 21.—Debate on the Philippine civil government bill continued yesterday in the house from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., and at a session held last night. The speakers were given close attention, each side enthusiastically applauding its respective orators. Mr. Jones, of Virginia the ranking minority member of the insular affairs committee, concluded his speech begun Thursday. The other speakers were Messrs. Hamilton, of Michigan, and Kahn, of California, for the bill, and Mr. Patterson, of Tennessee, against it. Mr Kahn's speech was largely an interesting personal narrative of his experiences in the Philippines last summer. The isthmian canal bill was sent to conference after the senate amendment had been nonconcurred in. The house reiterated the position it had taken on the army appropriation bill by ignoring the action of the senate and sending the bill back to the senate after voting to adhere to its disagreement to the objectionable army post amendments.

Uniontown Branch Sold.

Uniontown, Pa., June 21.—H. D. Bulkley, controller of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, came here yesterday and purchased the Fayette County railroad from its owners. The road is the 12-mile branch between Uniontown and Connellsville. Mr Bulkley paid $150 a share for the 2,160 shares of stock, the par value of which is $50 a share. The company first offered $200 a share for a controlling interest, but the stockholders decided to stand together and sell all or none.

Chronic Diarrhoea.

This disease is generally regarded as incurable, mainly for the reason that the remedies usually employed are ineffectual. That it can be cured, however, has been fully proven in many cases. The following tells of one of them: Mr. T. W. Greathouse, of Prattsburgh, Ga., says: "I had been suffering from chronic diarrhoea for seven years. Last year I began taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and it has entirely cured me. I had spent lots of money for doctors' medicine in the run of of the seven years. If it had not been for this remedy I would have been dead now, and I feel that I can never say too much in its favor or recommend it too highly." Sold by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the imedicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

MOTHERHOOD is the noblest duty and highest privilege women can achieve or aspire to. Without this privilege women do not get all there is in life—too often they go through the world discontented, wrapped up in their own selfish cares and troubles. How different is the happy mother, watching her children grow into manhood and womanhood. A mother lives as many lives as she has children—their joys and sorrows are hers, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

Wine of Cardui, in re-inforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

WINE of CARDUI A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

SHOT FROM REVOLVER NEARLY PROVES FATAL

Two East End Boys Were Experimenting With the Weapon Which They Supposed Not to Be a Loaded One.

FRIENDS ARE HOPEFUL OF HIS RECOVERY

A most unfortunate accident occurred at the National pottery shortly after noon yesterday. It almost caused the death of Charles Ross, aged 17, a step son of John Hays, of Calhoun's addition. While the condition of the boy seems favorable to recovery, complications may arise that may prove fatal.

For some time Ross, who is employed as a handler at the National, and Joseph Mountford, of First avenue, who is employed at the same plant, had been talking of a hammerless revolver which was owned by Mountford, and which Ross intimated that he might purchase. Yesterday morning Mountford said he would bring the revolver back to the shop with him after dinner. This was done.

The boys looked the weapon over carefully, and Mountford commenced pulling the trigger. It snapped several times, and thinking there were no loads in the other chambers, he continued to snap the trigger. Great surprise was occasioned when a loud report was heard, indicating that a cartridge had been exploded. The ball entered Ross' right side just above the stomach.

P ss said that he was wounded and commenced to walk from the shop. Before he had gone far he became so weak that he could not continue the journey alone, and was assisted to Day's restaurant. There a physician was called, and a hasty examination made of the boy's injuries. It was found that the ball had broken a rib on the right side, and after passing through Ross' body lodged just under the skin on the left side. The condition of the boy was relieved as much as possible, and later he was removed to his home in the city ambulance.

Anoperation was performed on Ross last evening and the ball extracted. His condition was very low, however, and after the physicians had left the house Rev. D. W. McQuiston, pastor-elect of the Second U. P. church, was summoned and administered a baptismal service.

Matters were somewhat changed this morning, and at 10 o'clock the statement was made by relatives that his condition was much changed, and that the chances for his ultimate recovery seemed good. Another operation was performed on Ross this morning by Drs. Marshall and Hobbs.

The accident was the cause of the entire force of the turning shop quitting work yesterday afternoon. Everyone seemed so excited that no work could possibly be done. Young Mountford is so overcome with grief that he is confined to his room, and is said to be under the care of a physician. The relatives of Ross cast no blame upon Mountford.

THE CORONATION OF THE LAST EDWARD.

Edward VI, the last of his name before the present ruler of England to be crowned, ascended the throne just 355 years ago. His coronation pageant was, at the time, thought to be a very magnificent spectacle, but beside the one arranged for Edward VII it will seem like a rush light compared with a 2,000 candlepower electric light. Still, broadly speaking, fashions have changed in coronations less than in almost anything else that might be mentioned.

UNHAPPY WIVES AND HUSBANDS

Those Who Swore to Be Faithful Proved Otherwise and Divorce Suits Followed—Non-Support and Desertion Charged.

Lisbon, June 22.—(Special)—Emma Pentland, of Rogers, has been granted a divorce from Henry Pentland, of Moon Run, Pa. They were married in 1894 and have one child, Jessie, of whom the mother was given the custody. Wilful absence for three years and habitual drunkenness was proved. Mrs. Pentland also said that her husband struck and otherwise abused her.

Joseph McGarvey, of Madison township, was given a divorce from Inez McGarvey, yesterday. They were married in 1891 and have one child, Verna, aged 10, who has been adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Beach, of Charleston, W. Va. Mrs. McGarvey left her husband and went to Altoona, Pa., with Lyons Henry. The couple seem to have traveled considerably, and finally located in Charleston, where they lived for some months.

Leona Hepburn, of West Point, has been granted a divorce from Morris Hepburn. They were married three years ago and have one child, of whom the mother was given the custody. She testified that her husband accused her of lewdness, said he never wanted to marry her and that the child was not his; that he did not support or care for her, and left soon after the child was born.

SHARON AGAIN SUFFERS DEFEAT

Many Changes Made in the East Liverpool Line-Up After the Battle Was On—Visitors Scored a Home Run—Final Score 5 to 4.

How it came to pass that Manager Walsh's ball team won from the Sharon team yesterday is well nigh unexplainable. From the start of the game until the fifth inning there were positively so many changes made in the local line-up that the official scorer was never sure that he was crediting the right man when he tallied a put-out or an assist.

The confusion was due to one thing. Harked lay down at his home to take a short nap before going to the game and instead of waking when he intended he remained in dreamland until after 4 o'clock. With his eyes about half open he appeared on the field at the beginning of the fifth inning and then the last change in the line-up was made. He was placed at his old position. Trainor was put out of the game and as J. Hackathorn arrived early in the game the man who was substituted for him was also benched and the contest continued without further interruption.

The visitors entered the park with the detemination of wiping their antagonists off the baseball world. At least they were heard to intimate as much on the evening previous. One of them said: "Just think, an insignificant team like East Liverpool whipped us today. You can bet that they won't do it tomorrow. We will show them what playing baseball is as compared with the game that they put up."

Well, they did play a little better than on the first day, but they failed in carrying out their expressed intentions. That they were allowed to score the majority of their runs in the first inning was not due to their expert batting or smooth base running. It was the result of Winters becoming excited and going in the air. He let the first two men up take a walk. The fourth man to hold a stick smashed the ball with such force that it would have been going yet had it not collided with the side of the hill, near the laundry. Trainor went on a mad run for the ball but when he found it the man had made the first home run of the season.

Winters cooled down in a short time and made things very interesting for the boasters. In the eighth he was disheartened somewhat when Mc Aleese stepped up and landed one very close to the spot picked out by Kerr. Luckily it did not result disastrously. There happened to be no one on bases and but one run was scored. This was their last one. They meant well and tried hard, but to no avail.

The locals, taken as a whole, played steadily throughout, doing their best at all stages and never lost heart. They made their runs in the first, second and fifth innings, and it is safe to say that the result might have been different had they not luckily landed on Kane in a bunch.

Fred Heckathorn once more acquitted himself to the taste of all the fans. He is certainly making a record and glad his friends are, because no man ever played a harder game than he.

Davis made amends for all past erroneous playing and covered himself with glory. One run, one hit, two put outs and six assists were his limit.

NEW FLOURING MILL

FAULK BROS. WILL ERECT A LARGE ONE IN CHESTER.

Site Purchased On Which a Three-Story Mill Will Be Built.

Chester is to have a new industry, and one of which the citizens may well feel proud. It will be a flour and feed mill of the most modern design. Work upon the erection of the plant will be commenced within a few weeks.

The deal was closed yesterday by the Faulk Bros.' company for the purchase of a tract of land near Fourth street, Chester, from J. E. McDonald, the consideration being in the neighborhood of $3,000. This land is between the Panhandle railroad and the street railway tracks, immediately back of the tool house of the railway company, and measures 100x140 feet. It is upon this site that the company will erect a modern three-story frame flour mill, which in reality will be the only modern mill of that character in the county. Employment will be given to a number of men, and the plant is expected to be in operation within the next four months.

S. J. Faulk, president of the company, when seen today, said: "We will commence excavating as soon as possible, and you must remember that it takes some time to build a modern mill of that kind. We will lose no time, however, in the erection of the mill, and will carry on practically the same kind of business that we have been doing here."

REVEALS SAD STORY

A Mother's Efforts to Keep a Secret Failed and Her Home Was Wrecked.

A letter written to a woman in New Cumberland by the matron of the Home for the Friendless in Cincinnati appears to have provoked a sensation in the latter city, according to the Cincinnati Post. The matron, Mrs. G. A. Kruse, has been discharged, as a result of the letter. It appears that the New Cumberland woman is toiling to keep the family and hide her daughter's shame. Mrs. Kruse admits having sent letters asking for money and threatening to send the girl's babe to her parents, and says she was authorized by one of the board of lady managers.

The West Virgina woman kept the knowledge of her daughter's fall from her husband. When he found Mrs. Kruse's letter he left his home. The wife had been supporting the family during her husband's long illness.

COAL LANDS UNDER LEASE

Deal Completed by a Syndicate for 20,000 Acres in Jefferson County.

WILL EMPLOY THOUSANDS

George W. Runyon, of Wellsville, and Thomas Bracken, of New York, have completed options on 20,000 acres of coal lands in Jefferson county for a New York syndicate and have signed papers for long leases on most of the property. They intend to develop the district and to sink several shafts before autumn.

Mr. Runyon made a deal Friday with Job Evans, of Youngstown, to make a series of drills with his coal testing machinery.

There are several veins in the top stratum being an outcropping and there is coal of different thickness and varying quality to a depth of 250 feet. It is the lower strata that will probably be worked, but the testing apparatus will be used to find out at what depth n the several portions of the district the best coal may be obtained.

The syndicate intends to work the leases thoroughly and will employ several thousand miners during the winter. Assurances have been given the company by the Wabash railroad that a route has been decided on through the region of the syndicate's coal leases so that shafts may be sunk along both the Wabash and Pennsylvania tracks.

Mr. Evans has agreed to begin his test bores July 1.

DAUCHTERS OF LIBERTY

Program Arranged for Their State Convention Here Early Next Week.

The eighth annual Ohio session of the Daughters of Liberty will be held in this city on next Tuesday and Wednesday. On Monday evening a reception will be given to the visiting delegates by the local councils, including a literary and musical program. On Tuesday evening a trolley ride has been arranged by the East End council, to be followed by a social in the hall in the East End. On Wednesday evening there will be an outing at Rock Springs park.

There will be present from 60 to 70 delegates, representing 35 councils, from all parts of this state. The councils in charge has spared neither trouble nor expense to make this one of the most pleasant sessions ever held.

The meetings and reception will be held in the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall over the postoffice.

A SETTLEMENT

OF TRENTON SANITARY WARE MATTER REACHED.

Conference Between Committee Reported to Have Terminated Satisfactorily.

Information has been received in the city stating that the conference at Trenton between the committees representing the sanitary manufacturers and the representatives of the Brotherhood, terminated last evening, as was predicted in this paper at the time, and that all matters had been settled to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Mr. Duffy is expected to return to the city this afternoon.

An Interesting Controversy.

There is an interesting controversy on between City Solicitor Boyd and Contractor Harrison Rinehart over the taking of gravel from lower Front street. The contractor says he has a right to get gravel there, having permission from the city. The solicitor says Rinehart must not dig the bank and will get Engineer Leith's opinion, and Rinehart must abide by it.

Y. M. C. A. Cadets Drill.

The military company of the Y. M. C. A. met last evening and drilled a few hours under command of Drillmaster McLane. The election of officers was postponed until the next meeting to be held on Friday evening, June 27.

CONFERENCE TO BE ARRANGED

Communication Setting Forth This Decision Sent to Secretary Duffy.

An answer from the Western Manufacturing Potters' association has been forwarded to Secretary Thomas J. Duffy, of the National Brotherhood of Operative potters, in reference to the communication that was sent to the manufacturers by Mr. Duffy. The reply was received at the Brotherhood headquarters yesterday and in substance says that the conference committee representing the manufacturers is willing to meet the representatives of the Brotherhood at a date that is to be mutually agreed upon.

President Albert S. Hughes, of the N. B. of O. P., today admitted having received the communication from the manufacturers, but further he would not talk.

Joseph G. Lee, president of the manufacturers' assiciation, had nothing to say concerning the communication, saying he was not a member of the committee.

The time for the conference will probably be settled during the coming week, and the sessions are likely to be held some time during the week following.

PETTY THIEVES ACTIVE

Several Recent Complaints—Pottery Loses $25 Worth of Brass and Iron.

Petty thieves have started their work again in this city. Several reports of their work have reached the police lately, and Chief Thompson has ordered that a strict watch be instituted for the guilty parties.

An employe of the C. C. Thompson Pottery company this morning reported that $25 worth of brass and iron was stolen from the pottery last night.

A NEW THEATER FOR THIS CITY

KENTUCKIANS WANT A SITE FOR AN OPERA HOUSE.

Will Build It If Satisfied With Price and Location.

It is very probably that East Liverpool will soon have another opera house. From the following letter written to City Clerk Davidson by Smith & Coralt, theatrical managers of Newport, Ky., it will be seen that if suitable terms can be secured the building will be erected at once:

"My Dear Sir—We have under consideration the erection of a first-class opera house in your city, and we desire an available location. If you will put us on to several sites suitable for that purpose and give prices for the same, you will confer a favor that will be properly returned. We have heard from traveling managers that an up-to-date house is needed in your city and when this is an assured fact the best theatrical attractions will surely follow."

Mr. Davidson has some very appropriate locations in mind, and will notify the gentlemen immediately. The sites that he will recommend are central, being within a block of the Diamond.

Brooks-Woods.

Miss Rebecca F. Brooks and Edward J. Woods were married on Thursday evening by Rev. C. G. Jordan at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. R. Caldwell. The happy couple immediately departed for Cleveland, where they will make their home. The groom's former home was at Lafayette, Ind. The bride is well known and popular here.

A Fire in the Night.

A coal house at the rear of Mrs. S. A. Rigby's home between Market and Jackson streets was burned to the ground last night shortly after 11 o'clock. The firemen and a large crowd collected and in a few moments had adjoining buildings safe. Loss $40.

LIMITED CREDIT

Grocers Decided That Customers Must Settle Every Two Weeks.

At the meeting of the Grocers' association held on Thursday evening decisive steps were taken to solve several difficult problems which have been before local merchants and especially the grocers. The committee appointed to report on the credit system studied the matter over considerably and the suggestion presented was heartily indorsed by the association.

According to the adopted report no person who is in debt to a grocer will be given credit by another and hereafter the credit of all will be limited to two weeks.

BUCHHEIT A PRISONER IN THE COUNTY JAIL

John Buchheit arrived in the city last night from Akron, and visited his son, Edward, in his cell at central police station. The meeting of father and son was very affecting.

The result of their conversation is not known, but the elder Buchheit stated to the police that he was not in a position to go on his son's bond for so large an amount as $5,000, and in consequence the mayor ordered the prisoner taken to the county jail at Lisbon this morning. Officer Morris and Peter Laughlin were given custody of the prisoner and Mary Milliron, the most important witness in the case, and they left for Lisbon at 9 o'clock.

Prosecutor Brookes states that the special grand jury will be in session next Thursday and that Buchheit's case will be presented on that day.

EAST END

P. H. C. RECEPTION

The Hall Crowded With Visitors and Members of the Order. Enjoyable Program.

A more pleasant gathering was never witnessed in the East End than at the reception given by the Eureka circle of the Protected Home circle, in its hall in the East End last evening. The spacious room was crowded with visiting members of the order and their families, while a good representation of the other lodges meeting in the East End was also present.

During the evening a number of addresses were made, and later in the evening luncheon was served. The affair was a most enjoyable one, and a success in every particular.

New Summer Cars Soon.

The East Liverpool railway company has completed the work of placing a turn table at the eastern terminus of the line, and it will not be long until the company will place the summer cars on the line. Work was begun this morning constructing the second switch just east of the trestle, and a force of men are repairing the tracks on Mulberry street.

New Pastor to Preach.

Rev. D. W. McQuiston, pastor-elect of the Second United Presbyterian church, will conduct the usual services at the church tomorrow. He arrived in the East End yesterday, and is now at the residence of Mrs. Pittinger, First avenue. His family will not come to this city for several weeks.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

In a six inning game at Columbian park last evening the East End Athletics defeated the Parrots by a score of 4 to 3. The batteries were Hartzell and Burns; Lake and Wheatley.

Sheridan Mullins, aged 7, is critically ill at the home of his parents near Columbian park.

An electric traction brake will soon be placed on one of the cars of the East Liverpool railway company. It will be the same design that has been used on several of the cars on the Rock Springs line for several weeks.

Rheumatism

What is the use of telling the rheumatic that he feels as if his joints were being dislocated?

He knows that his sufferings are very much like the tortures of the rack.

What he wants to know is what will permanently cure his disease.

That, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It promptly neutralizes the acid in the blood on which the disease depends, completely eliminates it, and strengthens the system against its return. Try Hood's.

COLORED K. OF P.

C. & P. DOUBLE TRACK

Contractor Stringer at Work on a Portion of it at Freeman.

Toronto, O., June 21.—(Special)—T. J. Stringer, of Portland, yesterday began his contract at Freeman's Station for building a portion of the C. & P. double track, as well as making fills 50 feet wide for a new country road extending from above Freeman's Station to Elliottsville, a distance of nearly one mile. Some years ago the C. & P., in changing the grade of the track, so encroached on the country road that but a narrow passage was left, and it has been known as a most dangerous place for travelers along the highway. The Jefferson county commissioners, after long litigation, finally won their case against the railroad company and compelled it to make a suitable road at this point.

The laying of the railway track, too, at this point will connect sidings nearly all the way from above Empire to Markle, below Toronto, a distance of seven miles, and as it is the policy of the C. & P. officials to connect all siding along the river division, forming a second track, the connctions between Torinto and Steubenville will not require many long grades, and further the double tracking movement, now begun at different points along the C. & P. river division.

BOOMING COAL DISTRICT

Numerous New Mines In Jefferson County, With New Railroads.

The Bergholz coal district, along the line of the Lake Erie, Alliance & Southern railroad, is booming now, says Oliver Roseberry, of New Cumberland, who has for the past two years been taking many options in coal lands in that section, and has recently secured a large number. The Ohio and Pennsylvania Coal company is now operating its new mine already opened, and has begun the opening of another, while a third mine opening is contemplated.

Along the new extension of the L. E. A. & S., towards Dillonvale, in the southern end of Jefferson county, there will be quite a number of mines opened by Messrs. Willard and others. The work of laying track on this new extension is progressing with vigor, the grading also being complete so far as Dillonvale, where the route will for the present be connected by siding with the W. & L. E. road for exchange of traffic.

The survey is progressing on the L. E. A. & S. for its extension from Dillonvale to Wheeling. Should this latter work be fully consummated the L. E. A. & S. will be quite a rival of the W. & L. E. for the coal traffic in Jefferson county up to the great lakes.

NEGROES HANGED FOR MURDER.

Each of Them Had Killed a Man, Previous to Crime.

Elliott City, Md., June 21.—Frank Jones and John Johnson, the negro murderers of Israel Radetsky, a Hebrew peddler, were hanged yesterday morning. Radetsky was shot and then beaten to death with pick handles and robbed on March 4, at Hollofields. Jones confessed afterwards and Johnson denied all knowledge of the crime.

Johnson made two attempts at suicide last week, after confessing that he killed John Harman in Anne Arundel county a year ago. He feigned insanity several times after his arrest. Johnson also killed a fellow convict in the Kentucky penitentiary and escaped while serving a term of 21 years.

ATTEMPT AT LYNCHING.

Young Man Probably Fatally Shot by One of Three Italians.

New Kensington, Pa., June 21.—David James and John C. Arb, striking miners from Creo Dell, yesterday afternoon approached three Italians, who got off a train, to persuade them to stay from the mines. The Italians, misunderstanding, assaulted the two men. Frank James, seeing the assault, ran to his father's assistance. Dominick Sandolf shot him, probably fatally. Citizens caught them and turned them over to officers. Last night a mob tried to lynch them, while they were at the station, to be taken to Greensburg jail. The officers finally got them out of the station and to the borough lockup.

Anti-Trust Law Declared Void.

Chicago, June 21.—In a decision given yesterday Judge Elbridge Hanecy, of the state circuit court, held that the Illinois anti-trust law of 1891 is unconstitutional and void in all its parts. He ordered a finding in favor of the defendant in the case of the people, on relation of the attorney general, against the Butler Street Foundry and Iron company.

College Boat Races Today.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 21.—This afternoon the big college regattas will take place here. There will be three races, the four-oared race, the freshman race and the 'varsity race. The six college crews which will take part are from Pennsylvania, Cornell, Wisconsin, Columbia, Georgetown and Syracuse.

Her Cooking.

She—You say she won three husbands by her cooking?

He—That's what she did.

"But how did she get rid of the husbands after she won them?"

"Oh, I believe her cooking had something to do with that too."—Yonkers Statesman.

The Motto That Suited.

"It would be helpful to you," said the prison visitor, "if you could take some motto and try to live up to it."

"That's right," replied the convict. "I'd like to select, for instance, 'We are here today and gone tomorrow.'"

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

George Meredith, the English poet, will have an honorary degree conferred upon him shortly by the University of Wales.

Israel Zangwill has been the object of another distinction. The Bucharest Hebrews have just formed a new Zionist society and have given it the name of the author of "The Children of the Ghetto."

Francis M. Handley, once a chamberlain to Pius IX. and Leo XIII. and now a citizen of the United States, has just finished a bust of his daughter-in-law in Milwaukee, where he is now living. This is the first art work he has done for twenty years.

Sidney Cooper, R. A., the animal painter, bequeathed his last picture to the corporation of Canterbury, the town of his birth, where he founded an art school and museum. The picture is to be placed in the Sidney Cooper art gallery, which is also willed to Canterbury.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL.

The City of Mexico in its great preparatory school has replaced Latin by English and made it a four years' obligatory course.

Beecher hall, built in 1829 by Yale men and named in honor of Lyman Beecher, is still standing on the grounds of Illinois college at Jacksonville.

John Henry Sheldon Lee, assistant state's attorney for Cook county, Ill., has been appointed professor of criminal law and criminal procedure in the Northwestern university law school.

President Hadley of Yale university denies that an offer of $8,000 a year had been offered to Barrett Wendell, professor of English at Harvard, to come to Yale to accept a full professorship of English composition and Elizabethan literature.

A SKIFF STOLEN

Disappeared From Walker and Was Found Far Down the River.

A valuable skiff belonging to A. E. McDonald, of this city, was stolen from McDonald's landing, opposite Walker, Wednesday evening. Yesterday Mr. McDonald received a telegram from C. H. Breen, ferryman at Freeman's landing, W. Va., which stated that the skiff was in his possession and that he would hold it for him.

Mr. McDonald believes the boat was taken by a confederate of the man who escaped from Chester jaid. He offers $20 for the arrest of the thief.

HONORS FOR MARLBOROUGH

King Confers the Order of the Garter on the Young Duke.

The most noble Order of the Garter, which King Edward has just conferred on the Duke of Marlborough, is the highest honor of British knighthood. The Order of the Garter was founded by King Edward III. about 1348 and ranks as the most illustrious of its kind. The order is limited to twenty-five knights companions, chosen, with hardly any exception, from the British nobility, together with the sovereign and the Prince of Wales. There are, however, extra knights, who include princes of the blood and foreign rulers and dignitaries, upon whom the king confers the honor.

When a vacancy occurs in the ranks of the twenty-five knights companions, the order may be conferred on any nobleman of the first rank who may be eligible, as in the present instance, or for distinguished political services, as in the case of Lord Kimberley, whom Marlborough succeeds. The Duchess of Marlborough is the daughter of W. K. Vanderbilt of New York.

Miss Florence Allan

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN WHO PRAISE PERUNA.

Worn Out And Nervous Regained Their Health And Beauty By Taking Peruna.

Miss Florence Allan, a beautiful Chicago girl, writes the following to Dr. S. B. Hartman concerning his catarrhal tonic, Peruna:

75 Walton Place, Chicago, Ill.

"As a tonic for a worn-out system, Peruna stands at the head in my estimation. Its effects are truly wonderful in rejuvenating the entire system. I keep it on hand all the time, and never have that 'tired feeling,' as a few doses always make me feel like a different woman."—Florence Allan.

Thousands of women suffer from systemic catarrh. This is sure to produce such symptoms as cold feet and hands, sick headache, palpitation of the heart and heavy feelings in the stomach.

Then begins a series of experiments. They take medicine for sick headache. They take medicine for nervous prostration, for palpitation of the heart, for dyspepsia. None of these medicines do any good because they do not reach the cause of the complaint.

Peruna at once mitigates all these symptoms by removing the cause.

Systemic catarrh is the trouble. Systemic catarrh pervades the whole system, deranges every organ, weakens every function. No permanent cure can be expected until the systemic catarrh is removed.

This is exactly what Peruna will do.

Miss Cullen Was Exhausted From Over Study.

Miss Rose Cullen, President of the Young Woman's Club, Butte, Montana, writes:

921 Galena street, Butte, Mont.

Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen—"Peruna has many friends in Butte. I cannot say too much in praise of it. While finishing school I became very nervous and exhausted from overstudy. I was weak and sick, and could neither eat, sleep nor enjoy life. A couple bottles of Peruna put new life in me. I find by having it in the house and taking a dose off and on it keeps me in fine health. A large number of my friends place Peruna at the head of all medicines."—Rose Cullen.

Peruna is especially adapted to protecting against and curing nervous diseases of run-down women, as the testimonial of Miss Cullen indicates.

Miss Blanche Myers, 3120 Penn street, Kansas City, Mo., has the following to say of Peruna:

"During each of the past four seasons I have caught a severe cold, when suddenly chilled after an evening party, and catarrh for several weeks would be the result. One bottle of Peruna cured me, and I shall not dread colds any more as I did."—Blanche Myers.

An excellent little treatise on "Health and Beauty," written especially for women, by Dr. Hartman, will be sent free to any address by The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio.

Gen. Lloyd Wheaton said in his last report before retiring from his Philippine command: "The humane code of the laws of war, as pursued during the administration of President Lincoln, was followed in all operations against semi-civilized insurgents, who habitually violated every law of war known to civilized nations and who treated their own people with every barbarity that can be inflicted upon the helpless. My service in these islands soon terminating, I wish to express my highest appreciation of the gallant conduct, the courage and humanity of the troops it has been my honor and good fortune to command. The officers deserve the gratitude of their countrymen and the men the gratitude and love of every patriotic American." The general stated that a firm and thorough policy against assassins and disturbers of order was all that was necessary to maintain peaceful conditions. All of which is respectfully submitted for the consideration of the little Americans who delight in picturing United States soldiers as brutes and savages.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Miss Josephine Rinehart, of this city, is visiting New Brighton friends for a few days.

Geo. C. Murphy left today for Cambridge Springs, Pa., where he will visit his wife over Sunday.

Miss Sadie Nowling has returned to her home in Beaver Falls after visiting her friend, Miss Anna Dunn, in this city, for three months.

Miss Maud Carr, of Forest street, returned from Wheeling at noon today. She attended the wedding of her cousin, Elizabeth Carr, now Mrs. J. W. Spidell.

Kinsman Boso and family, of Braddock, Pa., who has been visiting at the home of James B. McKibbon, in the East End, for the past week, returned to their home today. Mr. McKinnon's son Ebbert accompanied them and will visit a few days.

Spinach.

Spinach derives its name from the Spanish monks, who first used it during fast days. It belongs to the beet family and is generally served as a vegetable, although it makes a delicate and appetizing salad. In the spring, when mint is fresh and green, a few leaves added to the spinach will improve the flavor, whether it is served as a vegetable or a salad.

Couldn't Be Guilty of That.

"Never," said the person of good advice to the delicately nurtured Boston youth, "never say 'I can't.'"

"Indeed, sir," responded the intellectual lad, "I trust that my diction is not so open to criticism. If you will but be attentive to my conversation you will observe that I say 'cawn't.'"—Baltimore American.

The Onyx and Nightmares.

The onyx, so named on account of its resemblance to the finger nails, could scarcely have been a nice stone to wear, for, according to mediæval superstition, it rendered one particularly susceptible to annoyance from nightmares and demons.

Sugar In England.

By the way, brown sugar in England is considered the only respectable sugar to serve with coffee. Cut loaf sugar goes with tea, while our granulated is found only in the cheaper eating houses.

A Tennessee Tree.

Special Correspondence.

Wheeling, June 21.—The Riverside sanitary pottery is enjoying the busiest season it has had for many years. Every presser is making five closets a day, and owing to the condition of business it is said that the plant will not remain idle long during the early part of July. As many of the employes have homes in other parts, they have asked the firm for a two weeks' vacation, but it is not known whether this will be granted.

William White, James Atwell and Patrick Crogan, of the Riverside plant, have arranged to spend a few days at their former homes in Baltimore. It is stated that when Mr. White returns to Wheeling he will be accompanied by his bride.

U. S. Bennett, a presser at the Riverside, is planning a trip to East Liverpool, where he will spend a few weeks with his parents. He will be accompanied by his family.

Edward Pell, well known in East Liverpool, and formerly employed at Sebring, but now located at Wheeling, will spend a few weeks hunting in the Cheat mountains. He expects to leave within a few days.

George Cartridge, who has been operating a cup jigger at the Steubenville pottery, is now located at Wheeling.

Thomas Smith, late of Kikomo, Ind., is the latest arrival here. He is employed at the Riverside plant.

William Wilson, a popular presser at the Riverside, who has been unable to work for several weeks with illness, is recovering and will be able to resume his bench next week.

During the past week an eastern buyer spent several days in this city looking for nothing but novelties. That was all he wanted, just "something new." Finally one of the largest orders of the season was presented to a river firm, and the novelty he ordered just suited his business. This proves the statement that was made in this paper several weeks ago that many of the potteries of the city propose to go after new trade with an up-to-date line. There is no question in the minds of some manufacturers that something more than dinner and toilet ware must be made in the local potteries. Many believe in branching out, and some have already commenced to do it. In making a line of novelties the local potteries by pushing them will also be able to sell more staple ware.

It is almost definitely settled that many of the local potteries will close next Saturday evening for the summer shut down, remaining so for not more than two weeks. This decision has been sent out from the office of one of the largest potteries in the city, and the men are now planning all sorts of trips. Some of the manufacturers who have been seen state they do not care to express themselves as to when their plants will close, but it is the general belief that practically all the plants will shut down on next Saturday evening. During the shut down, which is expected to be brief, many repairs will be made about the shops, and improvements made wherever needed.

Gilders,' ground layers' and liners' local No. 19, at a meeting Thursday evening, elected the following officers for a term of six months: President, Albert Taylor; vice president, Frank Mackey; recording secretary, A. L. Seckerson; financial secretary, Miss Allum; one per cent secretary, Miss Lizzie Davis; treasurer, Mrs. Buchanan; inspector, William Heath; guard, Ernest Simpson; trustee for 18 months, Jack Tarr.

Judging from the manner in which work is progressing at the Laughlin No. 3, that new plant will be in full operation by July 15. There is a good force of workmen in the clay department. In the kiln department only one crew of bisque and one of glost kilnmen are employed. However, arrangements are being made to start additional crews soon, and when this is done the plant will be operated to its capacity.

The contract for the machinery that is to be placed in the new plant that will be built by the East Liverpool Brick Manufacturing company has been placed, having been secured by a Pittsburg firm. This machinery is the most modern made, and is said to have cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. It will be but a few weeks before work will be commenced excavating for the foundation of the new plant.

H. A. McNicol, of the Dresden pottery company, and Samuel Ferguson, of the East Liverpool Potteries company, who formed a committee to confer with mestern wanufacturers on matters pertaining to business considered at the recent meeting of the Western Manufacturing Potters' association, returned to the city last evening, having been absent just one week.

The clay grinding plant of the West Virginia Fire Clay company, opposite Toronto, operated by the Ballentyne Bros., of New Cumberland, by the addition of a new boiler and clay crusher has now been entirely rehabilitated with new machinery. Since its inception, some ten or twelve years ago, the growth of this plant in production and enlargement has been quite rapid.

The News Review has, within the past few days, completed the task of securing a capable correspondent in every town in which a pottery is located. News letters from a number of towns have already been published, and the pottery department of this paper, already the best, will be made still better henceforth.

The Black horse sewer pipe plant, owned by the American Sewer Pipe company, located below New Cumberland, has been completely remodeled, and large new tunnel dodgers for brick making put in; also a new Corliss engine and clay crusher, at a cost of $15,000.

Kilndrawers' union No. 17, at a meeting tonight, will elect officers for the new term. The first nominations were made last Saturday evening, and they will be closed this evening and the election held. Some other important business is also to be transacted.

William Haught, a clay maker at the East Palestine pottery, had the small finger of his right hand cut off while at work yesterday. He put his arm in the pug mill and the knives severed the finger.

The regular meeting of the Potters' Exchange was held this week, in the rooms of the Potters' club, but no business other than that of a routine nature was considered.

W. C. Smith, a glost kilnman at the Laughlin No. 3, who has been unable to work for several days on account of illness, returned to his bench yesterday.

C. A. Saunders, a buyer from Houston, Tex., has been spending several weeks in the city, placing some good business. He left today for the east.

Phinney's Farewell at Buffalo.

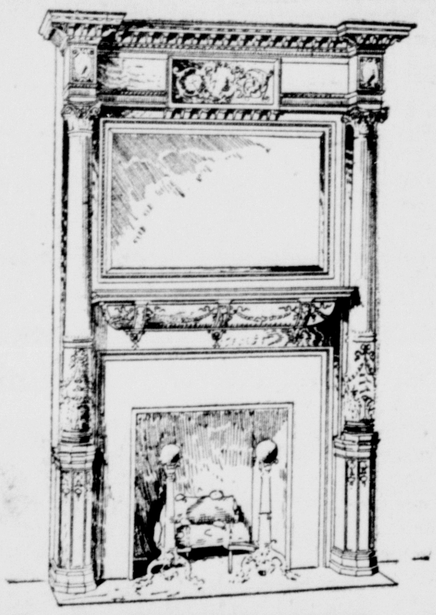

"The people of the Pan-American Exposition were sorry to see Phinney's band leave," says the Buffalo Courier. "The Chicago organization played its last in the Plaza band stand. The crowd was densely packed. At various numbers of the excellent program great applause was evoked, till the final number. Enthusiasm semed to run over the multitude. Still another rendition failed to quiet them, and then Director Phinney lifted his baton and the band swung into the tuneful measures of "Auld Lang Syne." With grand, slow, swelling chords it pursued till, nearing the end, the volume was stupendous, when slowly, sweetly and sadly, it diminished to a barely perceptible murmur of farewell."

is the best Medicine, provided it is prepared in the right way by the druggist. There are lots of things that a young pharmacist cannot, or at least, does not, learn in college. Only practical experience teaches which is the best way to prepare this ointment or that tonic. We had the Pharmacy College training, and we've been at it a great many years since. Physicians know that we can prepare medicines on their prescriptions exactly as they want it. That's why they often send their prescriptions, especially the difficult prescriptions to us.

WELLSVILLE

LARGE TRACK LEASE

Maczenzie Oil and Gas Company Expects Good Results From Oil Tests.

The Mackenzie Oil and Gas company of Wellsville anticipates good results from developments at the head of Island Creek, near Richmond, Jefferson county. It is considered by all interested to be fine oil property. A. G. Mackenzie and Charles C. Lawson, the only Wellsville people in the deal, went to Richmond Thursday morning. They met there another member of the company, Squire J. C. Riley, of Richmond, and surveyed the field.

Rich strikes have been made in that vicinity lately, there being excellent producing wells on the Morrow, Williamson, McClelland and other farms. The old Island Creek district was prolific several years ago and the Mackenzie tract is adjacent.

There has been a rush of speculators into that territory, but farmers have been chary about leasing. Squire Riley is well known and owing to his integrity the land owners were readily convinced that the Mackenzie company meant business. During the week leases will have been signed on a compact tract of 1,500 acres. Three Pittsburg capitalists are interested. The company will be incorporated.

The Jefferson county leases are in the hills and oil is found in the Berea sand at a depth of 1,400 feet. There is both oil and gas.

Held a Garden Party.

The Christian Endeavorers of the First Presbyterian church had a fine time at a garden party in Congo last evening, at the home of George Ingram. The lawn was beautifully illuminated. Delightful musical selections and recitations were given by Miss Ingram and others. Refreshments were served. The Wellsville people were given royal hospitality.

WIZARDS IN CONVENTION.

Electrical Sharps Meet For Their Annual Hobnobbing.

Extensive preparations have been made in Great Barrington, Mass., to entertain the annual convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. For the first time in its history the convention meets in a country town. Heretofore the institute has met in the great cities of the country, New York, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco having previously been selected.

The institute comprises the leading electrical inventors of the country, and the fact that Tesla, Edison and others of great fame have announced their intention to be present has made interest in the convention international.

The institute chose the Berkshire hills this year on the personal invitation of William Stanley of Great Barrington, an inventor of renown and a member of the institute. Over 200 members of the institute, many with ladies, will enjoy the hospitality of the town. The village will be in gala dress, and illuminations by night and flags and flowers by day will serve to show the town's appreciation of the honor conferred by the institute.

The ladies of the Thursday Morning club of Great Barrington have arranged fetes and social festivities for the entertainment of the ladies of the party.

The work of the convention begins June 18, when many papers on electrical subjects will be read. The public will be entertained by a lecture by Professor Elihu Thompson. During the convention Dr. A. E. Kennelly of Philadelphia, one of the leading physicists of the day, will address the ladies of Great Barrington. Nikola Tesla and Thomas A. Edison are also expected to deliver public lectures.

The social features of the convention include receptions, visits to various points of interest in the Berkshire hills and a grand ball at the Berkshire inn at Lenox.

An interesting feature of the convention will be the experiments with the Marconi system of telegraphy.

A New Company Proposes to Furnish Gas to Chester—Oil Field Notes.

A new company, incorporated under the name of the Line Island Gas company, has been organized, and will drill for gas near Chester. Frank G. Chapman, of East Liverpool, who drilled some wells on the Joseph Kinney farm several years ago, is the manager of the new company. Seven hundred acres of land have been leased by them and they will drill a large number of wells. It has been stated that the Chester tin mill will use all the gas they can produce, so that a market can be secured at home. The company will start operations in a short time. Machinery has been ordered and is expected to arrive soon.

Murray & Miller, whose oil field is located near New Cumberland, drilled in another well the fore part of this week, which is thought to be good for at least 75 barrels a day, and which will very materially add to their alrealy large production.

Mildred No. 4, on the John Watson place, was drilled in Tuesday and has proved itself the best well in the Moscow field. Fifty feet of the well filled up as soon as the sand was struck. It is good for at least 25 barrels a day.

A big power plant is being put in by LaComte & Co., for the purpise of pumping their wells. The gas engine and other machinery for the plant arrived last week, and has been hauled to the field.

BATHING IN PUBLIC

Chester Chief of Police Proposes to Put a Stop to the Practice at Once.

East Liverpool and Chester young men and boys have been in the habit of going swimming on the Chester side of the river near the bridge, and in full sight of the general public, for some time. This practice will soon be stopped, and the boys who desire to swim will either have to don their bathing suits, or else go outside the town limits.

The matter was brought to the attention of council at its meeting Thursday night by Councilman Wells, who stated that there was an ordinance against the offense which should be enforced by the town authorities and arrests made. Councilman Riley stated he had also seen the boys bathing, and thought some definite action ought to be taken at once against the offenders.

Sargeant Allison said that he would see to it that the ordinance was enforced, and that he would arrest the next person he caught bathing publicly. The first offender will be fined to the fullest extent of the law to serve as an example for the rest, and perhaps in this way the practice will be broken up.

Held For the Grand Jury.

Connelly, the pickpocket arrested in Chester, had a hearing at New Cumberland yesterday, and was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury which convenes Monday.

One of the detectives on the case said pickpockets got fully $500 from Homestead picnickers.

The Biggest Not the Best.

A New York dealer who has handled shiploads of fruit said recently: "It is often amusing to see men, women and children picking out, as they believe, the choicest fruit at the market stands. If there are a half a dozen large oranges within sight, they will have them, even if it is necessary to overturn all the rest in the box or barrel, and this is true with most all other varieties that are sold by the piece or dozen. They invariably get the poorest specimens of the whole crop and yet are not aware of it. Very rarely you will find a person who is a good judge who will at once size up the heaviest oranges, lemons or bananas, regardless of size, and they capture the choicest fruit."

Why Two Ears Are Necessary.

Sound travels by waves radiating from a central point of disturbance, just as waves radiate when a stone is dropped into still water. So far as the hearing of each individual is concerned these waves move in a direct line from the cause of the sound to his ear, the impact being the greatest in the ear nearest to the source. This being the case, a person who has totally lost the sense of hearing in one ear, although he may imagine that the defect is of little consequence, cannot locate the direction of a sound to save his life, even when the center of disturbance is quite near him.

A Literary Light.

A short time ago a well known writer of London, remembering that he had never read the noncanonical books, went out in search of a copy and in one bookshop after another drew blank. At last he went to his own particular newspaper shop, which also dealt in Bibles and light litterature. "Have you the Apocrypha?" he asked. For a moment the young woman behind the counter was puzzled; then, brightening, she said, "Is it a weekly or a monthly?"

Young Corbett and Sullivan.

Articles have been signed for a fight between Dave Sullivan and Young Corbett, to take place June 20 at Denver. The men are to weigh at 127 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Five hundred dollars has been deposited by each as a forfeit for weight and the Coliseum club has deposited a like amount as a guarantee that the fight will come off.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

The "Wizard" Has Another.

"It is now up to the manufacturers of automobiles to produce a cheap carriage," said Thomas A. Edison the other day. "I have, after three years of hard work, solved the problem of an electrical storage battery which can be used for long distance work and which will wear out three or four automobiles before it will succumb itself." In Mr. Edison's new battery a combination of steel and nickel suspended in an alkaline solution takes the place of lead and makes a much lighter battery than the one at present used. The batteries now used will not run more than forty miles without recharging, while Mr. Edison claims that his batteries have already shown a capacity of 100 miles. On this point the "wizard" said:

"I am going to start an automobile out for an endurance test of 5,000 miles. I shall make five separate tests of this kind with different machines, and if I do not produce a battery that will last for more than 5,000 miles I won't sell a single one of them."

How Nevins Went West.

Thomas Nevins, the "American Irishman" who proposes, according to the papers, to introduce Irish granite as a paving material into Great Britain, thus displacing Scotch stone, is from East Orange, N. J., and not from Chicago, as the dispatches had it. And his last enterprise is exactly what might be expected from him, since it was in the building of roads in East Orange that he won the big fortune that enabled him a few years ago to go back to Ireland and buy the castle which graces the fine old estate on which he was born more than threescore years ago.

Nevins is a picturesque figure. His rise in life was not assisted by the culture that is secured in the schools, and when he landed in New York about half a century ago he had no money at all. He didn't get on well in the city, and one day he asked an acquaintance what he had better do. In the words of Horace Greeley the acquaintance said, "Go west, young man." So Nevins decided to strike out for the setting sun. He had no idea how far "west" he ought to go, and he started via a ferryboat for the shores of New Jersey. Landed at Hoboken, he took up his journey on foot. When he got to East Orange, he met a man who offered him a job as a stable boy. Then he took note of the badness of the Jersey roads. Later he got some one to back him in an attempt to improve them. Today the roads about East Orange are as fine as any in America and finer than most. Nevins never went farther west than East Orange, so to speak, until he had made a good beginning in the amassing of the millions that now are his.

Doesn't Fear Ship Combine.

At the annual meeting of the London chamber of commerce held May 28 Lord Brassey, the presiding officer, presented an address which dealt mainly with the shipping question. In discussing the ship combination of which J. P. Morgan is the head Lord Brassey said: "Let us not lose our national dignity in unavailing and groundless alarm. Our position as a maritime nation is assured beyond the reach of competition, and we shall hold our position against all comers because we build ships more cheaply and with or without foreign crews sail them more cheaply than any of our rivals." Lord Brassey admitted, however, that British shipbuilders must look to their laurels in the construction of ocean greyhounds.

Sam Clemens' New Maxims.

Mark Twain has added two new maxims to the world's already valuable collection. They are as follows: "We ought never to do wrong when people are looking" and "No real gentleman will tell the naked truth in the presence of ladies."

Lot lies perfectly level and front 30 feet on grassy lawn to the front. This property is on the west end of Sixth street and one of the few down town residences for sale.

High Class Residences We have them in all parts of the city. They are generally occupied by their owners. For reasons that are obvious to all owners of fine properties they do not want general publicity made of the fact that their "home" property is for sale. These properties we are ever ready to tell you of on condition that you evince enough interest to make inquiry of us. You'll never get prices or particulars in our advertising columns of them. Don't think that we cannot suit you. Try us. Further, we'll save you money.

300 Dwellings For Sale. Have you ever seen our mammoth For Sale List? If not call and get one, or send us your address and we will mail you a copy. When you come to us you have a selection of properties to choose from representing three-fourths of all the properties on sale in the city. We make it profitable to do business through us. Give us 20 minutes of your time; if we don't interest you, we'll say no more about it. We make terms of purchase to suit you.

Drury Lane.

Drury lane was named after the great family of the Drurys who once lived there, and Clare market after Lord Clare. The fame of Drury lane is worldwide. Who has not heard of the famous pantomimes at Drury Lane theater and of the many famous actors and actresses who have played there? Who has not read of the wild exploits of Nell Gwynn, the flower girl, who obtained such an ascendency over the Merrie Monarch? Pepys calls her "Pretty Nell" and records how he saw her in Drury lane "standing at her lodging's door in her smock sleeves and bodice, a mighty pretty creature."—Chambers' Journal.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY TELEPHONE RATES

NOT TO BE INCREASED AT PRESENT TO REGULAR SUBSCRIBERS.

Aim of Management is to Correct Abuses of the Toll Lines By Those Who Do Not Pay.

June 19, 1902.

As there seems to be a great deal of talk and worry about the readjustment of the telephone rates, I desire to say that the readjustment does not and will not affect the old subscribers now, and their wants and wishes will always be respected by this company. I desire to say that our present aim is to do away with the intolerable abuse of our toll lines. By this I mean that a great many non-subscribers have been stealing the use of the lines to such an extent that it is not only an injury to ourselves in a financial way, but to our subscribers, and compels us to take steps to protect our subscribers as well as ourselves, and we assure them they will always get full value for money paid us. You will also note that the next bills will be for the same amount as heretofore.

Very Truly,
Columbiana County Telephone Co.,

This making of new champions that do not fit the old and legitimate notches demands a general revision of weights. If not that, then some kind of arrangement should be made for more champions. As the matter stands at present there are too many pounds between the bantam, feather and light weights. With the high mark for bantams at 115 pounds a hundred and eighteen pound youngster would be a full fledged featherweight, and as such would be compelled to fight a hundred and twenty-eight or a hundred and thirty pounder for the championship, and a hundred and five pound bantam would have to cope with a hundred and fifteen pounder. This is too big a handicap, but the champions in those two classes demand aspirants for their honors must fight at the weights they set. Unfortunately there is no governing power in pugilism, and the high weights in the bantam and feather weight classes, at least, will remain intact until some light bantam or feather comes along, trims the champions and sets the weights back to the old limit.

Unexpected Applause.

Shortly after Mr. Wilson Barrett joined the theatrical profession he became a member of a company performing at the old Theater Royal, Dublin. His part, naturally, was a small one, and, greatly to his surprise, his first speech was greeted with a round of applause. This unlooked for tribute elated the young actor, and he exerted himself to sustain the good impression he appeared to have made. Just as he was leaving the theater one of the scene shifters grinningly accosted him and said, "Sure, it's got about among the bhoys that ye're a brother of the man that was hung!" A Fenian named Barrett had that morning paid the extreme penalty of the law.

An English paper tells a story of some children's theatricals. A party of children were giving a little drama of their own, in which courtships and weddings played a leading part in the plot. While the play was in progress one of the grownups went behind the scenes and found a very small girl sitting in the corner.

"Why are you left out?" he asked. "Aren't you playing too?"

"Oh, I's not left out," came the reply. "I's the baby waiting to be borned."

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Picnic on Monday—The First Presbyterian Sunday school and church picnic will be held on Monday at Rock Springs.

Musical Service—The first of a series of musical services will be given in St. Stephen's Episcopal church on Sunday at 8 p. m.

Remodeling the Bank.—The contract for the remodeling of the lower portion of the Citizen's National bank has been let, and the work will commence in a few days.

Clothes for the Poor—The ladies of the First M. E. church met yesterday and began work upon a quantity of clothes which they are making for poor children of the city. They expect to meet again next week to pursue the same good work.

Coronation Service—Owing to many English people residing in this city, the bishop of the diocese has sanctioned a coronation service, to be held at St. Stephen's Episcopal church, at 10 a. m. next Thursday. Particulars will be given on Monday.

Big Church Picnic—The annual Sunday school picnic of the United Presbyterian churches of this city, Wellsville, Calcutta and the Southside was held yesterday at Rock Springs park. It is estimated that from 500 to 700 persons enjoyed the day's outing.

Social a Success—The strawberry and ice cream social given last evening in the Thompson-Hobbs building by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church was voted a decided success. An artistic flower booth and pretty candy and lemonade booths lent attraction. In the evening the Peerless Mandolin club furnished music. The social was quite largely attended last evening and preparations are made for a larger crowd tonight.

Man Who Sued For $868 For Caring For His Father Unsuccessful.

Lisbon, June 22.—(Special)—The jury today returned a verdict for defendant in the case of Ephraim Willis vs. Benjamin Willis, as executor of the estate of John Willis, late of East Rochester. He was suing for $868 which he claimed was due him for services rendered his father during the last six years of his life.

The case was on trial two days and was hotly contested. The jury was out 10 hours before it could agree.

FOURTH DISTRICT CONVENTION.

Sunrise Prayer Meeting Opened Yesterday's Proceedings—Among the Speakers at Convention Was Rev. Loughry, of Uniontown, Pa.

Washington, June 21.—President Roosevelt yesterday afternoon received the officers and delegates attending the fourth general conference district Epworth League convention, which began Thursday night. Over 200 leaguers marched to the executive mansion and shook hands with the chief executive.

A sunrise prayer meeting at the Metropolitan M. E. church opened the day's session of the convention yesterday, which continued throughout yesterday afternoon and last evening. Among those who addressed the convention were Rev. Dr. John H. Miller, of Parkersburg, W. Va., on "The Spirit of the Fathers;" Rev. Dr. Wilbur L. Davidson, secretary of the American university, on "Young People and Skepticism;" Mr. E. S. La Fetra, of Washington, on "The Laymen's Work in the League;" Rev. E G. Loughry, of Uniontown, Pa., on "The Church, Its Young Men;" Mrs. Annie E. Smiley, on "The Boys and Girls in the League;" Rev. Hosaic L. Jacobs, of Altoona, Pa., on "The Making of Men," and Rev. S. J. KAISER SPEAKS FOR RELICION.

Appeals to Protestant and Catholic to Help Him Uphold Faith on Which The Empire Is Founded.

Aix-La-Chapelle, Prussia, June 21.—A striking speech was delivered by Emperor William at the city hall here Thursday, after his arrival from Bonn, accompanied by the empress and crown prince, Frederick William. He said in part:

"But it must not be forgotten that the empire was rooted in simplicity and fear of God. I look to all, priests and laymen, to help me uphold religion among the people, in order that the German name may preserve its health and strength. This applies equally to the two creeds, Catholic and Protestant.

"It is with pride and joy that I am able to tell you that the pope said to my special ambassador who went to Rome on the occasion of the holy father's jubilee, that he had always kept a high opinion of the piety of the Germans, and especially that of the German army. The pope asked my ambassador to tell his sovereign that the country in Europe where control, order and discipline still prevailed, with respect for authority and regard for the church and where the church could live, was the German empire, and for that the papal see was indebted to the German emperor.

Great Creeds Must Have One Aim.

"This justifies me in saying that our two great creeds must while living side by side keep in view their one great aim—to uphold and strengthen the fear of God and reverence for religion. Whether we are moderns or whether we labor in this or that field does not matter at all. He who does not found his life on religion is a lost man. I rejoice that I have placed my whole empire, my people and my army, as well as myself and my house, beneath the cross and under the protection of him who said: 'Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My words shall not pass away.'"

POPE ACCEPTS MAIN POINTS.

O'Gorman Assured—Taft and Party Still Waited For Answer Last Night.

Rome, June 21.—The papal secretary of state, Cardinal Rampolla, yesterday assured the Rt. Rev. Thomas O'Gorman, bishop of Sioux Falls, S. D., that the vatican accepts the propositions of Judge Taft, governor of the Philippine islands, regarding the disposition of the friars' lands, on all the main points, but dissents on minor points.

The official documents were being prepared at the vatican and were to be delivered to Judge Taft yesterday.

Mrs. Taft, the wife of the governor of the Philippines, and her children, together with Captain Strother, arrived in Rome yesterday. They were met at the station by Governor Taft. The pope will receive Mrs. Taft and her eldest daughter in audience.

The American party waited patiently at the Hotel Quirinal for the vatican's reply last night, but as this dispatch was forwarded it was still not received. There is little doubt that the answer will be a substantial acceptance of the main points of Judge Taft's proposals, which include the payment of about $5,000,000 for the friars' agricultural lands and another smaller sum for the rental of the friars' lands used by the army and the deportation of the friars to Spain. The actual sums will be fixed by arbitration.

Judge Taft has prepared a tentative form of agreement to use if agreeable to the vatican.

If the answer came last night Judge Taft will today apply to Monsignor Gasparri (secretary of the congregation of extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs) for information on this subject.

Dean Hoffman's Funeral.

New York, June 21.—In the presence of a distinguished clerical and lay gathering that filled Trinity chapel to the doors, the Episcopal service for the dead was read yesterday afternoon over the body of the late Eugene Augustus Hoffman, dean of the General Theological seminary. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, rector of Trinity church, assisted by the Rev. W. H. Vibbert, vicar of Trinity chapel; Bishops White, of Michigan City, Seymour, of Springfield; Burgess, of Long Island, and Worthington, of Nebraska, and Archdeacon T. C. Tiffany, of New York.

WOULD CLOSE MANY PLANTS.

Miners' Secretary So Figures, If There Is General Strike—Three Months' Supply of Coal.

Indianapolis, June 21.—It is estimated by W. B. Wilson, secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, that the present supply of bituminous and anthracite coal above ground would be exhausted in less than three months, if there should be a general suspension of work in the mines.

According to this estimate, if the national convention of mine workers in Indianapolis, July 17, should vote for a general suspension of work, in support of the anthracite strike, as is now proposed, the vast industrial machinery of the United States would be handicapped for fuel so that thousands of factories would have to suspend work.

MINE GUARDS FINED.

Charged With Carelessly Using Firearms.

Nanticoke, Pa., June 21.—Eleven guards in the employ of the Susquehanna Coal company were arrested and arraigned before Burgess Williams yesterday, charged with the careless use of firearms.

The 11 men, who are of the party brought from Pittsburg, were found guilty and fined $3 each. Pending the payment of the fines they were locked up.

Leaders and Miners Arrested.

Clarksburg, W. Va., June 21.—United States Marshal Elliott and deputies arrested Thomas Haggerty, Mother Jones and a dozen others for violating Judge Jackson's injunction at a mass meeting yesterday afternoon.

Missouri Prohibitionists.

Clinton, Mo., June 21.—Missouri Prohibitionists yesterday named nominees for minor state offices. Among other things the platform declares for the election of United States senators by direct vote; it condemns anarchy, the non-enforcement of liquor laws and trusts, especially "the eldest and mightiest trust, the liquor trust."

Prominent Religious Worker Very Ill.

Chicago, June 21.—Benjamin F. Jacobs, a well-known real estate man of Chicago, specially prominent for his activity in church and charitable work throughout the country, is very ill at his home from a complication of Bright's disease and heart failure. Little hope is expressed for his recovery.

WILL STARVE REDS.

If They Can't Be Induced to Leave Paterson--Will be Blacklisted.

Fifty Wealthy Business Men Form Organization—$250,000 Said to Be Pledged—Private Detectives Engaged—Armed Men In Control.

Paterson, N. J., June 21.—Mayor Hinchcliffe seemed last night to be in complete control of the situation here, backed as he is by the entire peace controlling force of the city and county and a goodly portion of the state militia. The soldiers' presence has had a deterent effect upon the reds and they were not in evidence in the city.

The troops were to remain on duty all night and be relieved by the deputies this morning. No troops will do duty in the day time, unless there should be serious trouble.

An organization has been completed, composed of 50 wealthy business men of this city, to be known to the public as the Paterson vigilance committee, but the membership and proceedings are not to be made public. Private detectives have already been engaged to shadow the leading reds. The anarchists are to be induced to leave Paterson quietly if possible. If they do not go, the committee is said to have its own plan for action. One of the methods to be employed is said to be the keeping of a blacklist, and no matter where in Paterson a man on it obtains work his employer will be notified to dismiss him.

If this plan be carried out it will starve out of the city all anarchists who may come here. It is said the committee has $250,000 pledged by the men composing it to carry out its purpose.

School Directors Indicted.

Philadelphia, June 21.—Twenty-four bills of indictment were returned by the grand jury yesterday charging Thomas P. G. Seixas, B. Frank Frown, Joseph Travis, Albert W. Weider, William H. Sievel, directors of one of the public schools, and David Johnson, with conspiracy to extort money and commit bribery in connection with the appointment of school teachers. Johnson is said to have acted as an intermediary between persons seeking positions as school teachers and the directors.

Olney Not a Candidate.

Memphis, June 21.—In response to an invitation from prominent Memphis Democrats, members of a club formed to promote the candidacy of Hon. Richard Olney, of Massachusetts, for the presidency, urging him to deliver an address here, Mr. Olney sent a letter, dated Boston, June 16 saying he was not a candidate, and he could not attend, as it would not be proper, under the circumstances.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Ohio stationary engineers opened their sixth annual state convention at Newark, O.

Michael Hennig, an Alliance, O., carpenter, fell 75 feet from the top of a building and was killed.

Commander Booth Tucker, of the Salvation Army, addressed a large audience at East Liverpool, O.

Wasn't His Hat, Anyway.

Mr. Weddle, visiting his wife's relatives up in Maine, fairly had to go to church that Sunday. He didn't want to go, but his wife thought it would do him good and would be apt to preserve the harmony of the family.

The sermon was long and powder dry, and Weddle stole off into the arms of Morpheus gently and serenely. As he did not snore, his wife did not suspect that he had gone to sleep alongside of her and gave herself up fully to inspecting the bonnet of the woman in the pew in front.

Like all things, good and bad, the sermon came to an end at last, but Weddle slumbered on like a baby even after a deacon began taking up the collection in a hat. When the derby was passed to Weddle, Mrs. Weddle was surprised to see that he did not respond. She nudged him violently to bring him back to his senses, and Weddle, awakening with a start, sat upright and, bewildered, gazed at the hat in the hand of the deacon. Then he shook his head sleepily and said:

"No; that isn't mine. Mine is a gray one."—New York Tribune.

Had Nerve.

"Well, ain't that a lovely customer? I just dote on waiting on that kind. Did you see her, though?" The shop girl was bubbling over with rage. A woman and her daughter had looked at not fewer than twenty-five silk waists. At last they took up one, and the woman brought forth a tape measure, "I think we might get it out of three and a half yards or three and two-thirds anyhow. Just wait—twenty-three inches down the front, three-quarters for the sleeves, allow a quarter for collar and cuffs. Yes, that'll do it." As she talked she ran the tape over the waist, the clerk standing by almost bursting with indignation. "Three yards of lace, one and a quarter of insertion," she went on, measuring the trimming. "Put that down, Amy. Now let's go. We can get up a waist exactly like that for $7.50, and they ask $14.98. They've got their nerve, haven't they?"—New York Press.

An Absurd Custom In Vienna.

In Vienna every man's home is his dungeon from 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. Vienna is a city of flats, and at 10 p. m. the common entrance door of each block is closed and bolted. Thereafter persons passing in or out must pay a fine of twopence to the concierge until midnight and fourpence from that hour to 6 a. m. To go out to post a letter costs twopence and the same amount to return. To prolong a visit to a friend after 10 p. m. means twopence to get out of his house and twopence more to enter your own. A natural result of this irritating tax is that of all capital cities Vienna is earliest to bed.

Travelers to California

Naturally desire to see the grandest and most impressive scenery en route. This you will do by selecting the Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western, "The Scenic Line of the World," and "The Great Salt Lake Route," in one or both directions, as this line has two separate routes across the Rocky mountains between Denver and Ogden. Tickets reading via this route are available either via its main line through the Royal George, Leadville, over Tennessee Pass, through the Canon of the Grand river and Glenwood Springs, or via the line over Marshall Pass and through the Black Canon of the Gunnison, thus enabling the traveler to use one of the above routes going and the other returning. Three splendidly equipped fast trains are operated to and from the Pacific coast, which carry through standard sleepers daily between Chicago, St. Louis, Denver and San Francisco. Dining cars (service a la carte) on all through trains. If you contemplate such a trip, let us send you beautifully illustrated pamphlets, free. S. K. Hooper, G. P. & T. A., Denver, Col. 7-tf-3-tf

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

"Mugsy" McGraw's Many Troubles

"EVERY baseball pitcher has a style of delivery which is peculiar to himself," says Christy Mathewson, "but experience has forced all pitchers to use nearly the same methods in attempting to fool the batsmen. The windmill motions of a cyclonic pitcher may be puzzling for awhile, but he will soon come to grief if he has no other idea than merely to 'shoot' the ball across the plate.

"'Speed and control' are immensely advantageous to a pitcher, but he must study the weaknesses of every batsman and endeavor to apply that knowledge.

"Most hitters can meet a low, fast ball better than a high one; consequently keep 'em high. Try to make a batsman hit the ball on the end or handle of his bat by pitching close to the edges of the plate. Throw a curve ball low. A slow ball should be thrown with the same motion as a fast ball and when the batsman is overanxious or least expecting it.

"These are good general rules, but, like the rules for whist, they are very vexatious at times.

As to Catching.

"A catcher who is able to 'hold' the pitcher and who bats and throws well would seem to have all the necessary requirements. As a matter of fact such attributes are rudimentary.

"Baseball, as it is played today, requires considerable cerebral activity, and it is in this department of the game that a catcher must show his worth. He usually signals to the pitcher what balls to pitch. Hence a catcher can break up the 'hit-and-run game' if he can detect when it is about to be played. He gives the pitcher the 'pitch out' sign, the ball is thrown two feet away from the plate, where it cannot possibly be hit, and the base runner is thrown out.

"In a certain sense a catcher is a mind reader. He notes how a player stands at the plate and how he holds his bat. He makes his deductions and then signals for the unexpected. He watches his pitcher to see that he keeps cool at critical stages. If there is any sign of nervousness, he signals very calmly and slowly so that there will be no case of rattles.

"A catcher, in fact, holds the key to the whole situation. Without a catcher with good judgment the team might just as well be in the 'Desert league.' The catcher signals not alone the pitcher, but the fielders. A spectator will many a time see a fielder shift his position. Well, that is from a catcher's sign. The latter will signal for an out curve or a straight ball, and it is the fielder's place to 'lay' for the ball.

"The catcher is, in fact, the head of the game. He knows more about what is going on than any one else. The pitcher delivers the kind of a ball the catcher asks for, and it is a poor twirler who will not depend on the receiving end of the battery.

"A heady man behind the wind pad means much to a team.

Playing the Infield.

"Including the pitcher, the infield consists of five men, and if they play well together they are a big factor in winning games. This team work, as it is called, is acquired when the players know the capabilities of one another and have confidence in their ability. For instance, if the first base man knows that the pitcher will cover first base on all balls hit toward right field, he has no hesitation about going after [illegible] in his direction, even in his extreme right.

"Oftentimes he can stop hard hit balls that could not be handled by the second base man, but if the pitcher was not covering first base it would look as though the first base man was trying to cover too much ground and had made a stupid play. A few such plays would make the first base man too cautious to get the best results out of balls hit toward him.

"Another illustration will suffice to show the value of the playing together that makes a successful infield. With a man on second base, the batsman bunts toward third base, and the base runner starts to steal, both at the same moment. The third base man sees the runner coming and covers the bag. The pitcher should field the ball, but if he hesitates it is too late to catch either man, and the third base man gets the blame for the 'bull.'

To Prevent Blunders.

"A complete understanding among the infielders prevents such blunders, and, while such plays look easy in theory, they are among the most difficult feats performed on the diamond.

"The correct position to assume in handling ground hits often worries young players. Some always try to keep their feet together, thinking that the ball cannot get past them when in that position. Better action can be secured with the feet apart, for if the ball is not picked up cleanly there is usually no chance to get the runner, and with the feet together it is difficult to keep one's balance."

"Mugsy" McGraw's Troubles.

The ever turbulent "Mugsy" McGraw, captain-manager and general Pooh Bah of the Baltimore Americans, has been having more than his share of trouble this year, and he is staying awake nights in an endeavor to conjure a scheme to haul the Orioles to the top of the first division. McGraw's team thus far has been a disappointment to himself and his followers, and the fault can truthfully be said to lie with himself. "Rough house" tactics are unpopular everywhere, and the sight of a captain and manager being ruled out of games because of an ambition to become the "king scrapper" of the national game does not tend to instill confidence and ambition in the rank and file of a team. Then, again, the encouragement of contract breaking is not a particularly admirable practice, and McGraw should not expect much sympathy because of the loss of the great leapfrog player, Jimmy Sheckard.

But "Mugsy" is a good ball player—do not mistake that. He knows the grand old game as do few others, and he plays to win at all times. When the season ages a bit and the first flush of enthusiasm has passed, McGraw will probably calm down and become a good boy. And that is what all baseball devotees want to see, the genuine article of baseball, clean and fast. One would naturally suppose that "Mugsy" would have learned by this time the futility of trying to intimidate umpires. It is an old dodge and never did any one good. The holder of the disks will "square the deal" sooner or later, and the sooner the ball tossing fraternity recognizes this the better.

The Giants' New Captain.

George Smith, the new captain of the New York club, has had baseball experience that should be of value to him in helping to pull the team out of the rut it is in at present. Smith captained the Rochester club of the Eastern league last season, and his team won the pennant. It was known as the Bucking Bronchos and was the most strenuous and aggressive team in the league. Smith will not make the mistake of being too gentle with his men on the field. His experience with the Bronchos taught him better than that.

Smith is intelligent; therefore he will hardly run away with the idea that he is the brightest captain the New Yorks have ever had. He is young, but has doubtless heard of Johnny Ward and Buck Ewing and will rather strive to emulate those great baseball generals than to underrate them.

The Wife.

"Suppose I were an absolutely perfect woman," she remarked sharply. "Do you know what you'd do then?"

"No," answered her husband. "What?"

THE SMALL TALK OF THE PLAYHOUSES.

Matters of Interest to Admirers of Stage Folk—A Successful New Star—The Season Just Ended.

The theatrical season in this city may be said to have ended, although there are naturally a few attractions which will hold on until the continued hot weather literally forces them to close their doors. A notable feature of the present summer is the small number of roof garden ventures. Time was not so many years ago when every theater either had a roof garden or was trying to arrange for one. These ventures seldom paid, and now only those theaters which by the nature of things cannot afford to close up altogether go in for these heterogeneous summer entertainments.

More misstatements have probably been made about this season than about any other of the last decade. It has been widely reported that it has been a veritable wonder in the matter of heavy receipts, whereas the truth is that, while attractions of the highest class and those of the greatest magnitude have undoubtedly done well, many of the offerings which ordinarily would have made a great deal of money have turned out poorly. In a great measure this is as it should be but for the fact that along with the unworthy many worthy enterprises have suffered.

Sneer as you will, laugh at the incompleteness of their productions, declare that they are as at present conducted a hindrance rather than an aid to the American drama, ridicule the hoary chestnuts which are too often presented, there can be no gainsaying the fact that the stock system has grown wonderfully in this country during the last few years.

The most violent attacks of stock fever occur in summer. This is natural, for the reason that during the heated term managers are able to secure for a reasonable consideration the services of persons the mere mention of whose salaries for the winter season would suffice to throw them into convulsions.

It is also a fact that most of the worthy local organizations succeed. Where there is failure it is nearly always due either to poor judgment in the selection of a field of operations or to worse business management or shiftless productions after the city has been chosen. I have in mind one case where a firm of New York managers engaged a rather high priced company for a certain city that would have to make a terrific effort to support a 10-20-30 repertory show for one week. Their intention was to play this city during the entire summer. A definite date for opening was set, and everything was going swimmingly along toward bankruptcy when the managers were saved in spite of themselves.

"Advances on salary" are as much a part of a theatrical engagement as the signing of contracts. In fact, they are usually of much greater consequence, for they represent something tangible, which the contracts do not. When, therefore, some of the important members of the organization in question airily asked for "a little something on account" and learned that the management was not in a position to grant their requests, they immediately "smelled a mice" and very naturally quit in a body.

During the past theatrical season Adelaide Thurston accomplished the unusual in dramatics. Without the supposed advantage of a "New York indorsement" Miss Thurston enjoyed a most prosperous season, thus disposing of a hoary theatrical adage. When theatrical managers come to a realization of the fact that the much abused and so called "provincials" do not care a snap of their fingers what New York thinks of a play or a player, they will save themselves much worry, trouble and cash. What New Yorkers run wild over rarely pleases the denizens of the smaller towns, for the reason that the surfeited citizens of the metropolis require highly seasoned and fleshy entertainment. This sort of thing serves but to disgust the quiet and reposeful inhabitants of the smaller cities. Miss Thurston's success then establishes a precedent which other managers than her own should follow. If they have good plays and clever players, the "provinces" will find them out and reward them accordingly.

Miss Thurston's play for next season is "At Cozy Corners," a comedy drama by the authors of "Sweet Clover." Miss Thurston tried "At Cozy Corners" in the spring and found it admirably suited to her abilities.

Word Blindness.

Some curious instances of the physical defects of "word blindness" are given in the Lancet. The disease is fortunately uncommon. In one case the sufferer, an Englisman, thirty-four years of age, who knew Greek, Latin and French well, suddenly lost all knowledge of English, though he could read and understand Greek perfectly and Latin and French in a rather smaller degree. Another and almost more curious case was that of a man who lost the power of reading at sight. This patient was able to write accurately from dictation, but was completely unable to read what he had written. Word blindness is apparently akin to color blindness, but is certainly attended by much more inconvenient consequences.

Odd Plants.

"What an inquiring mind Miss Lightly has!" exclaimed the cynic. "We were at an Italian table d'hote last evening, and she said, with a very kittenish air: 'Oh, did you ever see macaroni growing? I should think a whole field of those lovely white stalks would be too awfully pretty.'"

"What did you say, old man?" said his partner.

"Oh, I just said no, that I had never come nearer to it than seeing a bread tree in flower."

Then the partner stepped to the telephone, and they carried the cynic home in the ambulance.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Pit of John Bright's Sarcasm.

A noble lord once said on the occasion of Mr. Bright's illness that Providence was punishing him for misuse of talents by inflicting a disease of the brain. The following was Mr. Bright's sarcastic rejoinder when he resumed his seat: "It may be so, but in any case it will be some consolation to the friends and family of the noble lord to know that the disease is one which even Providence could not inflict upon him."

Missed the Lob. Barrel.

Considerable amusement was caused when the legislature first went into session by a member from the counties arriving and promptly asking to be shown the lobby.

When that place was pointed out to him, he nosed around for awhile and then remarked in the hearing of some bystanders:

"I've been fooled!" he declared disgustedly. "They tole me I could find a bar'l of money loose in the lobby, but I see now thet it's a dinged lie!"—Baltimore Herald.

THE CORONATION SHOW

How King Edward Will Be Invested With the Symbols of Sovereignty

As the time approaches for the coronation of King Edward VII. of England interest in the ceremonies which will attend that great event increases. The coronation possesses in great degree the quality of novelty, since few persons now living remember the time when an English monarch was crowned before.

King Edward has spent much time in acquainting himself with his part in the ceremony. He found upon examination that the rites and forms provided were likely to prove too great a task upon his strength and patience, and so by his order the ceremony has been much condensed.

But notwithstanding the revision which has been made by the king's direction the coronation probably will be the most elaborate ceremonial which has taken place anywhere in the world within the memory of the present generation. So Thursday, June 26, will be a day long to be remembered by King Edward's loyal subjects as well as the multitudes of strangers from all quarters of the earth.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY, WEST FRONT.

The proceedings at Westminster abbey are likely to prove very trying to his majesty, especially if the day be warm. Here is what the king will wear when he takes the coronation chair: The imperial or dalmatic robe. This is a three cornered mantle, fashioned like a cope. One side is about three and a half yards in length, to cover the shoulders and hang down in front. The other sides slope into a train reaching about a foot upon the ground. It is made of rich cloth of gold. The outside is shot with gold and embroidered with gold and silver flowers edged with purple. The lining is of crimson taffeta, and the fastening is a broad gold clasp.

Then there is the supertunica, a surcoat, with plain sleeves, of cloth of gold tissue, ornamented with golden flowers, brocaded and frosted.

DR. TEMPLE, THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.
[Who officiates at the coronation.]

The armilla, or stole, is placed about the king by the archbishop. This vestment is made of the same material as the supertunica.

The colobium sindonis, or surplice, is the last garment to be put upon the king after he is anointed. It is made of very fine white cambric.

The form of the procession to the choir of the abbey will almost exactly follow the form at the coronation of Queen Victoria. In the procession every nobleman's coronet is borne after him by a page and every royal lady's coronet by an earl's eldest son.

The interesting—one might almost say dramatic—features of the service begin very soon after the king and queen have taken their seats in the chairs just before their thrones. The archbishop of Canterbury, accompanied by other high dignitaries, proceeds to the east side of the "theater" and in a loud voice cries:

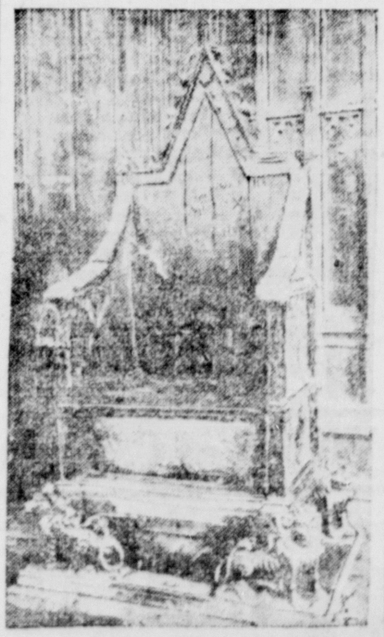

"Sirs, I here present unto you King Edward, the undoubted king of this realm. Wherefore all you who are come this day to do your homage, are you willing to do the same?"

Then the ancient abbey will resound with the shouts of all those present. The archbishop advances in turn to the other three sides of the theater and repeats his question, the people replying to each demand, "God save King Edward!" At the last recognition trumpets sound and drums beat.

After certain other formalities the king and queen kneel at the altar, and the litany is said. The coronation oath then follows. The next portion of the service, the anointing of the monarch, is about the most ancient feature of the coronation.

Then comes the investiture of the king with the various symbols of his sovereignty—the spurs, sword, armilla, mantle, orb, scepter with the cross, scepter with the dove and the ring.

After this the king sits in the famous old coronation chair and, amid the shouts of the people, the blowing of silver trumpets and the firing of guns from the Tower of London, the archbishop puts the crown upon his majesty's head. After the crowning the peers put on their coronets and the bishops their caps.

THE ANCIENT CORONATION CHAIR.

Then come the presenting of the Bible, the benediction and "Te Deum," the inthronization and the homage. During this ceremony the special coronation anthem, composed by Sir Frederick Bridge, organist of Westminster abbey, will be sung.

The ceremony of crowning the queen is very short. When that is ended, the holy communion is administered to their majesties, and after a procession into the Henry VII. chapel, when some of the regalia is laid aside, the ceremonies are at an end.

In the matter of decorations and illuminations London intends to surpass all previous records. The idea is to make the decorations in the city of an old style character, so that the streets of that part of London in which the procession takes place will present an appearance similar to that which they bore in the days of Queen Bess. All over the kingdom on coronation night bonfires and illuminations will blaze.

Toad Stones.

Most readers have no doubt heard of the precious jewels which the toad carries in his brain box, and so called toadstones, which were in reality the teeth of fossil fish, were formerly worn in finger rings as a protection against poison.

It was thought that the best stones were those voluntarily ejected by the living toads; but, as the latter were not addicted to freely giving up their treasures in that way, it was necessary to procure the coveted articles by other means, and the recognized method was to decapitate the hapless batrachian at the instant he swallows his breath. The feat naturally demanded considerable celerity, such as could only be acquired by constant practice, and it is not reasonable, therefore, to assume that, although the endeavors to gain possession of the jewels were perhaps numerous, they must have invariably been unsatisfactory, especially to the toads.

A HELPING HAND

Is Gladly Extended by an East Liverpool Citizen.

There are many enthusiastic citizens in East Liverpool prepared to tell their experience for the public good. Testimony from such a source is the best of evidence and will prove "a helping hand" to scores of readers. Read the following statement:

Mr. G. H. Garner, the well known manufacturer of ice cream at 168 Jackson street, says: "My trouble set in with a soreness and stiffness over my whole body; my appetite was poor, and I was annoyed a good deal with bloating at the stomach. There was a urinary difficulty, and I felt generally used up. I tried two or three different remedies, but they did not do me the least good. Having heard Doan's Kidney Pills so highly spoken of, I purchased a box at the W. & W. pharmacy. I did not take over half of it before I was entirely free from any trouble, my appetite was good, and my old time vigor restored. I recommended them to many of my friends, among them P. J. Green, V. S., and they all speak of them in the highest terms."

EDWARD VII'S HOME

BUCKINGHAM PALACE, THE ROYAL RESIDENCE IN LONDON.

Ancient Home of the Georges Again the Scene of the Gorgeous Functions of the Court of St. James. Additions and Improvements.

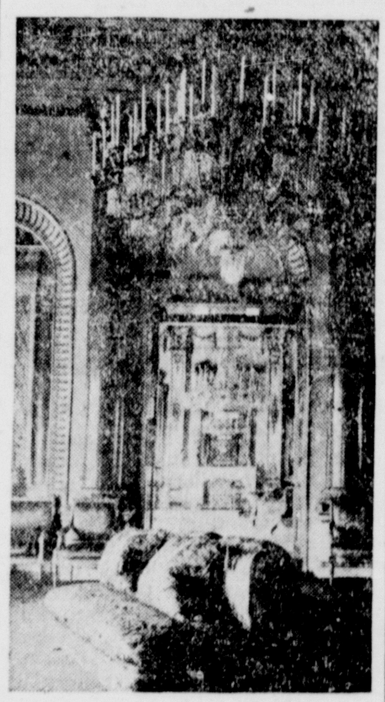

Buckingham palace, from which the gorgeous coronation pageant will start for Westminster abbey and to which it will return after Edward VII. has been crowned, is to be the future home of England's king. Marlborough House, so long his residence, will probably go to the Prince of Wales.

During Queen Victoria's reign, especially after the death of the prince consort, the silence and somberness of Buckingham were rarely broken by visits of her late majesty, but with the coming of Edward VII. and his queen the stately palace has been reawakened and transformed.

For some months a large force of workmen has been at work preparing for the reception of the new monarch. One huge wing has been entirely remodeled, its old fashioned rooms giving place to more modern and useful apartments. Decorative artists have been busily at work in beautifying the king's private apartments. Among other improvements in the new wing are several elevators, and the building throughout is now lighted with electricity.

Buckingham palace stands on the site of the mansion built in 1705 on crown land for John Sheffield, duke of Buckinghamshire. George III. purchased the property from the natural son of the duke, Sir Charles Sheffield, in 1762, and settled it upon Queen Charlotte. In those days it was known as the Queen's House. In 1825 George VI. commissioned his favorite architect, Nash, to practically rebuild the Queen's House and make of it an abode more in keeping with his somewhat florid taste. When Queen Victoria came to the throne, Blore, the architect, vastly improved the structure.

Buckingham palace, as it exists today, is but little known to King Edward's subjects outside that small circle which includes the court, the diplomats, the favored guests of state ball, concert or garden party, and the debutantes who crowd there for presentation. To them the beautiful gardens that stretch to Hyde Park corner, between Grosvenor place and Constitution hill, are familiar, as well as the carving and gilding, the mirrors and the marbles.

The throneroom, where presentations take place, saw but little change during the long rule of Victoria the Good. The crimson of the walls, the heavy gilding of the ceiling, the great crystal chandeliers, are almost as they were in the forties, though electric light has superseded candles, and during her later years the queen occupied a chair of state instead of the more imposing throne before which it was placed.

The throneroom, which is only some sixty feet long, has a fine frieze by Stothard illustrating the wars of the roses. A room more worthy of admiration than the throneroom is the really beautiful drawing room, whose pillars of imitation onyx with their richly gilt capitals have a fine effect against the hangings and upholstery of blue brocade. Here are life size portraits of the queen and the prince consort painted soon after their marriage, and here above the doorway is a fine painting of three royal princesses in powder by Gainsborough.

The room familiar to the guests at state balls and concerts is large, handsome and heavy looking. A large organ occupies one end. In front of which a temporary orchestra finds a place on the occasion of a state concert. By daylight it is a somewhat gloomy apartment, but when the great gilt standards with their swarms of electric lights flash on uniforms, orders and dazzling jewels the scene is brilliant enough.

The picture gallery with its fine collection, principally of Dutch art, is well worthy of attention. Rembrandt, Vandyke, Hobbema, Rubens, Ruysdael, Teniers, Cuyp, Ostade, Terburgh, Gerard Douw, Paul Potter, all are represented in the collection.

Buckingham palace will in the future be the London abode of England's king, and the halls and salons so long silent will again be the scene of the brilliant functions of a royal court.

"LUCKY"

Is often the name given by careless and thoughtless people to those who are careful and thoughtful. "What a lucky woman," is said of one whose health and beauty proclaim her free from womanly diseases. The luck often consists in her having thoughtfully considered the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and proved its ability to cure the diseases peculiar to her sex.

"Favorite Prescription" is a reliable medicine for the cure of womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I had poor health for nine years," writes Mrs. Armintie Watkins, of Acme, Kanawha Co., W. Va. "Had female weakness, was very irregular and would suffer untold misery. Our family doctor did not do me any good and I concluded to write to you. When I wrote, I had no idea that I would ever get well, but when your letter reached me I began to have hope. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines as directed and began to improve in strength. I was soon able to do the work for my family of six. I took eight bottles, three of 'Favorite Prescription' and five of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of 'Pellets.'"

LIKELY NO TREATY.

Time Too Short to Prepare One to Submit to Congress This Session.

Produced In Cuba, Not Probable, Either—High Official Expresses These Sentiments—Senate Caucus Took No Action Yesterday.

Washington, June 21.—The Republican senators held another conference yesterday on the question of Cuban reciprocity, and after three hours' discussion adjourned, subject to the call of Chairman Allison, without action. Almost all the Republican senators who are in the city were present. There were eight or nine speeches made in support of reciprocity, and only two in opposition to that policy. This was in accord with a previous understanding that as the beet sugar senators had monopolized the attention of the conference on Wednesday night their opponents yesterday should have the greater share of the time.

The speeches in support of the reciprocity bill were made by Senators Foraker, Beveridge, Lodge, Hale, Warren, Aldrich, McComas and Hanna, Senator Platt, of Connecticut, adding a few words to what he had said at Wednesday evening's meeting. The two speeches in opposition to the proposed legislation were made by Senators Burton and Burrows. The speeches for reciprocity were all along the same general line and without exception were pleas for legislation and for party harmony.

No Treaty Likely This Session.

The war department has been engaged for some time in the collection of the data requisite for the preparation of a reciprocity treaty with Cuba, should the president conclude to send such a treaty to the senate in the event of the failure of congress to grant relief by legislative enactment to the people of the island. It is not believed, however, to be probable that a treaty will be submitted during the present session of congress, mainly because of the physical impossibility of preparing a satisfactory and complete measure within the short time before adjournment is taken for the summer. A high official of the administration expressed these sentiments when spoken to on the subject last night, and in addition negatived the likelihood of a special treaty affecting only sugar produced in Cuba.

MAY AGREE ON CANAL BILL.

Report Gained Circulation—Hepburn Wouldn't Concede It.

Washington, June 21.—Soon after the house had sent the canal bill to conference yesterday reports gained circulation among members that there was not likely to be a protracted struggle in conference, and that the senate amendment probably would be the basis of the ultimate agreement. One of the house conferees, Mr. Fletcher, of Minnesota, frankly stated to his associates that he thought an agreement would be reached on the Panama amendment.

Chairman Hepburn was not prepared, however, to concede that the fight was over. He cited the fact that the vote in the house had been practically unanimous in favor of the Nicaragua bill, only two adverse votes being cast. The Democratic conferee, Judge Davey, of Louisiana, also was counted on as strongly favorable to the Nicaragua route. At the same time the lateness of the session and the prevailing desire to avoid further complications in the senate led to a rather general feeling among the members of the house that the senate amendment had something of an advantage in the conference.

Crozier Chief of Ordnance.

Washington, June 21.—Among the confirmations by the senate yesterday was this one: Captain William Crozier, ordnance department, to be chief of ordnance, with rank of brigadier general. The vote on the motion to confirm General Crozier was 44 to 12. The discussion of the nomination was again led by Senator Proctor in opposition to confirmation. Senators Warren, Pettus and Foraker made brief replies.

No Important Business In House.

Washington, June 21.—No business of importance was transacted by the senate yesterday in open session, except to agree to a conference report finally disposing of the military academy appropriation bill. Soon after the disposition of routine business the senate went into executive session, and at 3:10 p. m. adjourned until Mondey.

BOUNTIFUL CROPS EXPECTED.

Encouraging Trade Reports From Interior and West—Labor Troubles Hurt Eastern Business.

New York, June 21.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part:

Trade at the east is quiet, owing to the advancing season, and the bad effect of prolonged labor controversies is being felt in certain lines. Reports from the interior and the far west are more encouraging, bountiful harvests being expected, while the light stocks carried over from the previous season assure profitable prices. The best indication of continued prosperity is the fact that quotations do not recede even in the lines where at present there is only a moderate degree of activity. Railway earnings thus far reported for June increased 3.9 per cent over 1900.

Uncertainty regarding their ability to secure pig iron at reasonable prices is making producers of steel cautious in accepting contracts that call for delivery at even remote dates. Raw material is undoubtedly in light supply, and the anthracite coal strike has suspended work at a number of furnaces. Coke productions is attaining new records each week in the endeavor to supply all requirements, and better railway facilities are making unprecedented shipments from the Connellsville region. Soft coal is beginning to show the effect of an abnormal demand. In certain lines of finished steel products the addition of new plants to the productive capacity has had a preceptible influence on prices, introducing more competition. This factor is felt in only a few divisions, however, and in all heavy lines, notably rails and structural material, orders run far into next year, and there is no question of concessions in quotations. Jobbers having a surplus of bar iron sold moderate quantities at a lower figure than the market rate, but steel bars are firmer.

Quiet conditions prevail in eastern drygoods and footwear markets. A stronger silver market has revived purchases for export to China, although, like the home trade, this is still on a moderate scale. Supplemental buying of woolens is also limited. It is noteworthy that prices in all textile lines are firmly held, despite the slow movement, indicating confidence on the part of sellers.

Lack of rain in the southwest is the only seriously unfavorable crop indication of the week, while exceptionally encouraging reports are received from most points. Domestic grain makes good progress, but bad news has been received from abroad, and the outlook is favorable for large exports.

Failures for the week numbered 194 in the United States, against 193 last year, and 19 in Canada, against 14 a year ago.

MARKET RATHER APATHETIC.

Speculative Liquidation No Longer In Evidence, Friday.

New York, June 21.—The speculative liquidation which broke prices Thursday was no longer in evidence Friday, but the market slipped back into a rather apathetic condition, the dealings dropping well below half a million shares again. Of this total a large proportion was concentrated in a few leading stocks, notably United States Steel, Missouri Pacific, St. Paul and the Wabashes. The evidence of support for United States Steel was an effective influence in steadying the market, as Thursday's sharp break in that stock had unsettled sentiment in the whole market. There was evidence of rebuying of stocks by the large interests which liquidated Wednesday and the day before. This served to relieve a latent feeling that the recent bull campaign had been a preliminary to a prolonged bear campaign. Yesterday's strength was restricted to a few points and was not very well maintained, the closing being dull and heavy. The southwesterns and St. Paul absorbed a large share of the strength. There were also movements in other stocks.

Reports by the banks of a gain on the interior currency movement up to Thursday night of over $3,000,000 gave rise to the hope of a favorable bank statement today, as the offsetting absorption by the sub-treasury for the same period was only $397,000.

There was an active demand for some of the southwestern railroad bonds. The market generally was irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,935,000.

MANY LIVES PROBABLY LOST.

Great Forest Fires In Washington. Town Threatened.

Tacoma, Wash., June 21.—The fire department of this city has sent men, engines and hose on a special train to Buckley, in this county, which is threatened with complete destruction by forest fires raging between that town and Enumclaw, King county. A great cloud of smoke hangs over Tacoma, 33 miles from Buckley. The mountain mill, two miles east of Buckley, was burned yesterday. Undoubtedly many lives of mountain campers and loggers have been lost.

PLANCHES STILL COMPLAINED.

He Wanted Both Sides of Venice Arrests Affair Made Public.

Washington, June 21.—Signor Mayor des Planches, the Italian ambassador, was again at the state and navy departments yesterday to consult the officials in regard to the publication of the findings of the court of inquiry which investigated the affair in which officers from the cruiser Chicago were involved at Venice. None of the principles in the conferences cared to make any statement as to the nature of them. Secretary Moody expressed his earnest regret to the ambassador that the findings had been made public and assured him that the officials at Washington were in no way responsible for and did not approve of it. The ambassador inclines to the view that both governments should make public the records of proceedings in the case. Secretary Moody, however, already had expressed his desire not to make the American court's record public and here the matter hangs in the balance. The ambassador will call at the state department today to confer with Secretary Hay, who was absent when he called yesterday. Until then Signor Mayor did not care to make any formal statement as to what course he intends to pursue.

Respecting the propriety of the publication of the report of the court of inquiry by Admiral Crowninshield if indeed he did give it publicity, it is said at the navy department that unless specially enjoined as to the disposition of such a report, the commander-in-chief of a naval station always has been allowed to exercise his own discretion in such matters. So that as far as Admiral Crowninshield is concerned much depends on whether he was specially instructed to keep this report from publicity. The navy department itself has no hard and fast rule on the subject.

IGNORED SENATE'S ACTION.

House Firm on Army Bill—Philippine Measure Discussed.

Washington, June 21.—Debate on the Philippine civil government bill continued yesterday in the house from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., and at a session held last night. The speakers were given close attention, each side enthusiastically applauding its respective orators. Mr. Jones, of Virginia the ranking minority member of the insular affairs committee, concluded his speech begun Thursday. The other speakers were Messrs. Hamilton, of Michigan, and Kahn, of California, for the bill, and Mr. Patterson, of Tennessee, against it. Mr. Kahn's speech was largely an interesting personal narrative of his experiences in the Philippines last summer. The isthmian canal bill was sent to conference after the senate amendment had been nonconcurred in. The house reiterated the position it had taken on the army appropriation bill by ignoring the action of the senate and sending the bill back to the senate after voting to adhere to its disagreement to the objectionable army post amendments.

Uniontown Branch Sold.

Uniontown, Pa., June 21.—H. D. Bulkley, controller of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, came here yesterday and purchased the Fayette County railroad from its owners. The road is the 12-mile branch between Uniontown and Connellsville. Mr. Bulkley paid $150 a share for the 2,160 shares of stock, the par value of which is $50 a share. The company first offered $200 a share for a controlling interest, but the stockholders decided to stand together and sell all or none.

Chronic Diarrhoea.

This disease is generally regarded as incurable, mainly for the reason that the remedies usually employed are ineffectual. That it can be cured, however, has been fully proven in many cases. The following tells of one of them: Mr. T. W. Greathouse, of Prattsburgh, Ga., says: "I had been suffering from chronic diarrhoea for seven years. Last year I began taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and it has entirely cured me. I had spent lots of money for doctors' medicine in the run of of the seven years. If it had not been for this remedy I would have been dead now, and I feel that I can never say too much in its favor or recommend it too highly." Sold by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

MOTHERHOOD is the noblest duty and highest privilege women can achieve or aspire to. Without this privilege women do not get all there is in life—too often they go through the world discontented, wrapped up in their own selfish cares and troubles. How different is the happy mother, watching her children grow into manhood and womanhood. A mother lives as many lives as she has children—their joys and sorrows are theirs, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

Wine of Cardui, in re-inforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

WINE of CARDUI A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

SHOT FROM REVOLVER NEARLY PROVES FATAL

Two East End Boys Were Experimenting With the Weapon Which They Supposed Not to Be a Loaded One.

FRIENDS ARE HOPEFUL OF HIS RECOVERY

A most unfortunate accident occurred at the National pottery shortly after noon yesterday. It almost caused the death of Charles Ross, aged 17, a step son of John Hays, of Calhoun's addition. While the condition of the boy seems favorable to recovery, complications may arise that may prove fatal.

For some time Ross, who is employed as a handler at the National, and Joseph Mountford, of First avenue, who is employed at the same plant, had been talking of a hammerless revolver which was owned by Mountford, and which Ross intimated that he might purchase. Yesterday morning Mountford said he would bring the revolver back to the shop with him after dinner. This was done.

The boys looked the weapon over carefully, and Mountford commenced pulling the trigger. It snapped several times, and thinking there were no loads in the other chambers, he continued to snap the trigger. Great surprise was occasioned when a loud report was heard, indicating that a cartridge had been exploded. The ball entered Ross' right side just above the stomach.

P ss said that he was wounded and commenced to walk from the shop. Before he had gone far he became so weak that he could not continue the journey alone, and was assisted to Day's restaurant. There a physician was called, and a hasty examination made of the boy's injuries. It was found that the ball had broken a rib on the right side, and after passing through Ross' body lodged just under the skin on the left side. The condition of the boy was relieved as much as possible, and later he was removed to his home in the city ambulance.

Anoperation was performed on Ross last evening and the ball extracted. His condition was very low, however, and after the physicians had left the house Rev. D. W. McQuiston, pastor-elect of the Second U. P. church, was summoned and administered a baptismal service.

Matters were somewhat changed this morning, and at 10 o'clock the statement was made by relatives that his condition was much changed, and that the chances for his ultimate recovery seemed good. Another operation was performed on Ross this morning by Drs. Marshall and Hobbs.

The accident was the cause of the entire force of the turning shop quitting work yesterday afternoon. Everyone seemed so excited that no work could possibly be done. Young Mountford is so overcome with grief that he is confined to his room, and is said to be under the care of a physician. The relatives of Ross cast no blame upon Mountford.

THE CORONATION OF THE LAST EDWARD.

Edward VI, the last of his name before the present ruler of England to be crowned, ascended the throne just 355 years ago. His coronation pageant was, at the time, thought to be a very magnificent spectacle, but beside the one arranged for Edward VII it will seem like a rush light compared with a 2,000 candlepower electric light. Still, broadly speaking, fashions have changed in coronations less than in almost anything else that might be mentioned.

Those Who Swore to Be Faithful Proved Otherwise and Divorce Suits Followed—Non-Support and Desertion Charged.

Lisbon, June 22.—(Special)—Emma Pentland, of Rogers, has been granted a divorce from Henry Pentland, of Moon Run, Pa. They were married in 1894 and have one child, Jessie, of whom the mother was given the custody. Wilful absence for three years and habitual drunkenness was proved. Mrs. Pentland also said that her husband struck and otherwise abused her.

Joseph McGarvey, of Madison township, was given a divorce from Inez McGarvey, yesterday. They were married in 1891 and have one child, Verna, aged 10, who has been adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Beach, of Charleston, W. Va. Mrs. McGarvey left her husband and went to Altoona, Pa., with Lyons Henry. The couple seem to have traveled considerably, and finally located in Charleston, where they lived for some months.

Leona Hepburn, of West Point, has been granted a divorce from Morris Hepburn. They were married three years ago and have one child, of whom the mother was given the custody. She testified that her husband accused her of lewdness, said he never wanted to marry her and that the child was not his; that he did not support or care for her, and left soon after the child was born.

SHARON AGAIN SUFFERS DEFEAT

Many Changes Made in the East Liverpool Line-Up After the Battle Was On—Visitors Scored a Home Run—Final Score 5 to 4.

How it came to pass that Manager Walsh's ball team won from the Sharon team yesterday is well nigh unexplainable. From the start of the game until the fifth inning there were positively so many changes made in the local line-up that the official scorer was never sure that he was crediting the right man when he tallied a put-out or an assist.

The confusion was due to one thing. Harked lay down at his home to take a short nap before going to the game and instead of waking when he intended he remained in dreamland until after 4 o'clock. With his eyes about half open he appeared on the field at the beginning of the fifth inning and then the last change in the line-up was made. He was placed at his old position. Trainor was put out of the game and as J. Hackathorn arrived early in the game the man who was substituted for him was also benched and the contest continued without further interruption.

The visitors entered the park with the detemination of wiping their antagonists off the baseball world. At least they were heard to intimate as much on the evening previous. One of them said: "Just think, an insignificant team like East Liverpool whipped us today. You can bet that they won't do it tomorrow. We will show them what playing baseball is as compared with the game that they put up."

Well, they did play a little better than on the first day, but they failed in carrying out their expressed intentions. That they were allowed to score the majority of their runs in the first inning was not due to their expert batting or smooth base running. It was the result of Winters becoming excited and going in the air. He let the first two men up take a walk. The fourth man to hold a stick smashed the ball with such force that it would have been going yet had it not collided with the side of the hill, near the laundry. Trainor went on a mad run for the ball but when he found it the man had made the first home run of the season.

Winters cooled down in a short time and made things very interesting for the boasters. In the eighth he was disheartened somewhat when Mc Aleese stepped up and landed one very close to the spot picked out by Kerr Luckily it did not result disastrously There happened to be no one on bases and but one run was scored. This was their last one. They meant well and tried hard, but to no avail.

The locals, taken as a whole, played steadily throughout, doing their best at all stages and never lost heart. They made their runs in the first, second and fifth innings, and it is safe to say that the result might have been different had they not luckily landed on Kane in a bunch.

Fred Heckathorn once more acquitted himself to the taste of all the fans. He is certainly making a record and glad his friends are, because no man ever played a harder game than he.

Davis made amends for all past erroneous playing and covered himself with glory. One run, one hit, two put outs and six assists were his limit.

NEW FLOURING MILL

FAULK BROS. WILL ERECT A LARGE ONE IN CHESTER.

Site Purchased On Which a Three-Story Mill Will Be Built.

Chester is to have a new industry, and one of which the citizens may well feel proud. It will be a flour and feed mill of the most modern design. Work upon the erection of the plant will be commenced within a few weeks.

The deal was closed yesterday by the Faulk Bros.' company for the purchase of a tract of land near Fourth street, Chester, from J. E. McDonald, the consideration being in the neighborhood of $3,000. This land is between the Panhandle railroad and the street railway tracks, immediately back of the tool house of the railway company, and measures 100x140 feet. It is upon this site that the company will erect a modern three-story frame flour mill, which in reality will be the only modern mill of that character in the county. Employment will be given to a number of men, and the plant is expected to be in operation within the next four months.

S. J. Faulk, president of the company, when seen today, said: "We will commence excavating as soon as possible, and you must remember that it takes some time to build a modern mill of that kind. We will lose no time, however, in the erection of the mill, and will carry on practically the same kind of business that we have been doing here."

REVEALS SAD STORY

A Mother's Efforts to Keep a Secret Failed and Her Home Was Wrecked.

A letter written to a woman in New Cumberland by the matron of the Home for the Friendless in Cincinnati appears to have provoked a sensation in the latter city, according to the Cincinnati Post. The matron, Mrs. G. A. Kruse, has been discharged, as a result of the letter. It appears that the New Cumberland woman is toiling to keep the family and hide her daughter's shame. Mrs. Kruse admits having sent letters asking for money and threatening to send the girl's babe to her parents, and says she was authorized by one of the board of lady managers.

The West Virgina woman kept the knowledge of her daughter's fall from her husband. When he found Mrs. Kruse's letter he left his home. The wife had been supporting the family during her husband's long illness.

COAL LANDS UNDER LEASE

Deal Completed by a Syndicate for 20,000 Acres in Jefferson County.

WILL EMPLOY THOUSANDS

George W. Runyon, of Wellsville, and Thomas Bracken, of New York, have completed options on 20,000 acres of coal lands in Jefferson county for a New York syndicate and have signed papers for long leases on most of the property. They intend to develop the district and to sink several shafts before autumn.

Mr. Runyon made a deal Friday with Job Evans, of Youngstown, to make a series of drills with his coal testing machinery.

There are several veins in the top stratum being an outcropping and there is coal of different thickness and varying quality to a depth of 250 feet. It is the lower strata that will probably be worked, but the testing apparatus will be used to find out at what depth n the several portions of the district the best coal may be obtained.

The syndicate intends to work the leases thoroughly and will employ several thousand miners during the winter. Assurances have been given the company by the Wabash railroad that a route has been decided on through the region of the syndicate's coal leases so that shafts may be sunk along both the Wabash and Pennsylvania tracks.

Mr. Evans has agreed to begin his test bores July 1.

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY

Program Arranged for Their State Convention Here Early Next Week.

The eighth annual Ohio session of the Daughters of Liberty will be held in this city on next Tuesday and Wednesday. On Monday evening a reception will be given to the visiting delegates by the local councils, including a literary and musical program. On Tuesday evening a trolley ride has been arranged by the East End council, to be followed by a social in the hall in the East End. On Wednesday evening there will be an outing at Rock Springs park.

There will be present from 60 to 70 delegates, representing 35 councils, from all parts of this state. The councils in charge has spared neither trouble nor expense to make this one of the most pleasant sessions ever held.

The meetings and reception will be held in the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall over the postoffice.

A SETTLEMENT

OF TRENTON SANITARY WARE MATTER REACHED.

Conference Between Committee Reported to Have Terminated Satisfactorily.

Information has been received in the city stating that the conference at Trenton between the committees representing the sanitary manufacturers and the representatives of the Brotherhood, terminated last evening, as was predicted in this paper at the time, and that all matters had been settled to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Mr. Duffy is expected to return to the city this afternoon.

An Interesting Controversy.

There is an interesting controversy on between City Solicitor Boyd and Contractor Harrison Rinehart over the taking of gravel from lower Front street. The contractor says he has a right to get gravel there, having permission from the city. The solicitor says Rinehart must not dig the bank and will get Engineer Leith's opinion, and Rinehart must abide by it.

Y. M. C. A. Cadets Drill.

The military company of the Y. M. C. A. met last evening and drilled a few hours under command of Drillmaster McLane. The election of officers was postponed until the next meeting to be held on Friday evening, June 27.

CONFERENCE TO BE ARRANGED

Communication Setting Forth This Decision Sent to Secretary Duffy.

An answer from the Western Manufacturing Potters' association has been forwarded to Secretary Thomas J. Duffy, of the National Brotherhood of Operative potters, in reference to the communication that was sent to the manufacturers by Mr. Duffy. The reply was received at the Brotherhood headquarters yesterday and in substance says that the conference committee representing the manufacturers is willing to meet the representatives of the Brotherhood at a date that is to be mutually agreed upon.

President Albert S. Hughes, of the N. B. of O. P., today admitted having received the communication from the manufacturers, but further he would not talk.

Joseph G. Lee, president of the manufacturers' assiciation, had nothing to say concerning the communication, saying he was not a member of the committee.

The time for the conference will probably be settled during the coming week, and the sessions are likely to be held some time during the week following.

PETTY THIEVES ACTIVE

Several Recent Complaints—Pottery Loses $25 Worth of Brass and Iron.

Petty thieves have started their work again in this city. Several reports of their work have reached the police lately, and Chief Thompson has ordered that a strict watch be instituted for the guilty parties.

An employe of the C. C. Thompson Pottery company this morning reported that $25 worth of brass and iron was stolen from the pottery last night.

A NEW THEATER FOR THIS CITY

KENTUCKIANS WANT A SITE FOR AN OPERA HOUSE.

Will Build It If Satisfied With Price and Location.

It is very probably that East Liverpool will soon have another opera house. From the following letter written to City Clerk Davidson by Smith & Coralt, theatrical managers of Newport, Ky., it will be seen that if suitable terms can be secured the building will be erected at once:

"My Dear Sir—We have under consideration the erection of a first-class opera house in your city, and we desire an available location. If you will put us on to several sites suitable for that purpose and give prices for the same, you will confer a favor that will be properly returned. We have heard from traveling managers that an up-to-date house is needed in your city and when this is an assured fact the best theatrical attractions will surely follow."

Mr. Davidson has some very appropriate locations in mind, and will notify the gentlemen immediately. The sites that he will recommend are central, being within a block of the Diamond.

Brooks-Woods.

Miss Rebecca F. Brooks and Edward J. Woods were married on Thursday evening by Rev. C. G. Jordan at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. R. Caldwell. The happy couple immediately departed for Cleveland, where they will make their home. The groom's former home was at Lafayette, Ind. The bride is well known and popular here.

A Fire in the Night.

A coal house at the rear of Mrs. S. A. Rigby's home between Market and Jackson streets was burned to the ground last night shortly after 11 o'clock. The firemen and a large crowd collected and in a few moments had adjoining buildings safe. Loss $40.

LIMITED CREDIT

Grocers Decided That Customers Must Settle Every Two Weeks.

At the meeting of the Grocers' association held on Thursday evening decisive steps were taken to solve several difficult problems which have been before local merchants and especially the grocers. The committee appointed to report on the credit system studied the matter over considerably and the suggestion presented was heartily indorsed by the association.

According to the adopted report no person who is in debt to a grocer will be given credit by another and hereafter the credit of all will be limited to two weeks.

BUCHHEIT A PRISONER IN THE COUNTY JAIL

John Buchheit arrived in the city last night from Akron, and visited his son, Edward, in his cell at central police station. The meeting of father and son was very affecting.

The result of their conversation is not known, but the elder Buchheit stated to the police that he was not in a position to go on his son's bond for so large an amount as $5,000, and in consequence the mayor ordered the prisoner taken to the county jail at Lisbon this morning. Officer Morris and Peter Laughlin were given custody of the prisoner and Mary Milliron, the most important witness in the case, and they left for Lisbon at 9 o'clock.

Prosecutor Brookes states that the special grand jury will be in session next Thursday and that Buchheit's case will be presented on that day.

EAST END

P. H. C. RECEPTION

The Hall Crowded With Visitors and Members of the Order. Enjoyable Program.

A more pleasant gathering was never witnessed in the East End than at the reception given by the Eureka circle of the Protected Home circle, in its hall in the East End last evening. The spacious room was crowded with visiting members of the order and their families, while a good representation of the other lodges meeting in the East End was also present.

During the evening a number of addresses were made, and later in the evening luncheon was served. The affair was a most enjoyable one, and a success in every particular.

New Summer Cars Soon.

The East Liverpool railway company has completed the work of placing a turn table at the eastern terminus of the line, and it will not be long until the company will place the summer cars on the line. Work was begun this morning constructing the second switch just east of the trestle, and a force of men are repairing the tracks on Mulberry street.

New Pastor to Preach.

Rev. D. W. McQuiston, pastor-elect of the Second United Presbyterian church, will conduct the usual services at the church tomorrow. He arrived in the East End yesterday, and is now at the residence of Mrs. Pittinger, First avenue. His family will not come to this city for several weeks.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

In a six inning game at Columbian park last evening the East End Athletics defeated the Parrots by a score of 4 to 3. The batteries were Hartzell and Burns; Lake and Wheatley.

Sheridan Mullins, aged 7, is critically ill at the home of his parents near Columbian park.

An electric traction brake will soon be placed on one of the cars of the East Liverpool railway company. It will be the same design that has been used on several of the cars on the Rock Springs line for several weeks.

C. & P. DOUBLE TRACK

Contractor Stringer at Work on a Portion of it at Freeman.

Toronto, O., June 21.—(Special)—T. J. Stringer, of Portland, yesterday began his contract at Freeman's Station for building a portion of the C. & P. double track, as well as making fills 50 feet wide for a new country road extending from above Freeman's Station to Elliottsville, a distance of nearly one mile. Some years ago the C. & P., in changing the grade of the track, so encroached on the country road that but a narrow passage was left, and it has been known as a most dangerous place for travelers along the highway. The Jefferson county commissioners, after long litigation, finally won their case against the railroad company and compelled it to make a suitable road at this point.

The laying of the railway track, too, at this point will connect sidings nearly all the way from above Empire to Markle, below Toronto, a distance of seven miles, and as it is the policy of the C. & P. officials to connect all siding along the river division, forming a second track, the connections between Torinto and Steubenville will not require many long grades, and further the double tracking movement, now begun at different points along the C. & P. river division.

BOOMING COAL DISTRICT

Numerous New Mines In Jefferson County, With New Railroads.

The Bergholz coal district, along the line of the Lake Erie, Alliance & Southern railroad, is booming now, says Oliver Roseberry, of New Cumberland, who has for the past two years been taking many options in coal lands in that section, and has recently secured a large number. The Ohio and Pennsylvania Coal company is now operating its new mine already opened, and has begun the opening of another, while a third mine opening is contemplated.

Along the new extension of the L. E. A. & S., towards Dillonvale, in the southern end of Jefferson county, there will be quite a number of mines opened by Messrs. Willard and others. The work of laying track on this new extension is progressing with vigor, the grading also being complete so far as Dillonvale, where the route will for the present be connected by siding with the W. & L. E. road for exchange of traffic.

The survey is progressing on the L. E. A. & S. for its extension from Dillonvale to Wheeling. Should this latter work be fully consummated the L. E. A. & S. will be quite a rival of the W. & L. E. for the coal traffic in Jefferson county up to the great lakes.

NEGROES HANGED FOR MURDER.

Each of Them Had Killed a Man, Previous to Crime.

Elliott City, Md., June 21.—Frank Jones and John Johnson, the negro murderers of Israel Radetsky, a Hebrew peddler, were hanged yesterday morning. Radetsky was shot and then beaten to death with pick handles and robbed on March 4, at Hollofields. Jones confessed afterwards and Johnson denied all knowledge of the crime.

Johnson made two attempts at suicide last week, after confessing that he killed John Harman in Anne Arundel county a year ago. He feigned insanity several times after his arrest. Johnson also killed a fellow convict in the Kentucky penitentiary and escaped while serving a term of 21 years.

ATTEMPT AT LYNCHING.

Young Man Probably Fatally Shot by One of Three Italians.

New Kensington, Pa., June 21.—David James and John C. Arb, striking miners from ... Dell, yesterday afternoon approached three Italians, who got off a train, to persuade them to stay from the mines. The Italians, misunderstanding, assaulted the two men. Frank James, seeing the assault, ran to his father's assistance. Dominick Sandolf shot him, probably fatally. Citizens caught them and turned them over to officers. Last night a mob tried to lynch them, while they were at the station, to be taken to Greensburg jail. The officers finally got them out of the station and to the borough lockup.

Anti-Trust Law Declared Void.

Chicago, June 21.—In a decision given yesterday Judge Elbridge Hanecy, of the state circuit court, held that the Illinois anti-trust law of 1891 is unconstitutional and void in all its parts. He ordered a finding in favor of the defendant in the case of the people, on relation of the attorney general, against the Butler Street Foundry and Iron company.

College Boat Races Today.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 21.—This afternoon the big college regattas will take place here. There will be three races, the four-oared race, the freshman race and the 'varsity race. The six college crews which will take part are from Pennsylvania, Cornell, Wisconsin, Columbia, Georgetown and Syracuse.

Her Cooking.

She—You say she won three husbands by her cooking?

He—That's what she did.

"But how did she get rid of the husbands after she won them?"

"Oh, I believe her cooking had something to do with that too."—Yonkers Statesman.

The Motto That Suited.

"It would be helpful to you," said the prison visitor, "if you could take some motto and try to live up to it."

"That's right," replied the convict. "I'd like to select, for instance, 'We are here today and gone tomorrow.'"

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

George Meredith, the English poet, will have an honorary degree conferred upon him shortly by the University of Wales.

Israel Zangwill has been the object of another distinction. The Bucharest Hebrews have just formed a new Zionist society and have given it the name of the author of "The Children of the Ghetto."

Francis M. Handley, once a chamberlain to Pius IX. and Leo XIII. and now a citizen of the United States, has just finished a bust of his daughter-in-law in Milwaukee, where he is now living. This is the first art work he has done for twenty years.

Sidney Cooper, R. A., the animal painter, bequeathed his last picture to the corporation of Canterbury, the town of his birth, where he founded an art school and museum. The picture is to be placed in the Sidney Cooper art gallery, which is also willed to Canterbury.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL.

The City of Mexico in its great preparatory school has replaced Latin by English and made it a four years' obligatory course.

Beecher hall, built in 1829 by Yale men and named in honor of Lyman Beecher, is still standing on the grounds of Illinois college at Jacksonville.

John Henry Sheldon Lee, assistant state's attorney for Cook county, Ill., has been appointed professor of criminal law and criminal procedure in the Northwestern university law school.

President Hadley of Yale university denies that an offer of $8,000 a year had been offered to Barrett Wendell, professor of English at Harvard, to come to Yale to accept a full professorship of English composition and Elizabethan literature.

A SKIFF STOLEN

Disappeared From Walker and Was Found Far Down the River.

A valuable skiff belonging to A. E. McDonald, of this city, was stolen from McDonald's landing, opposite Walker, Wednesday evening. Yesterday Mr. McDonald received a telegram from C. H. Breen, ferryman at Freeman's landing, W. Va., which stated that the skiff was in his possession and that he would hold it for him.

Mr. McDonald believes the boat was taken by a confederate of the man who escaped from Chester jaid. He offers $20 for the arrest of the thief.

HONORS FOR MARLBOROUGH

King Confers the Order of the Garter on the Young Duke.

The most noble Order of the Garter, which King Edward has just conferred on the Duke of Marlborough, is the highest honor of British knighthood. The Order of the Garter was founded by King Edward III. about 1348 and ranks as the most illustrious of its kind. The order is limited to twenty-five knights companions, chosen, with hardly any exception, from the British nobility, together with the sovereign and the Prince of Wales. There are, however, extra knights, who include princes of the blood and foreign rulers and dignitaries, upon whom the king confers the honor.

When a vacancy occurs in the ranks of the twenty-five knights companions, the order may be conferred on any nobleman of the first rank who may be eligible, as in the present instance, or for distinguished political services, as in the case of Lord Kimberley, whom Marlborough succeeds. The Duchess of Marlborough is the daughter of W. K. Vanderbilt of New York.

Miss Florence Allan

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN WHO PRAISE PERUNA.

Worn Out And Nervous Regained Their Health And Beauty By Taking Peruna.

Miss Florence Allan, a beautiful Chicago girl, writes the following to Dr. S. B. Hartman concerning his catarrhal tonic, Peruna:

75 Walton Place, Chicago, Ill.

"As a tonic for a worn-out system, Peruna stands at the head in my estimation. Its effects are truly wonderful in rejuvenating the entire system. I keep it on hand all the time, and never have that 'tired feeling,' as a few doses always make me feel like a different woman."---Florence Allan.

Thousands of women suffer from systemic catarrh. This is sure to produce such symptoms as cold feet and hands, sick headache, palpitation of the heart and heavy feelings in the stomach.

Then begins a series of experiments. They take medicine for sick headache. They take medicine for nervous prostration, for palpitation of the heart, for dyspepsia. None of these medicines do any good because they do not reach the cause of the complaint.

Peruna at once mitigates all these symptoms by removing the cause.

Systemic catarrh is the trouble. Systemic catarrh pervades the whole system, deranges every organ, weakens every function. No permanent cure can be expected until the systemic catarrh is removed.

This is exactly what Peruna will do.

Miss Cullen Was Exhausted From Over Study.

Miss Rose Cullen, President of the Young Woman's Club, Butte, Montana, writes:

921 Galena street, Butte, Mont.
Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen—"Peruna has many friends in Butte. I cannot say too much in praise of it. While finishing school I became very nervous and exhausted from overstudy. I was weak and sick, and could neither eat, sleep nor enjoy life. A couple bottles of Peruna put new life in me. I find by having it in the house and taking a dose off and on it keeps me in fine health. A large number of my friends place Peruna at the head of all medicines."—Rose Cullen.

Peruna is especially adapted to protecting against and curing nervous diseases of run-down women, as the testimonial of Miss Cullen indicates.

Miss Blanche Myers, 3120 Penn street, Kansas City, Mo., has the following to say of Peruna:

"During each of the past four seasons I have caught a severe cold, when suddenly chilled after an evening party, and catarrh for several weeks would be the result. One bottle of Peruna cured me, and I shall not dread colds any more as I did."—Blanche Myers.

An excellent little treatise on "Health and Beauty," written especially for women, by Dr. Hartman, will be sent free to any address by The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio.

Gen. Lloyd Wheaton said in his last report before retiring from his Philippine command: "The humane code of the laws of war, as pursued during the administration of President Lincoln, was followed in all operations against semi-civilized insurgents, who habitually violated every law of war known to civilized nations and who treated their own people with every barbarity that can be inflicted upon the helpless. My service in these islands soon terminating, I wish to express my highest appreciation of the gallant conduct, the courage and humanity of the troops it has been my honor and good fortune to command. The officers deserve the gratitude of their countrymen and the men the gratitude and love of every patriotic American." The general stated that a firm and thorough policy against assassins and disturbers of order was all that was necessary to maintain peaceful conditions. All of which is respectfully submitted for the consideration of the little Americans who delight in picturing United States soldiers as brutes and savages.

Spinach.

Spinach derives its name from the Spanish monks, who first used it during fast days. It belongs to the beet family and is generally served as a vegetable, although it makes a delicate and appetizing salad. In the spring, when mint is fresh and green, a few leaves added to the spinach will improve the flavor, whether it is served as a vegetable or a salad.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN THE POTTERIES

Special Correspondence.

Wheeling, June 21.—The Riverside sanitary pottery is enjoying the busiest season it has had for many years. Every presser is making five closets a day, and owing to the condition of business it is said that the plant will not remain idle long during the early part of July. As many of the employes have homes in other parts, they have asked the firm for a two weeks' vacation, but it is not known whether this will be granted.

William White, James Atwell and Patrick Crogan, of the Riverside plant, have arranged to spend a few days at their former homes in Baltimore. It is stated that when Mr. White returns to Wheeling he will be accompanied by his bride.

U. S. Bennett, a presser at the Riverside, is planning a trip to East Liverpool, where he will spend a few weeks with his parents. He will be accompanied by his family.

Edward Pell, well known in East Liverpool, and formerly employed at Sebring, but now located at Wheeling, will spend a few weeks hunting in the Cheat mountains. He expects to leave within a few days.

George Cartridge, who has been operating a cup jigger at the Steubenville pottery, is now located at Wheeling.

Thomas Smith, late of Kikomo, Ind., is the latest arrival here. He is employed at the Riverside plant.

William Wilson, a popular presser at the Riverside, who has been unable to work for several weeks with illness, is recovering and will be able to resume his bench next week.

During the past week an eastern buyer spent several days in this city looking for nothing but novelties. That was all he wanted, just "something new." Finally one of the largest orders of the season was presented to a river firm, and the novelty he ordered just suited his business. This proves the statement that was made in this paper several weeks ago that many of the potteries of the city propose to go after new trade with an up-to-date line. There is no question in the minds of some manufacturers that something more than dinner and toilet ware must be made in the local potteries. Many believe in branching out, and some have already commenced to do it. In making a line of novelties the local potteries by pushing them will also be able to sell more staple ware.

It is almost definitely settled that many of the local potteries will close next Saturday evening for the summer shut down, remaining so for not more than two weeks. This decision has been sent out from the office of one of the largest potteries in the city, and the men are now planning all sorts of trips. Some of the manufacturers who have been seen state they do not care to express themselves as to when their plants will close, but it is the general belief that practically all the plants will shut down on next Saturday evening. During the shut down, which is expected to be brief, many repairs will be made about the shops, and improvements made wherever needed.

Gilders,' ground layers' and liners' local No. 19, at a meeting Thursday evening, elected the following officers for a term of six months: President, Albert Taylor; vice president, Frank Mackey; recording secretary, A. L. Seckerson; financial secretary, Miss Allum; one per cent secretary, Miss Lizzie Davis; treasurer, Mrs. Buchanan; inspector, William Heath; guard, Ernest Simpson; trustee for 18 months, Jack Tarr.

Judging from the manner in which work is progressing at the Laughlin No. 3, that new plant will be in full operation by July 15. There is a good force of workmen in the clay department. In the kiln department only one crew of bisque and one of glost kilnmen are employed. However, arrangements are being made to start additional crews soon, and when this is done the plant will be operated to its capacity.

The contract for the machinery that is to be placed in the new plant that will be built by the East Liverpool Brick Manufacturing company has been placed, having been secured by a Pittsburg firm. This machinery is the most modern made, and is said to have cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. It will be but a few weeks before work will be commenced excavating for the foundation of the new plant.

H. A. McNicol, of the Dresden pottery company, and Samuel Ferguson, of the East Liverpool Potteries company, who formed a committee to confer with mestern wanufacturers on matters pertaining to business considered at the recent meeting of the Western Manufacturing Potters' association, returned to the city last evening, having been absent just one week.

The clay grinding plant of the West Virginia Fire Clay company, opposite Toronto, operated by the Ballentyne Bros., of New Cumberland, by the addition of a new boiler and clay crusher has now been entirely rehabilitated with new machinery. Since its inception, some ten or twelve years ago, the growth of this plant in production and enlargement has been quite rapid.

The News Review has, within the past few days, completed the task of securing a capable correspondent in every town in which a pottery is located. News letters from a number of towns have already been published, and the pottery department of this paper, already the best, will be made still better henceforth.

The Black horse sewer pipe plant, owned by the American Sewer Pipe company, located below New Cumberland, has been completely remodeled, and large new tunnel dodgers for brick making put in; also a new Corliss engine and clay crusher, at a cost of $15,000.

Kilndrawers' union No. 17, at a meeting tonight, will elect officers for the new term. The first nominations were made last Saturday evening, and they will be closed this evening and the election held. Some other important business is also to be transacted.

William Haught, a clay maker at the East Palestine pottery, had the small finger of his right hand cut off while at work yesterday. He put his arm in the pug mill and the knives severed the finger.

The regular meeting of the Potters' Exchange was held this week, in the rooms of the Potters' club, but no business other than that of a routine nature was considered.

W. C. Smith, a glost kilnman at the Laughlin No. 3, who has been unable to work for several days on account of illness, returned to his bench yesterday.

C. A. Saunders, a buyer from Houston, Tex., has been spending several weeks in the city, placing some good business. He left today for the east.

Phinney's Farewell at Buffalo.

"The people of the Pan-American Exposition were sorry to see Phinney's band leave," says the Buffalo Courier. "The Chicago organization played its last in the Plaza band stand. The crowd was densely packed. At various numbers of the excellent program great applause was evoked, till the final number. Enthusiasm semed to run over the multitude. Still another rendition failed to quiet them, and then Director Phinney lifted his baton and the band swung into the tuneful measures of "Auld Lang Syne." With grand, slow, swelling chords it pursued till, nearing the end, the volume was stupendous, when slowly, sweetly and sadly, it diminished to a barely perceptible murmur of farewell."

Only practical experience teaches which is the best way to prepare this ointment or that tonic. We had the Pharmacy College training, and we've been at it a great many years since. Physicians know that we can prepare medicines on their prescriptions exactly as they want it. That's why they often send their prescriptions, especially the difficult prescriptions to us.

Maczenzie Oil and Gas Company Expects Good Results From Oil Tests.

The Mackenzie Oil and Gas company of Wellsville anticipates good results from developments at the head of Island Creek, near Richmond, Jefferson county. It is considered by all interested to be fine oil property. A. G. Mackenzie and Charles C. Lawson, the only Wellsville people in the deal, went to Richmond Thursday morning. They met there another member of the company, Squire J. C. Riley, of Richmond, and surveyed the field.

Rich strikes have been made in that vicinity lately, there being excellent producing wells on the Morrow, Williamson, McClelland and other farms. The old Island Creek district was prolific several years ago and the Mackenzie tract is adjacent.

There has been a rush of speculators into that territory, but farmers have been chary about leasing. Squire Riley is well known and owing to his integrity the land owners were readily convinced that the Mackenzie company meant business. During the week leases will have been signed on a compact tract of 1,500 acres. Three Pittsburg capitalists are interested. The company will be incorporated.

The Jefferson county leases are in the hills and oil is found in the Berea sand at a depth of 1,400 feet. There is both oil and gas.

WIZARDS IN CONVENTION.

Electrical Sharps Meet For Their Annual Hobnobbing.

Extensive preparations have been made in Great Barrington, Mass., to entertain the annual convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. For the first time in its history the convention meets in a country town. Heretofore the institute has met in the great cities of the country, New York, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco having previously been selected.

The institute comprises the leading electrical inventors of the country, and the fact that Tesla, Edison and others of great fame have announced their intention to be present has made interest in the convention international.

The institute chose the Berkshire hills this year on the personal invitation of William Stanley of Great Barrington, an inventor of renown and a member of the institute. Over 200 members of the institute, many with ladies, will enjoy the hospitality of the town. The village will be in gala dress, and illuminations by night and flags and flowers by day will serve to show the town's appreciation of the honor conferred by the institute.

The ladies of the Thursday Morning club of Great Barrington have arranged fetes and social festivities for the entertainment of the ladies of the party.

The work of the convention begins June 18, when many papers on electrical subjects will be read. The public will be entertained by a lecture by Professor Elihu Thompson. During the convention Dr. A. E. Kennelly of Philadelphia, one of the leading physicists of the day, will address the ladies of Great Barrington. Nikola Tesla and Thomas A. Edison are also expected to deliver public lectures.

The social features of the convention include receptions, visits to various points of interest in the Berkshire hills and a grand ball at the Berkshire inn at Lenox.

An interesting feature of the convention will be the experiments with the Marconi system of telegraphy.

A New Company Proposes to Furnish Gas to Chester—Oil Field Notes.

A new company, incorporated under the name of the Line Island Gas company, has been organized, and will drill for gas near Chester. Frank G. Chapman, of East Liverpool, who drilled some wells on the Joseph Kinney farm several years ago, is the manager of the new company. Seven hundred acres of land have been leased by them and they will drill a large number of wells. It has been stated that the Chester tin mill will use all the gas they can produce, so that a market can be secured at home. The company will start operations in a short time. Machinery has been ordered and is expected to arrive soon.

Murray & Miller, whose oil field is located near New Cumberland, drilled in another well the fore part of this week, which is thought to be good for at least 75 barrels a day, and which will very materially add to their alrealy large production.

Mildred No. 4, on the John Watson place, was drilled in Tuesday and has proved itself the best well in the Moscow field. Fifty feet of the well filled up as soon as the sand was struck. It is good for at least 25 barrels a day.

A big power plant is being put in by LaComte & Co., for the purpise of pumping their wells. The gas engine and other machinery for the plant arrived last week, and has been hauled to the field.

BATHING IN PUBLIC

Chester Chief of Police Proposes to Put a Stop to the Practice at Once.

East Liverpool and Chester young men and boys have been in the habit of going swimming on the Chester side of the river near the bridge, and in full sight of the general public, for some time. This practice will soon be stopped, and the boys who desire to swim will either have to don their bathing suits, or else go outside the town limits.

The matter was brought to the attention of council at its meeting Thursday night by Councilman Wells, who stated that there was an ordinance against the offense which should be enforced by the town authorities and arrests made. Councilman Riley stated he had also seen the boys bathing, and thought some definite action ought to be taken at once against the offenders.

Sargeant Allison said that he would see to it that the ordinance was enforced, and that he would arrest the next person he caught bathing publicly. The first offender will be fined to the fullest extent of the law to serve as an example for the rest, and perhaps in this way the practice will be broken up.

Held For the Grand Jury.

Connelly, the pickpocket arrested in Chester, had a hearing at New Cumberland yesterday, and was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury which convenes Monday.

One of the detectives on the case said pickpockets got fully $500 from Homestead picnickers.

The Biggest Not the Best.

A New York dealer who has handled shiploads of fruit said recently: "It is often amusing to see men, women and children picking out, as they believe, the choicest fruit at the market stands. If there are a half a dozen large oranges within sight, they will have them, even if it is necessary to overturn all the rest in the box or barrel, and this is true with most all other varieties that are sold by the piece or dozen. They invariably get the poorest specimens of the whole crop and yet are not aware of it. Very rarely you will find a person who is a good judge who will at once size up the heaviest oranges, lemons or bananas, regardless of size, and they capture the choicest fruit."

Why Two Ears Are Necessary.

Sound travels by waves radiating from a central point of disturbance, just as waves radiate when a stone is dropped into still water. So far as the hearing of each individual is concerned these waves move in a direct line from the cause of the sound to his ear, the impact being the greatest in the ear nearest to the source. This being the case, a person who has totally lost the sense of hearing in one ear, although he may imagine that the defect is of little consequence, cannot locate the direction of a sound to save his life, even when the center of disturbance is quite near him.

A Literary Light.

A short time ago a well known writer of London, remembering that he had never read the noncanonical books, went out in search of a copy and in one bookshop after another drew blank. At last he went to his own particular newspaper shop, which also dealt in Bibles and light literature. "Have you the Apocrypha?" he asked. For a moment the young woman behind the counter was puzzled; then, brightening, she said, "Is it a weekly or a monthly?"

Young Corbett and Sullivan.

Articles have been signed for a fight between Dave Sullivan and Young Corbett, to take place June 20 at Denver. The men are to weigh at 127 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Five hundred dollars has been deposited by each as a forfeit for weight, and the Coliseum club has deposited a like amount as a guarantee that the fight will come off.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

The "Wizard" Has Another.

"It is now up to the manufacturers of automobiles to produce a cheap carriage," said Thomas A. Edison the other day. "I have, after three years of hard work, solved the problem of an electrical storage battery which can be used for long distance work and which will wear out three or four automobiles before it will succumb itself." In Mr. Edison's new battery a combination of steel and nickel suspended in an alkaline solution takes the place of lead and makes a much lighter battery than the one at present used. The batteries now used will not run more than forty miles without recharging, while Mr. Edison claims that his batteries have already shown a capacity of 100 miles. On this point the "wizard" said:

"I am going to start an automobile out for an endurance test of 5,000 miles. I shall make five separate tests of this kind with different machines, and if I do not produce a battery that will last for more than 5,000 miles I won't sell a single one of them."

How Nevins Went West.

Thomas Nevins, the "American Irishman" who proposes, according to the papers, to introduce Irish granite as a paving material into Great Britain, thus displacing Scotch stone, is from East Orange, N. J., and not from Chicago, as the dispatches had it. And his last enterprise is exactly what might be expected from him, since it was in the building of roads in East Orange that he won the big fortune that enabled him a few years ago to go back to Ireland and buy the castle which graces the fine old estate on which he was born more than threescore years ago.

Nevins is a picturesque figure. His rise in life was not assisted by the culture that is secured in the schools, and when he landed in New York about half a century ago he had no money at all. He didn't get on well in the city, and one day he asked an acquaintance what he had better do. In the words of Horace Greeley the acquaintance said, "Go west, young man." So Nevins decided to strike out for the setting sun. He had no idea how far "west" he ought to go, and he started via a ferryboat for the shores of New Jersey. Landed at Hoboken, he took up his journey on foot. When he got to East Orange, he met a man who offered him a job as a stable boy. Then he took note of the badness of the Jersey roads. Later he got some one to back him in an attempt to improve them. Today the roads about East Orange are as fine as any in America and finer than most. Nevins never went farther west than East Orange, so to speak, until he had made a good beginning in the amassing of the millions that now are his.

Doesn't Fear Ship Combine.

At the annual meeting of the London chamber of commerce held May 28 Lord Brassey, the presiding officer, presented an address which dealt mainly with the shipping question. In discussing the ship combination of which J. P. Morgan is the head Lord Brassey said: "Let us not lose our national dignity in unavailing and groundless alarm. Our position as a maritime nation is assured beyond the reach of competition, and we shall hold our position against all comers because we build ships more cheaply and with or without foreign crews sail them more cheaply than any of our rivals." Lord Brassey admitted, however, that British shipbuilders must look to their laurels in the construction of ocean greyhounds.

Sam Clemens' New Maxims.

Mark Twain has added two new maxims to the world's already valuable collection. They are as follows: "We ought never to do wrong when people are looking" and "No real gentleman will tell the naked truth in the presence of ladies."

Still Young.

Teacher—I am surprised that you are not further advanced. You are extremely backward for your age.

Little Girl—Yes'm. Mamma wants to marry again.

A Good Hearted Man,

or in other words, men with good sound hearts, are not very numerous. The increasing number of sudden deaths from heart disease daily chronicled by the press, is proof of the alarming prevalence of this dangerous complaint, and as no one can foretell just when a fatal collapse will occur, the danger of neglecting treatment is certainly a very risky matter. If you are short of breath, have pain in left side, smothering spells, palpitation, unable to lie on side, especially the left, you should begin taking

Drury Lane.

Drury lane was named after the great family of the Drurys who once lived there, and Clare market after Lord Clare. The fame of Drury lane is worldwide. Who has not heard of the famous pantomimes at Drury Lane theater and of the many famous actors and actresses who have played there? Who has not read of the wild exploits of Nell Gwynn, the flower girl, who obtained such an ascendency over the Merrie Monarch? Pepys calls her "Pretty Nell" and records how he saw her in Drury lane "standing at her lodging's door in her smock sleeves and bodice, a mighty pretty creature."—Chambers' Journal.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY TELEPHONE RATES

NOT TO BE INCREASED AT PRESENT TO REGULAR SUBSCRIBERS.

Aim of Management is to Correct Abuses of the Toll Lines By Those Who Do Not Pay.

June 19, 1902.

As there seems to be a great deal of talk and worry about the readjustment of the telephone rates, I desire to say that the readjustment does not and will not affect the old subscribers now, and their wants and wishes will always be respected by this company. I desire to say that our present aim is to do away with the intolerable abuse of our toll lines. By this I mean that a great many non-subscribers have been stealing the use of the lines to such an extent that it is not only an injury to ourselves in a financial way, but to our subscribers, and compels us to take steps to protect our subscribers as well as ourselves, and we assure them they will always get full value for money paid us. You will also note that the next bills will be for the same amount as heretofore.

Very Truly,

This making of new champions that do not fit the old and legitimate notches demands a general revision of weights. If not that, then some kind of arrangement should be made for more champions. As the matter stands at present there are too many pounds between the bantam, feather and light weights. With the high mark for bantams at 115 pounds a hundred and eighteen pound youngster would be a full fledged featherweight, and as such would be compelled to fight a hundred and twenty-eight or a hundred and thirty pounder for the championship, and a hundred and five pound bantam would have to cope with a hundred and fifteen pounder. This is too big a handicap, but the champions in those two classes demand aspirants for their honors must fight at the weights they set. Unfortunately there is no governing power in pugilism, and the high weights in the bantam and feather weight classes, at least, will remain intact until some light bantam or feather comes along, trims the champions and sets the weights back to the old limit.

Unexpected Applause.

Shortly after Mr. Wilson Barrett joined the theatrical profession he became a member of a company performing at the old Theater Royal, Dublin. His part, naturally, was a small one, and, greatly to his surprise, his first speech was greeted with a round of applause. This unlooked for tribute elated the young actor, and he exerted himself to sustain the good impression he appeared to have made. Just as he was leaving the theater one of the scene shifters grinningly accosted him and said, "Sure, it's got about among the bhoys that ye're a brother of the man that was hung!" A Fenian named Barrett had that morning paid the extreme penalty of the law.

An English paper tells a story of some children's theatricals. A party of children were giving a little drama of their own, in which courtships and weddings played a leading part in the plot. While the play was in progress one of the grownups went behind the scenes and found a very small girl sitting in the corner.

"Why are you left out?" he asked. "Aren't you playing too?"

"Oh, I'm not left out," came the reply. "I'm the baby waiting to be borned."

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Picnic on Monday—The First Presbyterian Sunday school and church picnic will be held on Monday at Rock Springs.

Musical Service—The first of a series of musical services will be given in St. Stephen's Episcopal church on Sunday at 8 p. m.

Remodeling the Bank.—The contract for the remodeling of the lower portion of the Citizen's National bank has been let, and the work will commence in a few days.

Clothes for the Poor—The ladies of the First M. E. church met yesterday and began work upon a quantity of clothes which they are making for poor children of the city. They expect to meet again next week to pursue the same good work.

Coronation Service—Owing to many English people residing in this city, the bishop of the diocese has sanctioned a coronation service, to be held at St. Stephen's Episcopal church, at 10 a. m. next Thursday. Particulars will be given on Monday.

Big Church Picnic—The annual Sunday school picnic of the United Presbyterian churches of this city, Wellsville, Calcutta and the Southside was held yesterday at Rock Springs park. It is estimated that from 500 to 700 persons enjoyed the day's outing.

Social a Success—The strawberry and ice cream social given last evening in the Thompson-Hobbs building by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church was voted a decided success. An artistic flower booth and pretty candy and lemonade booths lent attraction. In the evening the Peerless Mandolin club furnished music. The social was quite largely attended last evening and preparations are made for a larger crowd tonight.

FOURTH DISTRICT CONVENTION.

Sunrise Prayer Meeting Opened Yesterday's Proceedings—Among the Speakers at Convention Was Rev. Loughry, of Uniontown, Pa.

Washington, June 21.—President Roosevelt yesterday afternoon received the officers and delegates attending the fourth general conference district Epworth League convention, which began Thursday night. Over 200 leaguers marched to the executive mansion and shook hands with the chief executive.

A sunrise prayer meeting at the Metropolitan M. E. church opened the day's session of the convention yesterday, which continued throughout yesterday afternoon and last evening. Among those who addressed the convention were Rev. Dr. John H. Miller, of Parkersburg, W. Va., on "The Spirit of the Fathers;" Rev. Dr. Wilbur L. Davidson, secretary of the American university, on "Young People and Skepticism;" Mr. E. S. La Petra, of Washington, on "The Laymen's Work in the League;" Rev. E G. Loughry, of Uniontown, Pa., on "The Church, Its Young Men;" Mrs. Annie E. Smiley, on "The Boys and Girls in the League;" Rev. Hosaic L. Jacobs, of Altoona, Pa., on "The Making of Men," and Rev. S. J. KAISER SPEAKS FOR RELICION.

Appeals to Protestant and Catholic to Help Him Uphold Faith on Which The Empire Is Founded.

Aix-La-Chapelle, Prussia, June 21.—A striking speech was delivered by Emperor William at the city hall here Thursday, after his arrival from Bonn, accompanied by the empress and crown prince, Frederick William. He said in part:

"But it must not be forgotten that the empire was rooted in simplicity and fear of God. I look to all, priests and laymen, to help me uphold religion among the people, in order that the German name may preserve its health and strength. This applies equally to the two creeds, Catholic and Protestant.

"It is with pride and joy that I am able to tell you that the pope said to my special ambassador who went to Rome on the occasion of the holy father's jubilee, that he had always kept a high opinion of the piety of the Germans, and especially that of the German army. The pope asked my ambassador to tell his sovereign that the country in Europe where control, order and discipline still prevailed, with respect for authority and regard for the church and where the church could live, was the German empire, and for that the papal see was indebted to the German emperor.

Great Creeds Must Have One Aim.

"This justifies me in saying that our two great creeds must while living side by side keep in view their one great aim—to uphold and strengthen the fear of God and reverence for religion. Whether we are moderns or whether we labor in this or that field does not matter at all. He who does not found his life on religion is a lost man. I rejoice that I have placed my whole empire, my people and my army, as well as myself and my house, beneath the cross and under the protection of him who said: 'Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My words shall not pass away.'"

POPE ACCEPTS MAIN POINTS.

O'Gorman Assured—Taft and Party Still Waited For Answer Last Night.

Rome, June 21.—The papal secretary of state, Cardinal Rampolla, yesterday assured the Rt. Rev. Thomas O'Gorman, bishop of Sioux Falls, S D., that the vatican accepts the propositions of Judge Taft, governor of the Philippine islands, regarding the disposition of the friars' lands, on all the main points, but dissents on minor points.

The official documents were being prepared at the vatican and were to be delivered to Judge Taft yesterday.

Mrs. Taft, the wife of the governor of the Philippines, and her children, together with Captain Strother, arrived in Rome yesterday. They were met at the station by Governor Taft. The pope will receive Mrs. Taft and her eldest daughter in audience.

The American party waited patiently at the Hotel Quirinal for the vatican's reply last night, but as this dispatch was forwarded it was still not received. There is little doubt that the answer will be a substantial acceptance of the main points of Judge Taft's proposals, which include the payment of about $5,000,000 for the friars' agricultural lands and another smaller sum for the rental of the friars' lands used by the army and the deportation of the friars to Spain. The actual sums will be fixed by arbitration.

Judge Taft has prepared a tentative form of agreement to use if agreeable to the vatican.

If the answer came last night Judge Taft will today apply to Monsignor Gasparri (secretary of the congregation of extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs) for information on this subject.

Dean Hoffman's Funeral.

New York, June 21.—In the presence of a distinguished clerical and lay gathering that filled Trinity chapel to the doors, the Episcopal service for the dead was read yesterday afternoon over the body of the late Eugene Augustus Hoffman, dean of the General Theological seminary. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, rector of Trinity church, assisted by the Rev. W. H. Vibbert, vicar of Trinity chapel; Bishops White, of Michigan City, Seymour, of Springfield; Burgess, of Long Island, and Worthington, of Nebraska, and Archdeacon T. C. Tiffany, of New York.

WOULD CLOSE MANY PLANTS.

Miners' Secretary So Figures, If There Is General Strike—Three Months' Supply of Coal.

Indianapolis, June 21.—It is estimated by W. B. Wilson, secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, that the present supply of bituminous and anthracite coal above ground would be exhausted in less than three months, if there should be a general suspension of work in the mines.

According to this estimate, if the national convention of mine workers in Indianapolis, July 17, should vote for a general suspension of work, in support of the anthracite strike, as is now proposed, the vast industrial machinery of the United States would be handicapped for fuel so that thousands of factories would have to suspend work.

MINE GUARDS FINED.

Charged With Carelessly Using Firearms.

Nanticoke, Pa., June 21.—Eleven guards in the employ of the Susquehanna Coal company were arrested and arraigned before Burgess Williams yesterday, charged with the careless use of firearms.

The 11 men, who are of the party brought from Pittsburg, were found guilty and fined $3 each. Pending the payment of the fines they were locked up.

Leaders and Miners Arrested.

Clarksburg, W. Va., June 21.—United States Marshal Elliott and deputies arrested Thomas Haggerty, Mother Jones and a dozen others for violating Judge Jackson's injunction at a mass meeting yesterday afternoon.

Missouri Prohibitionists.

Clinton, Mo., June 21.—Missouri Prohibitionists yesterday named nominees for minor state offices. Among other things the platform declares for the election of United States senators by direct vote; it condemns anarchy, the non-enforcement of liquor laws and trusts, especially "the eldest and mightiest trust, the liquor trust."

Prominent Religious Worker Very Ill.

Chicago, June 21.—Benjamin F. Jacobs, a well-known real estate man of Chicago, specially prominent for his activity in church and charitable work throughout the country, is very ill at his home from a complication of Bright's disease and heart failure. Little hope is expressed for his recovery.

WILL STARVE REDS.

If They Can't Be Induced to Leave Paterson--Will be Blacklisted.

Fifty Wealthy Business Men Form Organization—$250,000 Said to Be Pledged—Private Detectives Engaged—Armed Men In Control.

Paterson, N. J., June 21.—Mayor Hinchcliffe seemed last night to be in complete control of the situation here, backed as he is by the entire peace controlling force of the city and county and a goodly portion of the state militia. The soldiers' presence has had a deterent effect upon the reds and they were not in evidence in the city.

The troops were to remain on duty all night and be relieved by the deputies this morning. No troops will do duty in the day time, unless there should be serious trouble.

An organization has been completed, composed of 50 wealthy business men of this city, to be known to the public as the Paterson vigilance committee, but the membership and proceedings are not to be made public. Private detectives have already been engaged to shadow the leading reds. The anarchists are to be induced to leave Paterson quietly if possible. If they do not go, the committee is said to have its own plan for action. One of the methods to be employed is said to be the keeping of a blacklist, and no matter where in Paterson a man on it obtains work his employer will be notified to dismiss him.

If this plan be carried out it will starve out of the city all anarchists who may come here. It is said the committee has $250,000 pledged by the men composing it to carry out its purpose.

School Directors Indicted.

Philadelphia, June 21.—Twenty-four bills of indictment were returned by the grand jury yesterday charging Thomas P. G. Seixas, B. Frank Frown, Joseph Travis, Albert W. Weider, William H. Sievel, directors of one of the public schools, and David Johnson, with conspiracy to extort money and commit bribery in connection with the appointment of school teachers. Johnson is said to have acted as an intermediary between persons seeking positions as school teachers and the directors.

Olney Not a Candidate.

Memphis, June 21.—In response to an invitation from prominent Memphis Democrats, members of a club formed to promote the candidacy of Hon. Richard Olney, of Massachusetts, for the presidency, urging him to deliver an address here, Mr. Olney sent a letter, dated Boston, June 16 saying he was not a candidate, and he could not attend, as it would not be proper, under the circumstances.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Wasn't His Hat, Anyway.

Mr. Weddle, visiting his wife's relatives up in Maine, fairly had to go to church that Sunday. He didn't want to go, but his wife thought it would do him good and would be apt to preserve the harmony of the family.

The sermon was long and powder dry, and Weddle stole off into the arms of Morpheus gently and serenely. As he did not snore, his wife did not suspect that he had gone to sleep alongside of her and gave herself up fully to inspecting the bonnet of the woman in the pew in front.

Like all things, good and bad, the sermon came to an end at last, but Weddle slumbered on like a baby even after a deacon began taking up the collection in a hat. When the derby was passed to Weddle, Mrs. Weddle was surprised to see that he did not respond. She nudged him violently to bring him back to his senses, and Weddle, awakening with a start, sat upright and, bewildered, gazed at the hat in the hand of the deacon. Then he shook his head sleepily and said:

"No; that isn't mine. Mine is a gray one."—New York Tribune.

Had Nerve.

"Well, ain't that a lovely customer? I just dote on waiting on that kind. Did you see her, though?" The shop-girl was bubbling over with rage. A woman and her daughter had looked at not fewer than twenty-five silk waists. At last they took up one, and the woman brought forth a tape measure, "I think we might get it out of three and a half yards or three and two-thirds anyhow. Just wait—twenty-three inches down the front, three-quarters for the sleeves, allow a quarter for collar and cuffs. Yes, that'll do it." As she talked she ran the tape over the waist, the clerk standing by almost bursting with indignation. "Three yards of lace, one and a quarter of insertion," she went on, measuring the trimming. "Put that down, Amy. Now let's go. We can get up a waist exactly like that for $7.50, and they ask $14.98. They've got their nerve, haven't they?"—New York Press.

An Absurd Custom In Vienna.

In Vienna every man's home is his dungeon from 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. Vienna is a city of flats, and at 10 p. m. the common entrance door of each block is closed and bolted. Thereafter persons passing in or out must pay a fine of twopence to the concierge until midnight and fourpence from that hour to 6 a. m. To go out to post a letter costs twopence and the same amount to return. To prolong a visit to a friend after 10 p. m. means twopence to get out of his house and twopence more to enter your own. A natural result of this irritating tax is that of all capital cities Vienna is earliest to bed.

Travelers to California

Naturally desire to see the grandest and most impressive scenery en route. This you will do by selecting the Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western, "The Scenic Line of the World," and "The Great Salt Lake Route," in one or both directions, as this line has two separate routes across the Rocky mountains between Denver and Ogden. Tickets reading via this route are available either via its main line through the Royal George, Leadville, over Tennessee Pass, through the Canon of the Grand river and Glenwood Springs, or via the line over Marshall Pass and through the Black Canon of the Gunnison, thus enabling the traveler to use one of the above routes going and the other returning. Three splendidly equipped fast trains are operated to and from the Pacific coast, which carry through standard sleepers daily between Chicago, St. Louis, Denver and San Francisco. Dining cars (service a la carte) on all through trains. If you contemplate such a trip, let us send you beautifully illustrated pamphlets, free. S. K. Hooper, G. P. & T. A., Denver, Col. 7-tf-3-tf

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

"Mugsy" McGraw's Many Troubles

"EVERY baseball pitcher has a style of delivery which is peculiar to himself," says Christy Mathewson, "but experience has forced all pitchers to use nearly the same methods in attempting to fool the batsmen. The windmill motions of a cyclonic pitcher may be puzzling for awhile, but he will soon come to grief if he has no other idea than merely to 'shoot' the ball across the plate.

"'Speed and control' are immensely advantageous to a pitcher, but he must study the weaknesses of every batsman and endeavor to apply that knowledge.

"Most hitters can meet a low, fast ball better than a high one; consequently keep 'em high. Try to make a batsman hit the ball on the end or handle of his bat by pitching close to the edges of the plate. Throw a curve ball low. A slow ball should be thrown with the same motion as a fast ball and when the batsman is overanxious or least expecting it.

"These are good general rules, but, like the rules for whist, they are very vexatious at times.

As to Catching.

"A catcher who is able to 'hold' the pitcher and who bats and throws well would seem to have all the necessary requirements. As a matter of fact such attributes are rudimentary.

"Baseball, as it is played today, requires considerable cerebral activity, and it is in this department of the game that a catcher must show his worth. He usually signals to the pitcher what balls to pitch. Hence a catcher can break up the 'hit-and-run game' if he can detect when it is about to be played. He gives the pitcher the 'pitch out' sign, the ball is thrown two feet away from the plate, where it cannot possibly be hit, and the base runner is thrown out.

"In a certain sense a catcher is a mind reader. He notes how a player stands at the plate and how he holds his bat. He makes his deductions and then signals for the unexpected. He watches his pitcher to see that he keeps cool at critical stages. If there is any sign of nervousness, he signals very calmly and slowly so that there will be no case of rattles.

"A catcher, in fact, holds the key to the whole situation. Without a catcher with good judgment the team might just as well be in the 'Desert league.' The catcher signals not alone the pitcher, but the fielders. A spectator will many a time see a fielder shift his position. Well, that is from a catcher's sign. The latter will signal for an out curve or a straight ball, and it is the fielder's place to 'lay' for the ball.

"The catcher is, in fact, the head of the game. He knows more about what is going on than any one else. The pitcher delivers the kind of a ball the catcher asks for, and it is a poor twirler who will not depend on the receiving end of the battery.

"A heady man behind the wind pad means much to a team.

Playing the Infield.

"Including the pitcher, the infield consists of five men, and if they play well together they are a big factor in winning games. This team work, as it is called, is acquired when the players know the capabilities of one another and have confidence in their ability. For instance, if the first base man knows that the pitcher will cover first base on all balls hit toward right field, he has no hesitation about going after [illegible] extreme right.

"Oftentimes he can stop hard hit balls that could not be handled by the second base man, but if the pitcher was not covering first base it would look as though the first base man was trying to cover too much ground and had made a stupid play. A few such plays would make the first base man too cautious to get the best results out of balls hit toward him.

"Another illustration will suffice to show the value of the playing together that makes a successful infield. With a man on second base, the batsman bunts toward third base, and the base runner starts to steal, both at the same moment. The third base man sees the runner coming and covers the bag. The pitcher should field the ball, but if he hesitates it is too late to catch either man, and the third base man gets the blame for the 'bull.'

To Prevent Blunders.

"A complete understanding among the infielders prevents such blunders, and, while such plays look easy in theory, they are among the most difficult feats performed on the diamond.

"The correct position to assume in handling ground hits often worries young players. Some always try to keep their feet together, thinking that the ball cannot get past them when in that position. Better action can be secured with the feet apart, for if the ball is not picked up cleanly there is usually no chance to get the runner, and with the feet together it is difficult to keep one's balance."

"Mugsy" McGraw's Troubles.

The ever turbulent "Mugsy" McGraw, captain-manager and general Pooh Bah of the Baltimore Americans, has been having more than his share of trouble this year, and he is staying awake nights in an endeavor to conjure a scheme to haul the Orioles to the top of the first division. McGraw's team thus far has been a disappointment to himself and his followers, and the fault can truthfully be said to lie with himself. "Rough house" tactics are unpopular everywhere, and the sight of a captain and manager being ruled out of games because of an ambition to become the "king scrapper" of the national game does not tend to instill confidence and ambition in the rank and file of a team. Then, again, the encouragement of contract breaking is not a particularly admirable practice, and McGraw should not expect much sympathy because of the loss of the great leapfrog player, Jimmy Sheckard.

But "Mugsy" is a good ball player—do not mistake that. He knows the grand old game as do few others, and he plays to win at all times. When the season ages a bit and the first flush of enthusiasm has passed, McGraw will probably calm down and become a good boy. And that is what all baseball devotees want to see, the genuine article of baseball, clean and fast. One would naturally suppose that "Mugsy" would have learned by this time the futility of trying to intimidate umpires. It is an old dodge and never did any one good. The holder of the disks will "square the deal" sooner or later, and the sooner the ball tossing fraternity recognizes this the better.

The Giants' New Captain.

George Smith, the new captain of the New York club, has had baseball experience that should be of value to him in helping to pull the team out of the rut it is in at present. Smith captained the Rochester club of the Eastern league last season, and his team won the pennant. It was known as the Bucking Bronchos and was the most strenuous and aggressive team in the league. Smith will not make the mistake of being too gentle with his men on the field. His experience with the Bronchos taught him better than that.

Smith is intelligent; therefore he will hardly run away with the idea that he is the brightest captain the New Yorks have ever had. He is young, but has doubtless heard of Johnny Ward and Buck Ewing and will rather strive to emulate those great baseball generals than to underrate them.

The Wife.

"Suppose I were an absolutely perfect woman," she remarked sharply. "Do you know what you'd do then?"

"No," answered her husband. "What?"

THE SMALL TALK OF THE PLAYHOUSES.

Matters of Interest to Admirers of Stage Folk—A Successful New Star—The Season Just Ended.

The theatrical season in this city may be said to have ended, although there are naturally a few attractions which will hold on until the continued hot weather literally forces them to close their doors. A notable feature of the present summer is the small number of roof garden ventures. Time was not so many years ago when every theater either had a roof garden or was trying to arrange for one. These ventures seldom paid, and now only those theaters which by the nature of things cannot afford to close up altogether go in for these heterogeneous summer entertainments.

More misstatements have probably been made about this season than about any other of the last decade. It has been widely reported that it has been a veritable wonder in the matter of heavy receipts, whereas the truth is that, while attractions of the highest class and those of the greatest magnitude have undoubtedly done well, many of the offerings which ordinarily would have made a great deal of money have turned out poorly. In a great measure this is as it should be but for the fact that along with the unworthy many worthy enterprises have suffered.

Sneer as you will, laugh at the incompleteness of their productions, declare that they are as at present conducted a hindrance rather than an aid to the American drama, ridicule the hoary chestnuts which are too often presented, there can be no gainsaying the fact that the stock system has grown wonderfully in this country during the last few years.

The most violent attacks of stock fever occur in summer. This is natural, for the reason that during the heated term managers are able to secure for a reasonable consideration the services of persons the mere mention of whose salaries for the winter season would suffice to throw them into convulsions.

It is also a fact that most of the worthy local organizations succeed. Where there is failure it is nearly always due either to poor judgment in the selection of a field of operations or to worse business management or shiftless productions after the city has been chosen. I have in mind one case where a firm of New York managers engaged a rather high priced company for a certain city that would have to make a terrific effort to support a 10-20-30 repertory show for one week. Their intention was to play this city during the entire summer. A definite date for opening was set, and everything was going swimmingly along toward bankruptcy when the managers were saved in spite of themselves.

"Advances on salary" are as much a part of a theatrical engagement as the signing of contracts. In fact, they are usually of much greater consequence, for they represent something tangible, which the contracts do not. When, therefore, some of the important members of the organization in question airily asked for "a little something on account" and learned that the management was not in a position to grant their requests, they immediately "smelled a mice" and very naturally quit in a body.

During the past theatrical season Adelaide Thurston accomplished the unusual in dramatics. Without the supposed advantage of a "New York indorsement" Miss Thurston enjoyed a most prosperous season, thus disposing of a hoary theatrical adage. When theatrical managers come to a realization of the fact that the much abused and so called "provincials" do not care a snap of their fingers what New York thinks of a play or a player, they will save themselves much worry, trouble and cash. What New Yorkers run wild over rarely pleases the denizens of the smaller towns, for the reason that the surfeited citizens of the metropolis require highly seasoned and fleshy entertainment. This sort of thing serves but to disgust the quiet and reposeful inhabitants of the smaller cities. Miss Thurston's success then establishes a precedent which other managers than her own should follow. If they have good plays and clever players, the "provinces" will find them out and reward them accordingly.

Miss Thurston's play for next season is "At Cozy Corners," a comedy drama by the authors of "Sweet Clover." Miss Thurston tried "At Cozy Corners" in the spring and found it admirably suited to her abilities.

Word Blindness.

Some curious instances of the physical defects of "word blindness" are given in the Lancet. The disease is fortunately uncommon. In one case the sufferer, an Englisman, thirty-four years of age, who knew Greek, Latin and French well, suddenly lost all knowledge of English, though he could read and understand Greek perfectly and Latin and French in a rather smaller degree. Another and almost more curious case was that of a man who lost the power of reading at sight. This patient was able to write accurately from dictation, but was completely unable to read what he had written. Word blindness is apparently akin to color blindness, but is certainly attended by much more inconvenient consequences.

Odd Plants.

"What an inquiring mind Miss Lightly has!" exclaimed the cynic. "We were at an Italian table d'hote last evening, and she said, with a very kittenish air: 'Oh, did you ever see macaroni growing? I should think a whole field of those lovely white stalks would be too awfully pretty.'"

"What did you say, old man?" said his partner.

"Oh, I just said no, that I had never come nearer to it than seeing a bread tree in flower."

Then the partner stepped to the telephone, and they carried the cynic home in the ambulance.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Bit of John Bright's Sarcasm.

A noble lord once said on the occasion of Mr. Bright's illness that Providence was punishing him for misuse of talents by inflicting a disease of the brain. The following was Mr. Bright's sarcastic rejoinder when he resumed his seat: "It may be so, but in any case it will be some consolation to the friends and family of the noble lord to know that the disease is one which even Providence could not inflict upon him."

Missed the Lob. Barrel.

Considerable amusement was caused when the legislature first went into session by a member from the counties arriving and promptly asking to be shown the lobby.

When that place was pointed out to him, he nosed around for awhile and then remarked in the hearing of some bystanders:

"I've been fooled!" he declared disgustedly. "They tole me I could find a bar'l of money loose in the lobby, but I see now that it's a dinged lie!"—Baltimore Herald.

"FORCE" FOOD CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

Gentlemen,—It gives me great pleasure to testify to all the good qualities of "FORCE."

It is economic, as it makes a satisfying substitute for expensive meat.

It is healthful—for the weakest invalid can enjoy it.

It is attractive, being a most delicious food, appreciated by those who usually do not like cereals.

Yours very truly, Dr. ——

THE CORONATION SHOW

How King Edward Will Be Invested With the Symbols of Sovereignty

AS the time approaches for the coronation of King Edward VII. of England interest in the ceremonies which will attend that great event increases. The coronation possesses in great degree the quality of novelty, since few persons now living remember the time when an English monarch was crowned before.

King Edward has spent much time in acquainting himself with his part in the ceremony. He found upon examination that the rites and forms provided were likely to prove too great a task upon his strength and patience, and so by his order the ceremony has been much condensed.

But notwithstanding the revision which has been made by the king's direction the coronation probably will be the most elaborate ceremonial which has taken place anywhere in the world within the memory of the present generation. So Thursday, June 26, will be a day long to be remembered by King Edward's loyal subjects as well as the multitudes of strangers from all quarters of the earth.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY, WEST FRONT.

The proceedings at Westminster abbey are likely to prove very trying to his majesty, especially if the day be warm. Here is what the king will wear when he takes the coronation chair: The imperial or dalmatic robe. This is a three cornered mantle, fashioned like a cope. One side is about three and a half yards in length, to cover the shoulders and hang down in front. The other sides slope into a train reaching about a foot upon the ground. It is made of rich cloth of gold. The outside is shot with gold and embroidered with gold and silver flowers edged with purple. The lining is of crimson taffeta, and the fastening is a broad gold clasp.

Then there is the supertunica, a surcoat, with plain sleeves, of cloth of gold tissue, ornamented with golden flowers, brocaded and frosted.

DR. TEMPLE, THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.
[Who officiates at the coronation.]

The armilla, or stole, is placed about the king by the archbishop. This vestment is made of the same material as the supertunica.

The colobium sindonis, or surplice, is the last garment to be put upon the king after he is anointed. It is made of very fine white cambric.

The form of the procession to the choir of the abbey will almost exactly follow the form at the coronation of Queen Victoria. In the procession every nobleman's coronet is borne after him by a page and every royal lady's coronet by an earl's eldest son.

The interesting—one might almost say dramatic—features of the service begin very soon after the king and queen have taken their seats in the chairs just before their thrones. The archbishop of Canterbury, accompanied by other high dignitaries, proceeds to the east side of the "theater" and in a loud voice cries:

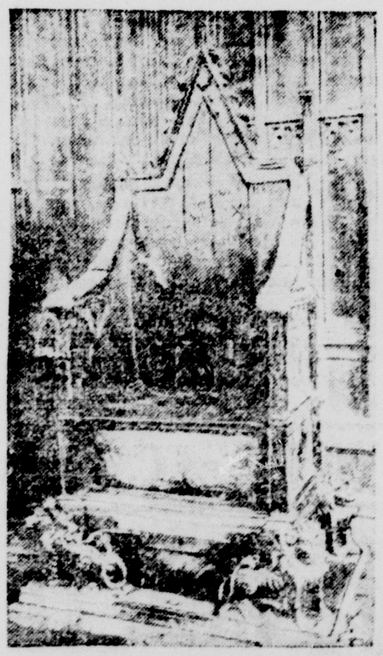

"Sirs, I here present unto you King Edward, the undoubted king of this realm. Wherefore all you who are come this day to do your homage, are you willing to do the same?"

Then the ancient abbey will resound with the shouts of all those present. The archbishop advances in turn to the other three sides of the theater and repeats his question, the people replying to each demand, "God save King Edward!" At the last recognition trumpets sound and drums beat.

After certain other formalities the king and queen kneel at the altar, and the litany is said. The coronation oath then follows. The next portion of the service, the anointing of the monarch, is about the most ancient feature of the coronation.

Then comes the investiture of the king with the various symbols of his sovereignty—the spurs, sword, armilla, mantle, orb, scepter with the cross, scepter with the dove and the ring.

After this the king sits in the famous old coronation chair and, amid the shouts of the people, the blowing of silver trumpets and the firing of guns from the Tower of London, the archbishop puts the crown upon his majesty's head. After the crowning the peers put on their coronets and the bishops their caps.

THE ANCIENT CORONATION CHAIR.

Then come the presenting of the Bible, the benediction and "Te Deum," the inthronization and the homage. During this ceremony the special coronation anthem, composed by Sir Frederick Bridge, organist of Westminster abbey, will be sung.

The ceremony of crowning the queen is very short. When that is ended, the holy communion is administered to their majesties, and after a procession into the Henry VII. chapel, when some of the regalia is laid aside, the ceremonies are at an end.

In the matter of decorations and illuminations London intends to surpass all previous records. The idea is to make the decorations in the city of an old style character, so that the streets of that part of London in which the procession takes place will present an appearance similar to that which they bore in the days of Queen Bess. All over the kingdom on coronation night bonfires and illuminations will blaze.

Toad Stones.

Most readers have no doubt heard of the precious jewels which the toad carries in his brain box, and so called toadstones, which were in reality the teeth of fossil fish, were formerly worn in finger rings as a protection against poison.

It was thought that the best stones were those voluntarily ejected by the living toads; but, as the latter were not addicted to freely giving up their treasures in that way, it was necessary to procure the coveted articles by other means, and the recognized method was to decapitate the hapless batrachian at the instant he swallows his breath. The feat naturally demanded considerable celerity, such as could only be acquired by constant practice, and it is not reasonable, therefore, to assume that, although the endeavors to gain possession of the jewels were perhaps numerous, they must have invariably been unsatisfactory, especially to the toads.

A HELPING HAND

Is Gladly Extended by an East Liverpool Citizen.

There are many enthusiastic citizens in East Liverpool prepared to tell their experience for the public good. Testimony from such a source is the best of evidence and will prove "a helping hand" to scores of readers. Read the following statement:

Mr. G. H. Garner, the well known manufacturer of ice cream at 168 Jackson street, says: "My trouble set in with a soreness and stiffness over my whole body; my appetite was poor, and I was annoyed a good deal with bloating at the stomach. There was a urinary difficulty, and I felt generally used up. I tried two or three different remedies, but they did not do me the least good. Having heard Doan's Kidney Pills so highly spoken of, I purchased a box at the W. & W. pharmacy. I did not take over half of it before I was entirely free from any trouble, my appetite was good, and my old time vigor restored. I recommended them to many of my friends, among them P. J. Green, V. S., and they all speak of them in the highest terms."

Caution!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase for 75c the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the treatment and cure of consumption and throat and lung troubles without losing its great popularity through all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds, perhaps, but for severe coughs, bronchitis, croup—and especially for consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the night and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. Sold by all druggists in the civilized world.

EDWARD VII'S HOME

BUCKINGHAM PALACE, THE ROYAL RESIDENCE IN LONDON.

Ancient Home of the Georges Again the Scene of the Gorgeous Functions of the Court of St. James. Additions and Improvements.

Buckingham palace, from which the gorgeous coronation pageant will start for Westminster abbey and to which it will return after Edward VII. has been crowned, is to be the future home of England's king. Marlborough House, so long his residence, will probably go to the Prince of Wales.

During Queen Victoria's reign, especially after the death of the prince consort, the silence and somberness of Buckingham were rarely broken by visits of her late majesty, but with the coming of Edward VII. and his queen the stately palace has been reawakened and transformed.

For some months a large force of workmen has been at work preparing for the reception of the new monarch. One huge wing has been entirely remodeled, its old fashioned rooms giving place to more modern and useful apartments. Decorative artists have been busily at work in beautifying the king's private apartments. Among other improvements in the new wing are several elevators, and the building throughout is now lighted with electricity.

Buckingham palace stands on the site of the mansion built in 1705 on crown land for John Sheffield, duke of Buckinghamshire. George III. purchased the property from the natural son of the duke, Sir Charles Sheffield, in 1762, and settled it upon Queen Charlotte. In those days it was known as the Queen's House. In 1825 George VI. commissioned his favorite architect, Nash, to practically rebuild the Queen's House and make of it an abode more in keeping with his somewhat florid taste. When Queen Victoria came to the throne, Blore, the architect, vastly improved the structure.

Buckingham palace, as it exists today, is but little known to King Edward's subjects outside that small circle which includes the court, the diplomats, the favored guests of state ball, concert or garden party, and the debutantes who crowd there for presentation. To them the beautiful gardens that stretch to Hyde Park corner, between Grosvenor place and Constitution hill, are familiar, as well as the carving and gilding, the mirrors and the marbles.

The throneroom, where presentations take place, saw but little change during the long rule of Victoria the Good. The crimson of the walls, the heavy gilding of the ceiling, the great crystal chandeliers, are almost as they were in the forties, though electric light has superseded candles, and during her later years the queen occupied a chair of state instead of the more imposing throne before which it was placed.

The throneroom, which is only some sixty feet long, has a fine frieze by Stothard illustrating the wars of the roses. A room more worthy of admiration than the throneroom is the really beautiful drawing room, whose pillars of imitation onyx with their richly gilt capitals have a fine effect against the hangings and upholstery of blue brocade. Here are life size portraits of the queen and the prince consort painted soon after their marriage, and here above the doorway is a fine painting of three royal princesses in powder by Gainsborough.

The room familiar to the guests at state balls and concerts is large, handsome and heavy looking. A large organ occupies one end, in front of which a temporary orchestra finds a place on the occasion of a state concert. By daylight it is a somewhat gloomy apartment, but when the great gilt standards with their swarms of electric lights flash on uniforms, orders and dazzling jewels the scene is brilliant enough.

The picture gallery with its fine collection, principally of Dutch art, is well worthy of attention. Rembrandt, Vandyke, Hobbema, Rubens, Ruysdael, Teniers, Cuyp, Ostade, Terburgh, Gerard Douw, Paul Potter, all are represented in the collection.

Buckingham palace will in the future be the London abode of England's king, and the halls and salons so long silent will again be the scene of the brilliant functions of a royal court.

"LUCKY"

Is often the name given by careless and thoughtless people to those who are careful and thoughtful. "What a lucky woman," is said of one whose health and beauty proclaim her free from womanly diseases. The luck often consists in her having thoughtfully considered the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and proved its ability to cure the diseases peculiar to her sex.

"Favorite Prescription" is a reliable medicine for the cure of womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I had poor health for nine years," writes Mrs. Armintie Watkins, of Acme, Kanawha Co., W. Va. "Had female weakness, was very irregular and would suffer untold misery. Our family doctor did not do me any good and I concluded to write to you. When I wrote, I had no idea that I would ever get well, but when your letter reached me I began to have hope. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines as directed and began to improve in strength. I was soon able to do the work for my family of six. I took eight bottles, three of 'Favorite Prescription' and five of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of 'Pellets.'"

LIKELY NO TREATY.

Produced In Cuba, Not Probable, Either—High Official Expressed These Sentiments—Senate Caucus Took No Action Yesterday.

Washington, June 21.—The Republican senators held another conference yesterday on the question of Cuban reciprocity, and after three hours' discussion adjourned, subject to the call of Chairman Allison, without action. Almost all the Republican senators who are in the city were present. There were eight or nine speeches made in support of reciprocity, and only two in opposition to that policy. This was in accord with a previous understanding that as the beet sugar senators had monopolized the attention of the conference on Wednesday night their opponents yesterday should have the greater share of the time.

The speeches in support of the reciprocity bill were made by Senators Foraker, Beveridge, Lodge, Hale, Warren, Aldrich, McComas and Hanna, Senator Platt, of Connecticut, adding a few words to what he had said at Wednesday evening's meeting. The two speeches in opposition to the proposed legislation were made by Senators Burton and Burrows. The speeches for reciprocity were all along the same general line and without exception were pleas for legislation and for party harmony.

No Treaty Likely This Session.

The war department has been engaged for some time in the collection of the data requisite for the preparation of a reciprocity treaty with Cuba, should the president conclude to send such a treaty to the senate in the event of the failure of congress to grant relief by legislative enactment to the people of the island. It is not believed, however, to be probable that a treaty will be submitted during the present session of congress, mainly because of the physical impossibility of preparing a satisfactory and complete measure within the short time before adjournment is taken for the summer. A high official of the administration expressed these sentiments when spoken to on the subject last night, and in addition negatived the likelihood of a special treaty affecting only sugar produced in Cuba.

MAY AGREE ON CANAL BILL.

Report Gained Circulation—Hepburn Wouldn't Concede It.

Washington, June 21.—Soon after the house had sent the canal bill to conference yesterday reports gained circulation among members that there was not likely to be a protracted struggle in conference, and that the senate amendment probably would be the basis of the ultimate agreement. One of the house conferees, Mr. Fletcher, of Minnesota, frankly stated to his associates that he thought an agreement would be reached on the Panama amendment.

Chairman Hepburn was not prepared, however, to concede that the fight was over. He cited the fact that the vote in the house had been practically unanimous in favor of the Nicaragua bill, only two adverse votes being cast. The Democratic conferee, Judge Davey, of Louisiana, also was counted on as strongly favorable to the Nicaragua route. At the same time the lateness of the session and the prevailing desire to avoid further complications in the senate led to a rather general feeling among the members of the house that the senate amendment had something of an advantage in the conference.

Crozier Chief of Ordnance.

Washington, June 21.—Among the confirmations by the senate yesterday was this one: Captain William Crozier, ordnance department, to be chief of ordnance, with rank of brigadier general. The vote on the motion to confirm General Crozier was 44 to 12. The discussion of the nomination was again led by Senator Proctor in opposition to confirmation. Senators Warren, Pettus and Foraker made brief replies.

No Important Business In House.

Washington, June 21.—No business of importance was transacted by the senate yesterday in open session, except to agree to a conference report finally disposing of the military academy appropriation bill. Soon after the disposition of routine business the senate went into executive session, and at 3:10 p. m. adjourned until Monday.

BOUNTIFUL CROPS EXPECTED.

Encouraging Trade Reports From Interior and West—Labor Troubles Hurt Eastern Business.

New York, June 21.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part:

Trade at the east is quiet, owing to the advancing season, and the bad effect of prolonged labor controversies is being felt in certain lines. Reports from the interior and the far west are more encouraging, bountiful harvests being expected, while the liberal stocks carried over from the previous season assure profitable prices. The best indication of continued prosperity is the fact that quotations do not recede even in the lines where at present there is only a moderate degree of activity. Railway earnings thus far reported for June increased 3.9 per cent over 1900.

Uncertainty regarding their ability to secure pig iron at reasonable prices is making producers of steel cautious in accepting contracts that call for delivery at even remote dates. Raw material is undoubtedly in light supply, and the anthracite coal strike has suspended work at a number of furnaces. Coke productions is attaining new records each week in the endeavor to supply all requirements, and better railway facilities are making unprecedented shipments from the Connellsville region. Soft coal is beginning to show the effect of an abnormal demand. In certain lines of finished steel products the addition of new plants to the productive capacity has had a preceptible influence on prices, introducing more competition. This factor is felt in only a few divisions, however, and in all heavy lines, notably rails and structural material, orders run far into next year, and there is no question of concessions in quotations. Jobbers having a surplus of bar iron sold moderate quantities at a lower figure than the market rate, but steel bars are firmer.

Quiet conditions prevail in eastern drygoods and footwear markets. A stronger silver market has revived purchases for export to China, although, like the home trade, this is still on a moderate scale. Supplemental buying of woolens is also limited. It is noteworthy that prices in all textile lines are firmly held, despite the slow movement, indicating confidence on the part of sellers.

Lack of rain in the southwest is the only seriously unfavorable crop indication of the week, while exceptionally encouraging reports are received from most points. Domestic grain makes good progress, but bad news has been received from abroad, and the outlook is favorable for large exports.

Failures for the week numbered 191 in the United States, against 193 last year, and 19 in Canada, against 14 a year ago.

MARKET RATHER APATHETIC.

Speculative Liquidation No Longer In Evidence, Friday.

New York, June 21.—The speculative liquidation which broke prices Thursday was no longer in evidence Friday, but the market slipped back into a rather apathetic condition, the dealings dropping well below half a million shares again. Of this total a large proportion was concentrated in a few leading stocks, notably United States Steel, Missouri Pacific, St. Paul and the Wabashes. The evidence of support for United States Steel was an effective influence in steadying the market, as Thursday's sharp break in that stock had unsettled sentiment in the whole market. There was evidence of rebuying of stocks by the large interests which liquidated Wednesday and the day before. This served to relieve a latent feeling that the recent bull campaign had been a preliminary to a prolonged bear campaign. Yesterday's strength was restricted to a few points and was not very well maintained, the closing being dull and heavy. The southwesterns and St. Paul absorbed a large share of the strength. There were also movements in other stocks.

Reports by the banks of a gain on the interior currency movement up to Thursday night of over $3,000,000 gave rise to the hope of a favorable bank statement today, as the offsetting absorption by the sub-treasury for the same period was only $397,000.

There was an active demand for some of the southwestern railroad bonds. The market generally was irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,935,000.

MANY LIVES PROBABLY LOST.

Great Forest Fires In Washington. Town Threatened.

Tacoma, Wash., June 21.—The fire department of this city has sent men, engines and hose on a special train to Buckley, in this county, which is threatened with complete destruction by forest fires raging between that town and Enumclaw, King county. A great cloud of smoke hangs over Tacoma, 33 miles from Buckley. The mountain mill, two miles east of Buckley, was burned yesterday. Undoubtedly many lives of mountain campers and loggers have been lost.

PLANCHES STILL COMPLAINED.

He Wanted Both Sides of Venice Arrests Affair Made Public.

Washington, June 21.—Signor Mayor des Planches, the Italian ambassador, was again at the state and navy departments yesterday to consult the officials in regard to the publication of the findings of the court of inquiry which investigated the affair in which officers from the cruiser Chicago were involved at Venice. None of the principles in the conferences cared to make any statement as to the nature of them. Secretary Moody expressed his earnest regret to the ambassador that the findings had been made public and assured him that the officials at Washington were in no way responsible for and did not approve of it. The ambassador inclines to the view that both governments should make public the records of proceedings in the case. Secretary Moody, however, already had expressed his desire not to make the American court's record public and here the matter hangs in the balance. The ambassador will call at the state department today to confer with Secretary Hay, who was absent when he called yesterday. Until then Signor Mayor did not care to make any formal statement as to what course he intends to pursue.

Respecting the propriety of the publication of the report of the court of inquiry by Admiral Crowninshield if indeed he did give it publicity, it is said at the navy department that unless specially enjoined as to the disposition of such a report, the commander-in-chief of a naval station always has been allowed to exercise his own discretion in such matters. So that as far as Admiral Crowninshield is concerned much depends on whether he was specially instructed to keep this report from publicity. The navy department itself has no hard and fast rule on the subject.

IGNORED SENATE'S ACTION.

House Firm on Army Bill—Philippine Measure Discussed.

Washington, June 21.—Debate on the Philippine civil government bill continued yesterday in the house from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., and at a session held last night. The speakers were given close attention, each side enthusiastically applauding its respective orators. Mr. Jones, of Virginia the ranking minority member of the insular affairs committee, concluded his speech begun Thursday. The other speakers were Messrs. Hamilton, of Michigan, and Kahn, of California, for the bill, and Mr. Patterson, of Tennessee, against it. Mr Kahn's speech was largely an interesting personal narrative of his experiences in the Philippines last summer. The isthmian canal bill was sent to conference after the senate amendment had been nonconcurred in. The house reiterated the position it had taken on the army appropriation bill by ignoring the action of the senate and sending the bill back to the senate after voting to adhere to its disagreement to the objectionable army post amendments.

Uniontown Branch Sold.

Uniontown, Pa., June 21.—H. D. Bulkley, controller of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, came here yesterday and purchased the Fayette County railroad from its owners. The road is the 12-mile branch between Uniontown and Connellsville. Mr Bulkley paid $150 a share for the 2,160 shares of stock, the par value of which is $50 a share. The company first offered $200 a share for a controlling interest, but the stockholders decided to stand together and sell all or none.

Chronic Diarrhoea.

This disease is generally regarded as incurable, mainly for the reason that the remedies usually employed are ineffectual. That it can be cured, however, has been fully proven in many cases. The following tells of one of them: Mr. T. W. Greathouse, of Prattsburgh, Ga., says: "I had been suffering from chronic diarrhoea for seven years. Last year I began taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and it has entirely cured me. I had spent lots of money for doctors' medicine in the run of of the seven years. If it had not been for this remedy I would have been dead now, and I feel that I can never say too much in its favor or recommend it too highly." Sold by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the imedicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

MOTHERHOOD is the noblest duty and highest privilege women can achieve or aspire to. Without this privilege women do not get all there is in life—too often they go through the world discontented, wrapped up in their own selfish cares and troubles. How different is the happy mother, watching her children grow into manhood and womanhood. A mother lives as many lives as she has children—their joys and sorrows are hers, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

Wine of Cardui, in re-inforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

WINE of CARDUI A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.
